Health and Safety in Canadian Workplaces Jason Foster, Bob Barnetson, 2016-07-31

Workplace injuries happen every day and can profoundly affect workers their families and the communities in which they live This textbook is for workers and students looking for an introduction to injury prevention on the job Foster and Barnetson

bring the field into the twenty first century by including discussions of how precarious employment gender and ill health can be better handled in Canadian OHS

No Safe Place Phil Brown, Edwin J. Mikkelsen, 1997 An excellent and readable account of the toxic waste crisis in Woburn Massachusetts and the courageous efforts by local citizens to protect their community The Woburn story is an inspiring lesson for citizens across the country struggling to protect the environment from polluters and unresponsive government officials Senator Edward Kennedy

Handbook of Science and Technology Studies Sheila Jasanoff, Gerald E Markle, James C Peterson, Trevor Pinch, 2001-11-01 This volume represents the social constructivist turn of the field It is evident that social constructivism made a major impact on the field during the 1970s and 1980s The diverse papers included here highlight the role of ethnography in STS In addition we are exposed to new perspectives of the multicultural and gendered nature of knowledge production Science Technology and Society For the most current comprehensive resource in this rapidly evolving field look no further than the Revised Edition of the Handbook of Science and Technology Studies This masterful volume is the first resource in more than 15 years to define summarize and synthesize this complex multidisciplinary international field Tightly edited with contributions by an internationally recognized team of leading scholars this volume addresses the crucial contemporary issues both traditional and nonconventional social studies political studies and humanistic studies in this changing field Containing theoretical essays extensive literature reviews and detailed case studies this remarkable volume clearly sets the standard for the field It does nothing less than establish itself as the benchmark one that will carry the field well into the next century The long awaited Handbook of Science and Technology Studies sponsored by the Society for Social Studies of Science is a truly substantial work both in size and in the breadth of its many contributions It is a rich and valuable guide to much that is transpiring in the field of Science and Technology Studies In the editors words it is an unconventional but arresting atlas of the field at a particular moment in its history Science Technology Society This book is not only an important resource for practitioners but it also may help to spark the curiosity of those who are outside the field including scientists and engineers themselves and so pull the half seen world of science and technology studies even more fully into the light of day American Scientist The book as a whole is an impressive testimony to the vitality of a burgeoning field New Scientist It reflects the international and interdisciplinary nature of the society An excellent resource Choice

Improving Earthquake Mitigation ,1993

Regulating Workplace Risks David Walters, R. Johnstone, Kaj Frick, Michael Quinlan, Geneviève Baril-Gingras, Annie Thébaud-Mony, 2011-01-01 State of the art research into the state of the art of occupational health and safety management and inspection Its authors provide a warts and all assessment of the possibilities and limits of regulating health and safety in an increasingly challenging environment A must read for anyone concerned about improving workplace health and safety in the new world of work Eric Tucker York University Canada This book long in gestation provides a profound analysis of the challenge to labour inspection of regulating OHS through a focus on management systems Its detailed analysis of 5 disparate countries is a treasure trove of research providing a rich opportunity for learning across jurisdictions It provides a masterly dissection of the increasingly complex competitive and pared down context of globalisation and then challenges it Recording some successes but more shortcomings it is food for deep reflection by inspectorates and politicians internationally Andrew Hale Hastam UK and Emeritus Professor Delft University The Netherlands Despite the complaints of neo liberal ideologists about the burden on business this book argues that there is no justification for reduced regulation and regulatory surveillance of health and safety at work Drawing on analyses of the role played by labour inspection in Australia Sweden Canada France and the UK the authors provide a timely examination of the contemporary organisational and other challenges it faces with particular reference to the inadequacy of self regulation and the rise of systematic occupational health and safety management Theo Nichols Cardiff University UK An impressively broad and sophisticated study of a critical aspect of OHS regulation This is the best socio legal analysis available of the contexts strategies and practices involved in inspection of approaches to managing health and safety in the face of change Neil Gunningham Australian National University Canberra Regulating Workplace Risks is a study of regulatory inspection of occupational health and safety OHS and its management in five countries Australia Canada Quebec France Sweden and the UK during a time of major change It examines the implications of the shift from specification to process based regulation in which attention has been increasingly directed to the means of managing OHS more systematically at a time in which a major restructuring of work has occurred in response to the globalised economy These changes provide both the context and material for a wider discussion of the nature of regulation and regulatory inspection and their role in protecting the health safety and well being of workers in advanced market economies With its comparative nature and empirical studies this book will appeal to OHS policy makers and regulators all over the world as well as students in the field of occupational health and safety regulation internationally

