Denationalisation of Defence Janne Haaland Matlary, Øyvind Østerud, 2016-05-23 Denationalisation of Defence consists of two major parts: first, a generic and analytical section which presents the developmental trends in privatization and internationalization of armed force; and second, an empirical section analyzing the impact of these trends on the Nordic countries' defence and security sectors. The Nordic countries have a special relevance as objects of study given their traditionally strong public spheres and state-orientated systems of governance. This volume questions whether the process of denationalization has reached a point where countries are reacting to changes in their security environment by increasingly introducing elements of privatization and international integration.

Globalization and Environmental Challenges Hans Günter Brauch, Úrsula Oswald Spring, Czesław Mesjasz, John Grin, Pál Dunay, Navnita Chadha Behera, Béchir Chourou, Patricia Kameri-Mbote, P. H. Liotta, 2008-01-23 Put quite simply the twin impacts of globalization and environmental degradation pose new security dangers and concerns. In this new work on global security thinking, 91 authors from five continents and many disciplines from science and practice assess the worldwide reassessment of the meaning of security triggered by the end of the Cold War and globalization as well as the multifarious impacts of global environmental change in the early 21st century.

Mathematical Modelling for Sustainable Development Marion Hersch, 2006-01-02 Many people are convinced that Sustainable Development and Mathematics are completely unrelated. Sustainable Development in its role of a value-laden imperative for polluting and over-consuming societies seems to be totally unconnected to mathematical reasoning and ignorant of the values behind its symbols. Still, they are not only connected; they need each other. Mathematics needs Sustainable Development. When science was gradually reinvented in European medieval societies, it was legitimised as contributing to the disclosure of God's divine creation. The conflicts that emerged became well known as a result of the clash between Galileo and the Church. Science found a new legitimacy through recognition that it was a powerful force against superstition. In the Enlightenment, the argument was pushed forward by attributing Progress to the advancement of science: science could produce a better world by promoting rationality. In our modern society, science has become intimately linked to technology. Science for its own sake unfortunately rarely has positive outcomes in terms of research grant applications. Meanwhile, science and technology and the progress they are supposed to produce meet with wide-scale scepticism. We all know of the current global problems: climate change, resource depletion, a thinning ozone layer, space debris, declining biodiversity, malnutrition, dying ecosystems, global inequity, and the risk of unprecedented nuclear wars. Science has to engage with these problems or lose its legitimacy Military and Democracy in Nepal Indra Adhikari, 2015-06-12 This book explores the development of the military as an organization and looks at the patterns of civil military relations that have emerged in modern Nepal especially after the rise of King Prithvi Narayan Shah who founded the unified state of Nepal It combines astute analyses with up to date data to present a comprehensive account of the relations between monarchy military and civil government and their impact on the democratization process in the country The author underlines the pressing need for establishing civilian supremacy over the military through developing and strengthening civilian supervisory mechanisms The book will be an important resource to researchers scholars students of politics military studies peace and conflict studies and history particularly those concerned with Nepal It will also interest policy makers security experts and military personnel
