Manga Eike Exner,2025-07 A groundbreaking story of Japanese comics from their nineteenth century origins to the present day The immensely popular art form of manga or Japanese comics has made its mark across global pop culture influencing film visual art video games and more This book is the first to tell the history of comics in Japan as a single continuous story focusing on manga as multipanel cartoons that show stories rather than narrate them Eike Exner traces these cartoons gradual evolution from the 1890s until today culminating in manga s explosion in global popularity in the 2000s and the current shift from print periodicals to digital media and smartphone apps Over the course of this 130 year history Exner answers questions about the origins of Japanese comics the establishment of their distinctive visuals and how they became such a fundamental part of the Japanese publishing industry incorporating well known examples such as Dragon Ball and Sailor Moon as well as historical manga little known outside of Japan The book pays special attention to manga s structural development examining the roles played not only by star creators but also by editors and major publishers such as K dansha that embraced comics as a way of selling magazines to different often gendered readerships This engaging narrative presents extensive new research making it an essential read for enthusiasts and experts alike The Delineator R. Visions of the Maid Robin Blaetz,2001-11-29 Representations of Joan of Arc have been used in the United States for the past two hundred years appearing in advertising cartoons popular song art criticism and propaganda The presence of the fifteenth century French heroine in the cinema is particularly intriguing in relation to the role of women during wartime

Robin Blaetz argues that a mythic Joan of Arc was used during the First World War to cast a medieval glow over an unpopular war but that she only appeared after the Second World War to encourage women to abandon their wartime jobs and return to the home. In Visions of the Maid Blaetz examines three pivotal films: Cecil B. DeMille's 1916 Joan the Woman, Victor Fleming's 1948 Joan of Arc, and Otto Preminger's 1957 Saint Joan, as well as addressing a broad array of popular culture references and every other film about the heroine made or distributed in the United States. Blaetz is particularly concerned with issues of gender and the ways in which Joan of Arc's androgyny, virginity, and sacrificial victimhood were evoked in relation to the evolving roles of women during war throughout the twentieth century. The Reader, 1905
