national Antarctic program in the 1930s and 1940s It reconstructs Australian ideas beliefs and anxieties about the Antarctic and shows how Australians came to imagine their nation as having a natural right perhaps even a destiny to explore exploit and control the world to their south By examining how and why Australia relentlessly pursued the acquisition of its Antarctic Territory Rohan Howitt recovers a forgotten way of thinking about this region as one frontier of an Australian empire stretching from the equator to the South Pole At a time when the Australian Government is ramping up its investment in Antarctica and geopolitical tensions are on the rise The Southern Frontier provides the historical explanation for how Australians came to see the world to their south as a natural extension of the nation s territory Australian Explorers by Sea, Land, and Air, 1788-1988 Ian Francis McLaren,1988 Committed to Learning Juliet Flesch,2017-11-27 Consistently ranking in the top five educational faculties in the world the Melbourne Graduate School of Education has achieved a status few would have predicted This history of the first hundred and ten years of the discipline of Education at the University of Melbourne reflects the extraordinary change in the esteem in which it has been held in the university Australia and the world The very idea of Education as a suitable course of study at a university was initially opposed and until recently the standing of this faculty compared to other professional faculties such as Law or Medicine has been less than equal But since the University was revitalised and reorganised under the Melbourne Model in 2008 its reputation has risen steadily Committed to Learning brings to life those whose vision and hard work since its early beginning have brought such success to this faculty Australian Books National Library of Australia,1989 Marine Affairs Bibliography ,1988 Self Portraits ,1991 A selection of 15 interviews with Australian writers by Hazel de Berg introduced and edited by the novelist David Foster The original interviews form part of the National Library s Oral History Collection Spy Who Loved Children Moira Watson,1993-05-11 At the height of the Great Depression when few families could afford holidays Herbert Dyce Murphy invited groups of children to his seaside house on the Mornington Peninsula He built a tiny railway for them in his garden took them on picnics and sailing trips and told them wonderful stories about his past elaborate tales of whaling ships and royal soir es of espionage and Antarctic blizzards full of adventure intrigue and romance How much of it was true Does it matter What sort of person was Murphy
