Soft War:

Softwar Matthew Symonds, 2013-04-30 In a business where great risks huge fortunes and even bigger egos are common Larry Ellison stands out as one of the most outspoken driven and daring leaders of the software industry The company he cofounded and runs Oracle is the number one business software company perhaps even more than Microsoft s Oracle s products are essential to today s networked world But Oracle is as controversial as it is influential as feared as it is revered thanks in large part to Larry Ellison Though Oracle is one of the world s most valuable and profitable companies Ellison is not afraid to suddenly change course and reinvent Oracle in the pursuit of new and ever more ambitious goals Softwar examines the results of these shifts in strategy and the forces that drive Ellison relentlessly on In Softwar journalist Matthew Symonds gives readers an exclusive and intimate insight into both Oracle and the man who made it and runs it As well as relating the story of Oracle s often bumpy path to industry dominance Symonds deals with the private side of Ellison s life From Ellison s troubled upbringing by adoptive parents and his lifelong search for emotional security to the challenges and opportunities that have come with unimaginable wealth Softwar gets inside the skin of a fascinating and complicated human being With unlimited insider access granted by Ellison himself Symonds captures the intensity and some would say the recklessness that have made Ellison a legend The result of more than a hundred hours of interviews and many months spent with Ellison Softwar is the most complete portrait undertaken of the man and his empire a unique and gripping account of both the way the computing industry really works and an extraordinary life Despite his closeness to Ellison Matthew Symonds is a candid and at times highly critical observer And in perhaps the book s most unusual feature Ellison responds to Symonds s portrayal in the form of a running footnoted commentary The result is one of the most fascinating business stories of all time

Electronic Iran Niki Akhavan, 2013-12-25 Electronic Iran introduces the concept of the Iranian Internet a framework that captures interlinked transnational networks of virtual and offline spaces Taking her cues from early Internet ethnographies that stress the importance of treating the Internet as both a site and product of cultural production accounts in media studies that highlight the continuities between old and new media and a range of works that have made critical interventions in the field of Iranian studies Niki Akhavan traces key developments and confronts conventional wisdom about digital media in general and contemporary Iranian culture and politics in particular Akhavan focuses largely on the years between 1998 and 2012 to reveal a diverse and combative virtual landscape where both geographically and ideologically dispersed individuals and groups deployed Internet technologies to variously construct defend and challenge narratives of Iranian national identity society and politics While it tempers celebratory claims that have dominated assessments of the Iranian Internet Electronic Iran is ultimately optimistic in its outlook As it exposes and assesses overlooked aspects of the Iranian Internet the book sketches a more complete map of its dynamic landscape and suggests that the transformative powers of digital media can only be developed and understood if attention is paid to both the specificities of new technologies as well as the local and transnational contexts in which they appear Media and Power in Modern Iran Emily L. Blout, 2023-01-26 Successive Iranian leaders have struggled to navigate the fraught political cultural space of media in the Islamic Republic skirting the line between embracing Western communications technologies and rejecting them between condemning social networking sites as foreign treachery and promoting themselves on Facebook How does a regime that originally derived its hegemony from the ability to mass communicate its ideology protect its ideological dominance in a media environment defined by hybridity hyper connectivity and near constant change More broadly what is the role of media in the construction and maintenance of power in Iran This book addresses these questions by examining the institutions policies and discourses of two political regimes over the course of nearly eight decades Drawing from over 3 000 primary source documents and digital artifacts in Persian and English including formerly classified material hidden deep in the archives this book offers a history of media in Iran across political regimes and media paradigms from the public s first encounter with mass communication in the 1940s to the dawn of digital media in the 1990s to internet and mobile telephony today At the same time the book trains a keen eye on contemporary politics With foundations in sociology and political science Media and Power in Modern Iran offers trenchant insight into the present ruling establishment a political regime born from what has become known as the first televised revolution (In)Security: Identifying the Invisible Disruptors of Security Gitanjali Adlakha-Hutcheon, Candyce Kelshall, 2024-10-12 What does it take to disrupt security How does one disrupt the invisibility of insecurity How does one make the invisible factors that define and impact security visible For a start by giving voice to the unheard and the marginalized engaging non traditional understandings of security that might bring to light the cracks in our current security infrastructure and expose the insecurities that are hidden in plain sight These voices include generational geographic cultural ethnic and gender based perspectives of insecurity which are ignored or simply cannot be heard by traditional notions of security Presently