Coppard, 2021-11-05 In The Black Dog and Other Stories A E Coppard masterfully weaves a tapestry of short narratives that delve into the complexities of human emotion and the interplay between reality and the surreal. Written in a lyrical prose style that is both evocative and haunting, these stories reflect the author's keen observations of early 20th century English life, often infusing a sense of whimsicality with darker undertones. Coppard's work is distinguished by its rich characterizations and vivid settings rooted in the English countryside, yet echoing universal themes of love, loss, and existential contemplation. Coppard, born in 1878, was influenced by his experiences as a writer in a post-Victorian literary landscape, shaping his distinctive voice. Raised in rural surroundings, his affinity for nature and folklore is evident throughout the collection, revealing a writer who was profoundly attuned to the nuances of life. His background in both journalism and literary circles, alongside connections with contemporaries like D H Lawrence, undoubtedly contributed to his approach and thematic choices in this compilation. The Black Dog and Other Stories is a must-read for those interested in early modernist literature and the exploration of the human psyche. Coppard's skillful storytelling invites readers into a world where the mundane transforms into the extraordinary, making this collection not only a celebration of narrative craft but also an introspection of the myriad shades of human experience.      Brag Dog and Other Stories, 2000      The Crime of the Wandering Dog and Other Stories

But Lord, you can fix 'em up if you want to. Did you ever hear about Henery that used to drive for old John Bull about Henery and the elephant? Alfred was chauffeur to a friend of mine who owned a very powerful car. Alfred was part of that car. Weirdly intelligent of poor physique, he might have been any age from fifteen to eighty. His education had been somewhat hurried, but there was no doubt as to his mechanical ability. He took to a car like a young duck to water. He talked motor, thought motor, and would have accepted I won't say with enthusiasm for Alfred's motto was Nil admirari, but without hesitation, an offer to drive in the greatest race in the world. He could drive really well, too, as for belief in himself, after six months' apprenticeship in a garage, he was prepared to vivisection a six-cylinder engine with the confidence of a diplomaed bachelor of engineering. Barring a tendency to flash driving and a delight in persecuting slow cars by driving just in front of them and letting them come up and enjoy his dust, and then shooting away again, he was a respectable member of society. When his boss was in the car, he cloaked the natural ferocity of his instincts, but this day, with only myself on board and a clear run of a hundred and twenty miles up to the station before him, he let her loose, confident that if any trouble occurred, I