Biopolitics Vandana Shiva, Ingunn Moser, 1995-09-04 Biotechnology is the single most powerful bundle of new technologies currently under development It is also the most intrusive and determinative technology relating to nature generally and the human body specifically This Reader brings together some of the most important work from feminists and environmentalists critical of the headlong rush into what is likely to prove a technological minefield As such it will be essential reading for students scholars and activists in social studies of science women s studies development and environmental studies

AIDS, Rhetoric, and Medical Knowledge Alex Preda, 2004-11-29 This 2005 book examines the formation of scientific knowledge about the AIDS epidemic in the 1980s and shows the broader cultural assumptions which grounded this knowledge Alex Preda highlights the metaphors narratives and classifications which framed scientific hypotheses about the nature of the infectious agent and its transmission ways and compares these arguments with those used in the scientific knowledge about SARS Through detailed rhetorical analysis of biomedical publications the author shows how knowledge about epidemics is shaped by cultural narratives and categories of social thought Preda situates his analysis in the broader frame of the world risk society where scientific knowledge is called upon to support and shape public policies about prevention and health maintenance among others But can these policies avoid the influence of cultural narratives and of social classifications The book shows how culture matters for prevention and health policies as well as with respect to how scientific research is organized and funded

Understanding Corporate Criminality Michael B. Blankenship, 2013-10-08 First Published in 1995 The Exxon Valdez catastrophe the savings and loan bailout defense contractor fraud and insider trading scandals have inspired a growing number of courses devoted to the subject of corporate criminality This collection of original essays treats various aspects of a wide ranging problem including the evolution of the study of corporate crime the difficulties of understanding corporate illegality the nature and extent of corporate crime financial and social costs measurement issues the regulation of corporate behavior public perceptions and the punishment of corporate crime Environmental Health Perspectives, 1993 The Political Economy of Workplace Injury in Canada Bob Barnetson, 2010 Workplace injuries are common avoidable and unacceptable The Political Economy of Workplace Injury in Canada reveals how employers and governments engage in ineffective injury prevention efforts intervening only when necessary to maintain standard legitimacy Barnetson sheds light on this faulty system highlighting the way in which employers create dangerous work environments yet pour billions of dollars into compensation and treatment Examining this dynamic clarifies the way in which production costs are passed on to workers in the form of workplace injuries Intellectual Property, Faculty Rights and the Public Good Samantha Bernstein-Sierra, Adrianna Kezar, 2017-03-15 Explore the different forms that intellectual property IP has taken in higher education in recent years and how to navigate the changing landscape for faculty members and university administrators Due to technological advancements and the rise of neo liberal policies influenced by academic capitalism faculty members are finding their rights being renegotiated often without their input Through patents copyrights distance education programs and MOOCS universities and publishers are seeking to gain a competitive advantage in a market largely dominated by profit generation All this is putting the university's public mission in tension with increasingly profit driven university management practices This volume Presents policy trends in university IP regulation over the past 40 years Examines the utility of IP rights in higher education Considers the implications of knowledge ownership in the academic profession and Details the IP barriers that faculty encounter when attempting to share their work This is the 177th volume of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Higher Education Addressed to presidents vice presidents deans and other higher education decision makers on all kinds of campuses it provides timely information and authoritative advice about major issues and administrative problems confronting every institution The Language of Risk Dorothy Nelkin, 1985-05 Collection of essays on attitudes to occupational safety and occupational health in the USA discusses trade union attitudes and management attitudes as reflected in terminology disclosure of information the terms used by journalists and industrial physicians administrative aspects legal aspects and safety and health policy to illustrate the conflicting interests arising from social status political ideology economic role and occupational bias References Regulation and Risk Bridget M. Hutter, 2001 This study examines the impact of a system of enforced self regulation on the corporate life of British Railways The book raises important questions about how workplace risks are managed and what influence the law can have Class, Contention, and a World in Motion Winnie Lem, Pauline Gardiner Barber, 2010-07-01 Prevailing scholarship on migration tends to present migrants as the objects of history subjected to abstract global forces or to concrete forms of regulation imposed by state and supra state organizations In this volume by contrast the focus is on migrants as the subjects of history who not only react but also act to engage with and transform their worlds Using ethnographic examples from Africa Asia Europe North America and the Middle East contributors question how and why particular forms of political struggle and collective action may or indeed may not be carried forward in the context of geographic and social border crossings In doing so they bring the dynamic relationship between class gender and culture to the forefront in each distinctive migration setting