there is a lack of understanding of the language of nuanced hate being whispered from the ground that inform civil discord These call for new intrastate actions that need to be taken to make communities safer and building layers of protective resilience into the continuing existence of the state Unresolved grievances lay the foundation for insecurity and instability for the future at a time when states need cohesiveness more than ever and there are significant invisible insecurities external to the state that need to be revealed The tapestry of interrelationships that enable security within a state requires equity access and agency among communities If we are to achieve this we must learn to see the invisible listen to the unheard and move beyond our static conceptions of security In so doing we build more resilient societies in the face of a dynamic threat environment and ensure the peaceful continued existence of states This book is a sounding board for positive disruption a source for alternative theories tools and models to aid mitigation of the whispered threats and the soft violence which accompanies chauvinism of any one way of being In this edited book the multiplicity of factors that impact security is explored through new lenses to glean insights such that we are better equipped to prevent harm and protect our security Free Expression, Globalism, and the New Strategic Communication Monroe E. Price, 2015 This book exposes the anxieties of loss of control and missed opportunities for freedom of expression resulting from changes in technologies and geopolitics Geological Bulletin , 1953 Conflict in the 21st Century Nicholas Michael Sambaluk, 2019-08-08 This reference work examines how sophisticated cyber attacks and innovative use of social media have changed conflict in the digital realm while new military technologies such as drones and robotic weaponry continue to have an impact on modern warfare Cyber warfare social media and the latest military weapons are transforming the character of modern conflicts This book explains how through overview essays written by an award winning author of military history and technology topics in addition to more than 200 entries dealing with specific examples of digital and physical technologies categorized by their relationship to cyber warfare social media and physical technology areas Individually these technologies are having a profound impact on modern conflicts cumulatively they are dynamically transforming the character of conflicts in the modern world The book begins with a comprehensive overview essay on cyber warfare and a large section of A Z reference entries related to this topic The same detailed coverage is given to both social media and technology as they relate to conflict in the 21st century Each of the three sections also includes an expansive bibliography that serves as a gateway for further research on these topics The book ends with a detailed chronology that helps readers place all the key events in these areas Regional and International Powers in the Gulf Security Alaa Al-Din Arafat, 2020-04-21 This book discusses the threats and challenges facing the Persian Gulf and the future security in the region providing an overview of the major regional and extra regional actors in Gulf security It argues that except for Iran no regional or extra regional actors including the United States China India and Russia have developed a strategy for Persian Gulf security and only Turkey has expressed a willingness to provide security for the region Importantly the major threats to Persian Gulf security are nonconventional rather than external threats to Iranian hegemony or the balance of power In conclusion it predicts that the power struggle in the Persian Gulf in the coming decades will be between Iran and Turkey and not between Iran and Saudi Arabia This book is of interest to diplomats journalists international affairs specialists strategists and scholars of Gulf politics and security and defence studies A Requiem to the memory of the late Mr. S. Webbe. The words by Mr. Linley [beginning: "Chant we the requiem"] and set to music severally by Lord Burghersh, Messrs. Linley, W. Knyvett, Hawes, Elliott, Beale & Evans John Fane (Earl of Westmorland.), 1820 The Ethics of Insurgency Michael L. Gross, 2015-01-12 As insurgencies rage a burning question remains how should insurgents fight technologically superior state armies Commentators rarely ask this question because the catchphrase we fight by the rules but they don't is nearly axiomatic But truly are all forms of guerrilla warfare equally reprehensible Can we think cogently about just guerrilla warfare May guerrilla tactics such as laying improvised explosive devices IEDs assassinating informers using human shields seizing prisoners of war conducting cyber strikes against civilians manipulating the media looting resources or using nonviolence to provoke violence prove acceptable under the changing norms of contemporary warfare The short answer is yes but modern guerrilla warfare requires a great deal of qualification explanation and argumentation before it joins the repertoire of acceptable military behavior Not all insurgents fight justly but guerrilla tactics and strategies are also not always the heinous practices that state powers often portray them to be Persian Service Annabelle Sreberny, Massoumeh Torfeh, 2014-01-16 Rumour and speculation in Iran have been rife for generations that the BBC has had a hand in every political upheaval in the country In this vein the BBC has become a notable element in the complex and tortured narrative of Anglo Iranian relations The BBC Persian Service was initially developed in 1940 to prepare and broadcast British war time propaganda And it has since been seen by many in Iran as an integral part of British policy making in the region Thirty