Consuming Places JOHN Urry, 2002-03-11 John Urry has been discussing and writing on these and similar questions for the past fifteen years In Consuming Places he gathers together his most significant contributions Urry begins with an extensive review of the connections between society time and space The concept of society the nature of locality the significance of economic restructuring and the concept of the rural are examined in relationship to place The book then considers how places have been transformed by the development of service occupations and industries Concepts of the service class and post industrialism are theoretically and empirically discussed Attention is then devoted to the ways in which places are consumed Particular attention is devoted to the visual character of such consumption and its implications for place and people The implications for nature and the environment are also explored in depth The changing nature of consumption and the tensions between commodification and collective enthusiasms are explored in the context of the changing ways in which the countryside is consumed Britain and Italy in the Long Eighteenth Century Rosamaria Loretelli, Frank O’Gorman, 2010-02-19 The essays in this collection range across literature aesthetics music and art and explore such themes as the dynamics of change in eighteenth century aesthetics time modernity and the picturesque the function of graphic ornaments in eighteenth century texts imaginary voyages as a literary genre the genesis of children s literature the Italian opera and musical theory in Frances Burney s novels Italian and British art theories and patterns of cultural transfers and of book circulation between Britain and Italy in the eighteenth century Collectively they epitomise the concerns and approaches of scholars working on the long eighteenth century at this challenging and exciting time In the absence of universally agreed overarching interpretations of the cultural history of the long eighteenth century these papers pave the way for the ultimate emergence of such explanations Authors discussed here include Margaret Cavendish David Russen Francis Hutcheson Reverend Gilpin Samuel Richardson Henry Fielding Laurence Sterne Dugald Stewart Dorothy Kilner Frances Burney Anna Gordon Brown Saverio Bettinelli Henry Ince Blundell Francesco Algarotti Ugo Foscolo and Francesco Domenico Guerrazzi

The Regional Novel in Britain and Ireland K. D. M. Snell, 1998-12-10 The Regional Novel In Britain and Ireland 1800 1990 will be of interest to literary and social historians as well as cultural critics In the Province of History Ian McKay, Robin Bates, 2010-05-18 Using archival sources novels government reports and works on tourism and heritage Ian McKay and Robin Bates look at how state planners key politicians and cultural figures such as Henry Wadsworth Longfellow long time premier Angus L Macdonald and novelist Thomas Raddall were all instrumental in forming tourism history The authors argue that Longfellow s 1847 poem Evangeline on the brutal British expulsion of Acadians from Nova Scotia became a template a new kind of profit making history that exalted whiteness and excluded ethnic minorities women and working class movements A remarkable look at the intersection of politics leisure and the presentation of public history In the Province of History is a revealing account of how a region has both used and distorted its own past William Wordsworth and

Modern Travel Saeko Yoshikawa, 2020 This book explores Wordsworth s extraordinary influence on the tourist landscape of the Lake District throughout the age of railways motorcars and the First World War It explores how patterns of tourist behaviour and environmental awareness changed in the century of popular tourism examining how Wordsworth s vision shaped modern ideas of travel landscape and cultural heritage The Celebrated Elizabeth Smith Lucia

McMahon, 2022-10-21 Elizabeth Smith a learned British woman born in the momentous year 1776 gained transnational fame posthumously for her extensive intellectual accomplishments which encompassed astronomy botany history poetry and language studies As she navigated her place in the world Smith made a self conscious decision to keep her many talents hidden from disapproving critics Therefore her rise to fame began only in 1808 when her posthumous memoir appeared In this elegantly written biography Lucia McMahon reconstructs the places and social constellations that enabled Smith s learning and adventures in England Wales and Ireland and traces her transatlantic fame and literary afterlife across Britain and the United States Through re telling Elizabeth Smith s fascinating life story and retracing her posthumous transatlantic fame McMahon reveals a larger narrative about women s efforts to enact learned and fulfilling lives and the cultural reactions such aspirations inspired in the early nineteenth century Although Smith was cast as exceptional by her contemporaries and modern scholars alike McMahon argues that her scholarly achievements travel explorations and posthumous fame were all emblematic of the age in which she lived Offering insights into Romanticism picturesque tourism celebrity culture and women s literary productions McMahon asks the provocative question How many seemingly exceptional women must we uncover in the historical record before we are no longer surprised
