collection stands out in its literary style combining eloquent prose with vibrant character sketches that invoke a sense of both admiration and reflection. The selections range across diverse epochs and cultures offering insights into the societal roles and challenges faced by women. By elevating their voices and legacies, the anthology contributes to a broader understanding of historical contexts where women's experiences have often been marginalized or overlooked. The authors featured in this compilation are renowned figures in literature and history experts who have meticulously researched the subjects of their writings. Their scholarly pursuits likely stem from a profound belief in the importance of inclusive historical narratives, recognizing that women's stories are integral to the larger tapestry of history. This collection provides a platform for these authors to advocate for the recognition and celebration of women's contributions through the ages in an increasingly prominent discourse on gender equality. Women of History is an essential read for scholars, students, and anyone interested in understanding the multifaceted roles women have played throughout time. This anthology not only informs but inspires, encouraging readers to delve deeper into the histories of these extraordinary women and their impact on our present.

Modern Maternities Ranjana Saha, 2023-07-27. Modern Maternities: Medical Advice about Breastfeeding in Colonial Calcutta brings to light rare textual and visual materials on medical opinions about breastfeeding by memsahibs, European women, dais, indigenous midwives, and wet nurses, and the bhadramahila. Here the focus is on respectable Bengali Hindu women. With the help of archival resources, the author discusses themes like modernity, maternities, and medicine; intersections of race, gender, class, caste, community, and age; in diet, artificial foods versus wet nursing, cleanliness, corporeality, and culture; clean midwifery versus dirty midwifery; customary breastfeeding practices; child, mothers, and childcare; breastfeeding, mothercraft, and modern clocks; exhibitions, baby shows, and baby weeks; colonialism and anti-colonial nation building. The book offers critical insights into social histories of medicine, motherhood, and childcare in nineteenth and early twentieth-century colonial Calcutta. It is intended for anyone interested in the book's interdisciplinary focus on the regional, national, and global resonances of childrearing advice. In particular, it will interest scholars and researchers from modern Indian history, global history, health history, medical anthropology, gender studies, and South Asian studies. Women and Gender in Central and Eastern Europe, Russia, and Eurasia Mary Zirin, Irina Livezeanu, Christine D. Worobec, June Pachuta Farris, 2015-03-26. This is the first comprehensive multidisciplinary and multilingual bibliography on Women and Gender in East Central Europe and the Balkans, Vol. 1, and The Lands of the Former Soviet Union, Vol. 2, over the past millennium. The coverage encompasses the relevant territories of the Russian, Hapsburg, and Ottoman empires, Germany, and Greece, and the Jewish and Roma diasporas. Topics range from legal status and marital customs to economic participation and gender roles, plus unparalleled documentation of women writers and artists and autobiographical works of all kinds. The volumes include approximately 30,000 bibliographic entries on works published through the end of 2000, as well as web sites and unpublished dissertations. Many of the individual entries are annotated with brief descriptions of major works, and the tables of contents for collections and anthologies The entries are cross referenced and each volume includes indexes Writing Women's History Karen M. Offen, Ruth Roach Pierson, Jane Rendall, 1991-08-23 Five essays address such themes as the relationship between feminist history and women's history the use of the concept of experience the development of the history of gender demographic history and women's history and the importance of post structuralism to women's history The Century, 1915 St. Nicholas Mary Mapes Dodge, 1915 Burma, Kipling and Western Music Andrew Selth, 2016-11-03 For decades scholars have been trying to answer the question how was colonial Burma perceived in and by the Western world and how did people in countries like the United Kingdom and United States form their views This book explores how Western perceptions of Burma were influenced by the popular music of the day From the First Anglo Burmese War of 1824-6 until Burma regained its independence in 1948 more than 180 musical works with Burma related themes were written in English speaking countries in addition to the many hymns composed in and about Burma by Christian missionaries Servicemen posted to Burma added to the lexicon with marches and ditties and after 1913 most movies about Burma had their own distinctive scores Taking Rudyard Kipling's 1890 ballad Mandalay as a critical turning point this book surveys all these works with emphasis on popular songs and show tunes also looking at classical works ballet scores hymns soldiers songs sea shanties and film soundtracks It examines how they influenced Western perceptions of Burma and in turn reflected those views back to Western audiences The book sheds new light not only on the West's historical relationship with Burma and the colonial music scene but also Burma's place in the development of popular music and the rise of the global music industry In doing so it makes an original contribution to the fields of musicology and Asian Studies Lives of Circumcised and Veiled Women Debangana Chatterjee, 2023-08-11 The book unravels the politics of representation and the process of exoticising women's bodies through the prism of external gaze and knowledge production It brings out the intricacies of representational discourses around cultural practices of female circumcision FC female genital cutting FGC and Islamic veiling Focusing on crucial international legal texts and national legislation the book gives an overview of the cultural nuances in FC FGC and juxtaposes it with the Indian variation khafz The author studies the international veiling narratives that conjure up a fractured discourse containing aspects of colonialism Islamophobia and Islamic fashion and maps them with the regional variations of Islamic purdah in India The volume explores the cultural practice of khafz and purdah through narratives in India portraying how representational factors from international discourses reflect on the Indian context and vice versa Amid the world of binaries and polarised opinions the book offers a nuanced analysis of the space in between characterised by narratives from women By situating women's narratives in relation to family community state and international politics the book explores the global Indian interplay of discourses on FC FGC and Islamic veiling This volume will be of interest to scholars students and readers of gender studies feminism cultural and religious studies sociology South Asian studies and International Relations Women and Literary Narratives in Colonial India Sukla

Chatterjee,2018-10-03 In the colonial context of South Asia there is a glaring asymmetry in the written records of the interaction between the Bengali women and their European counterparts which is indicative of the larger and the overall asymmetry of discursive power including the flow and access to information between the colonizers and their subjects This book explores the idea of gazing through literature in Colonial India Based on literary and historical analysis it focuses on four different genres of literary writing where nineteenth century Bengali women writers look back at the British colonizers In the process the European culture becomes a static point of reference and the chapters in the book show the ideological social cultural political and deeper emotional interactions between the colonized and the colonizer The book also addresses the lack of sufficient primary sources authored by Bengali women on their European counterparts by anthologizing different available genres Taking into account literary narratives from the colonized and the less represented side of the divide such as a travelogue fantasy fiction missionary text and journal articles the book represents the varying opinions and perspectives vis vis the European women Using an interdisciplinary approach charting the fields of Indology colonial studies sociology literature literary historiography South Asian feminism and cultural studies this book makes an important contribution to the field of South Asian Studies studies of empire and to Indian women s literary history Luzac & Co.'s Oriental List ,1915

The Spectator ,1915 Inscribing South Asian Muslim Women Tahera Aftab,2008 Offers an annotated source for the study of the public and private lives of South Asian Muslim women Qur'an and Woman Amina Wadud,1999-06-10 This book contributes a gender inclusive approach to one of the most fundamental disciplines in Islamic thought Qu ranic exegesis Wadud breaks down specific texts and key words which have been used to limit women s public and private role even to justify violence toward Muslim women revealing that their original meaning and context defy such interpretations What her analysis clarifies is the lack of gender bias precedence or prejudice in the essential language of the Qur an Indeed her understanding of the Qu ran confirms women s equality and constitutes legitimate grounds for contesting the unequal treatment women have experienced historically and continue to experience legally in Muslim communities