years ago the Shah of Iran regarded the BBC Persian Service radio as his enemy number one and held it responsible for promoting the revolution of 1979 Only a couple decades earlier the BBC Persian Service was widely accused for having been complicit in the CIA led 1953 coup against Prime Minister Mohammad Musaddiq And a decade earlier the BBC Persian Service was strongly linked to the British planned removal of Reza Shah in 1941 The BBC Persian service has frequently been perceived as an entity which was not simply a vehicle to record the changes occurring in Iran and throughout the Middle East but rather an active agent of change In this book Annabelle Sreberny and Massoumeh Torfeh track the history of the BBC Persian Service critically analysing both the assumptions that the BBC is a standard bearer for objective reporting and representations of it as a simple tool of Western interests Also examining the history of relations between the Foreign Office and the BBC Persian Service they demonstrate that these have never been pre defined or rigid Instead they explore how both institutions have moved from an interest in what can crudely be called state orchestrated propaganda to a more subtle advocacy of fair and balanced journalism as the best agent of British values and influence stereotypes that portray them as mouthpieces of the regime by untangling the minutiae of their daily lives and connecting it to their aspirations Rose Wellman author of Feeding Iran Shi i Families and the Making of the Islamic Republic Tawasil s discussion of veiling and staying out of sight is the most complex comprehensive insightful grounded treatment I have ever seen Her understanding of the howzevi women s perspectives of the meaning of their veiling of their purposes their goals for their religious selves is outstanding We do not have anything like this a study of the world of female religious students and teachers as women striving to become the religious selves they want to attain Mary Hegland author of Days of Revolution Political Unrest in an Iranian Village What can women s scholastic pursuits tell us about what building an Islamic state looks like for women who are loyal to its project And what can an ethnographic study of women who are using Islamic education to transform their conditions in Iran teach us about our own humanity Paths Made by Walking provides insight into these questions by examining how Iranian women have participated in Islamic education after the 1979 Revolution The first ethnography on Iranian howzevi seminarian women it reveals how ideologies of womanhood institutions and Islamic practices have played a pivotal role in religiously conservative women s mobility in the Middle East Based on several months of participant observation Paths Made by Walking presents an ethnography of the seminarian women whose Islamic education has propelled some of them into powerful positions in Iran from close ties with the state s Supreme Leader and Chief Justice to membership in the Basij voluntary military organization At the same time these women often choose to remain hidden or to otherwise follow practices that seem inscrutable or illogical from a framework of politicized resistance By centering the howzevi women s senses of self and revealing their complex interpretations of their beliefs Amina Tawasil offers a fresh perspective on forms of feminine identity that do not always mirror supposedly universal desires for recognition autonomy leadership or authority Taking readers into the classrooms living rooms and compounds where howzevi women participate in intellectual discourse this book invites readers to reconsider their conceptualizations of the women who support the Islamic Republic of Iran

Global Cultures of Contestation Esther Peeren,Robin Celikates,Jeroen de Kloet,Thomas Poell,2017-11-30 This book guides the reader through the many complications and contradictions that characterize popular contestation today focusing on its socio political cultural and aesthetic dimensions The volume recognizes that the same media and creative strategies can be used to pursue very different causes as the anti gay marriage Manif Pour Tous movement in France makes clear The contributors are scholars from the humanities and social sciences who analyze protests in particular regions including Egypt Iran Australia France Spain Greece and Hong Kong and transnational protests such as the NSA leaks and the mobilization of migrants and refugees Not only the specificity of these protest movements is examined but also their tendency to connect and influence each other as well as the central often ambiguous role global digital platforms play in this

Social Media in Iran David M. Faris,Babak Rahimi,2015-11-20 Social Media in Iran is the first book to tell the complex story of how and why the Iranian people including women homosexuals dissidents artists and even state actors use social media technology and in doing so create a contentious environment wherein new identities and realities are constructed Drawing together emerging and established scholars in communication culture and media studies this volume considers the role of social media in Iranian society particularly the time during and after the controversial 2009 presidential election a watershed moment in the postrevolutionary history of Iran While regional specialists may find studies on specific themes useful the aim of this volume is to provide broad narratives of actor based conceptions of media technology an approach that focuses on the experiential and social networking processes of digital practices in the information era extended beyond cultural specificities Students and scholars of regional and media studies will find this volume rich with empirical and theoretical insights on the subject of how technologies shape political and everyday life
