The Heart Of Pittsburgh II A Cook From Historic Pittsburgh:

Dancing from the Heart Kalissa Alexeyeff, 2009-03-23 Dancing from the Heart is the first study of gender globalization and expressive culture in the Cook Islands It demonstrates how dance in particular plays a key role in articulating the overlapping local regional and transnational agendas of Cook Islanders Kalissa Alexeyeff reconfigures conventional views of globalization s impact on indigenous communities moving beyond diagnoses of cultural erosion and contamination to a grounded exploration of creative agency and vital cultural production Central to the study is a rich and textured ethnographic account of contemporary Cook Islands dance practice Based on fieldwork in depth interviews and archival research it offers an engrossing analysis of how Cook Islands social life is generated through expressive practices Dance is explored in a variety of settings including beauty pageants tourist venues nightclubs and community celebrations at home and within Cook Islands communities abroad Contemporary Cook Islands dance practices are also shaped by competing ideas about the past Debates about precolonial traditions missionization and colonialism pervade discussions about dance and expressive culture Alexeyeff shows how the politics of tradition reflect the competing moral political personal and economic practices of postcolonial Cook Islanders Throughout the work the stories and voices of individuals are brought to the fore Their views are juxtaposed with scholarship on tradition modernity and social dynamics Engaging and accessible Dancing from the Heart illuminates specific and intimate aspects of Cook Islands social life while at the same time addressing fundamental questions within anthropology and indigenous performance and postcolonial studies

Glass Towns Ken Fones-Wolf, 2007 One of the central questions facing scholars of Appalachia concerns how a region so rich in natural resources could end up a symbol of poverty Typical culprits include absentee landowners reactionary coal operators stubborn mountaineers and greedy politicians In a deft combination of labor and business history Glass Towns complicates these answers by examining the glass industry s potential to improve West Virginia s political economy by establishing a base of value added manufacturing to complement the state s abundance of coal oil timber and natural gas Through case studies of glass production hubs in Clarksburg Moundsville and Fairmont producing window tableware and bottle glass respectively Ken Fones Wolf looks closely at the impact of industry on local populations and immigrant craftsmen He also examines patterns of global industrial restructuring the ways workers reshaped workplace culture and political action and employer strategies for responding to global competition unreliable markets and growing labor costs at the end of the nineteenth century