Recommendations and Reports Administrative Conference of the United States, 1988 Trust Us, We're Experts PA Sheldon Rampton, John Stauber, 2002-01-14 The authors of Toxic Sludge Is Good for You unmask the sneaky and widespread methods industry uses to influence opinion through bogus experts doctored data and manufactured facts We count on the experts We count on them to tell us who to vote for what to eat how to raise our children We watch them on TV listen to them on the radio read their opinions in magazine and newspaper articles and letters to the editor We trust them to tell us what to think because there s too much information out there and not enough hours in a day to sort it all out We should stop trusting them right this second In their new book Trust Us We re Experts How Industry Manipulates Science and Gambles with Your Future Sheldon Rampton and John Stauber authors of Toxic Sludge Is Good For You offer a chilling expos on the manufacturing of independent experts Public relations firms and corporations know well how to exploit your trust to get you to buy what they have to sell Let you hear it from a neutral third party like a professor or a pediatrician or a soccer mom or a watchdog group The problem is these third parties are usually anything but neutral They have been handpicked cultivated and meticulously packaged in order to make you believe what they have to say preferably in an objective format like a news show or a letter to the editor And in some cases they have been paid handsomely for their opinions For example You think that nonprofit organizations just give away their stamps of approval on products Bristol Myers Squibb paid 600 000 to the American Heart Association for the right to display AHA s name and logo in ads for its cholesterol lowering drug Pravachol SmithKline Beecham paid the American Cancer Society 1 million for the right to use its logo in ads for Beecham s Nicoderm CQ and Nicorette anti smoking ads You think that a study out of a prestigious university is completely unbiased In 1997 Georgetown University s Credit Research Center issued a study which concluded that many debtors are using bankruptcy as an excuse to wriggle out of their obligations to creditors Former U S Treasury Secretary Lloyd Bentsen cited the study in a Washington Times column and advocated for changes in federal law to make it harder for consumers to file for bankruptcy

relief What Bentsen failed to mention was that the Credit Research Center is funded in its entirety by credit card companies banks retailers and others in the credit industry that the study itself was produced with a 100 000 grant from VISA USA Inc and MasterCard International and that Bentsen himself had been hired to work as a credit industry lobbyist You think that all grassroots organizations are truly grassroots In 1993 a group called Mothers Opposing Pollution MOP appeared calling itself the largest women s environmental group in Australia with thousands of supporters across the country Their cause A campaign against plastic milk bottles It turned out that the group s spokesperson Alana Maloney was in truth a woman named Janet Rundle the business partner of a man who did P R for the Association of Liquidpaperboard Carton Manufacturers the makers of paper milk cartons You think that if a scientist says so it must be true In the early 1990s tobacco companies secretly paid thirteen scientists a total of 156 000 to write a few letters to influential medical journals One biostatistician received 10 000 for writing a single eight paragraph letter that was published in the Journal of the American Medical Association A cancer researcher received 20 137 for writing four letters and an opinion piece to the Lancet the Journal of the National Cancer Institute and The Wall Street Journal Rampton and Sta Risk, Culture, and Health Inequality Barbara H. Harthorn, Laury Oaks, 2003-04-30 Examines the diverse uses and abuses of risk by social actors across a wide range of cultural ethnic and geographical locales The introductory chapter by the two co editors analyzes and contextualizes current scholarly debates on the social cultural and political construction of risk It is followed by an overview on the anthropology of harm reduction that outlines an innovative framework for culturally informed risk analysis The remaining nine chapters are organized into three sections The Cultivation of Fear Perceptions of Health Safety and Hazard Risk Makers and Risk Takers and Regulating Risk and the Public s Health The book aims to address a set of questions of theoretical and practical importance to anthropologists sociologists public health scholars and professionals and public policy advocates among others These questions include How do individuals conceptualize and respond to risk Can risk be a tool of empowerment for individuals and communities who define themselves as at risk How has risk figured recently in the production of health inequality Has the social contract to provide care in its broadest sense expanded or contracted around issues of risk Are risk and the imperative to adhere to risk warnings used by experts as a means of social control The volume s contributors medical anthropologists and sociologists provide rich grounded ethnographic case material on the processes at work in everyday social life around the globe as individuals and groups struggle to make saense of the health risks and inequities in their lives and communities Authors address an array of urgent health concerns ranging from food safety to environment new technologies to infectious disease in such contrasting locales as the US Europe South and Southeast Asia and North Africa and across diverse ethnicities and social classes
