The Language Of Difference:

The Language Difference Paulin G. Djité, 2011 This book asks whether language makes a difference when it comes to development and whether there is a perceptible difference in development between countries that is attributable to their choice of language It answers these questions by comparing the role of language in Africa and in Southeast Asia Cambodia the Lao PDR Myanmar and Viet Nam At Translation's Edge Nataša Durovicova, Patrice Petro, Lorena

Terando, 2019-06-14 Since the 1970s the field of Translation Studies has entered into dialogue with an array of other disciplines sustaining a close but contentious relationship with literary translation At Translation's Edge expands this interdisciplinary dialogue by taking up questions of translation across sub fields and within disciplines including film and media studies comparative literature history and education among others For the contributors to this volume translation is understood in its most expansive transdisciplinary sense translation as exchange migration and mobility including cross cultural communication and media circulation Whether exploring the Universal Declaration of Human Rights or silent film intertitles this volume brings together the work of scholars aiming to address the edges of Translation Studies while engaging with major and minor languages colonial and post colonial studies feminism and disability studies and theories of globalization and empire Diversity and Difference in Childhood: Issues for Theory and Practice Kerry

Waldo argues that writing across the curriculum WAC programs should be housed in writing centers and explains an innovative approach to enhancing their effectiveness focus WAC on the writing agendas of the disciplines He asserts that WAC operation should reflect an academy characterized by multiple language communities each with contextualized values purposes and forms for writing and no single community s values superior to another s Starting off with an examination of the core issue that WAC should be promoting learning to write in the disciplines instead of writing to learn Waldo proposes housing WAC in comprehensive writing centers independent of any other department using dialogue and inquiry rather than prescriptive techniques in the WAC program s interaction with faculty in other disciplines and phasing out writing assessment that depends on one test measuring the writing abilities of students from all disciplines In the process of making his case Waldo discusses tutor training faculty consultancy and multilayered assessment programs In addition to presenting the theoretical and practical advantages of discipline based WAC programs he also offers clear and compelling evidence from his own institution that supports the success of this approach to writing instruction Demythologizing Language Difference in the Academy Establishing Discipline Based Writing Programs will be of interest to writing program and WAC administrators writing center administrators graduate students studying composition and educators and graduate students involved in WAC initiatives research and study Frantz Fanon, postcolonialism and the ethics of difference Azzedine Haddour,2019-07-26

Whether all human languages are fundamentally the same or different has been a subject of debate for ages This problem has deep philosophical implications If languages are all the same it implies a fundamental commonality and thus the mutual intelligibility of human thought We are now on the verge of answering this question Using a twenty year old theory proposed by the world's greatest living linguist Noam Chomsky researchers have found that the similarities among languages are more profound than the differences Languages whose grammars seem completely incompatible may in fact be structurally almost identical except for a difference in one simple rule The discovery of these rules and how they may vary promises to yield a linguistic equivalent of the Periodic Table of the Elements a single framework by which we can understand the fundamental structure of all human language This is a landmark breakthrough both within linguistics which will thereby become a full fledged science for the first time and in our understanding of the human mind Racing Translingualism in

Composition Tom Do, Karen Rowan, 2022-09-15 Racing Translingualism provides both theoretical and pedagogical reconsiderations of the translingual approach to language diversity by addressing the intersections of race and translingualism This collection extends the disciplinary conversations about translingualism by foregrounding the role race and racism play in the construction and maintenance of language differences In doing so the contributors examine the co naturalization of race and language in order to theorize a race conscious translingual praxis The book begins by offering generative critiques of translingualism centering on the ways in which the approach's democratic orientation to language avoids issues of race language and power and appeals to colorblind racist tropes of equal opportunity Following these critiques contributors demonstrate the important intersections of race and translingualism by drawing upon voices typically marginalized by monolingual language ideologies and pedagogies Finally Racing Translingualism concludes by attending to the pedagogical implications of a race conscious translingual praxis in writing and literacy education Making the case for race conscious rather than colorblind theories and pedagogies Racing Translingualism offers a unique take on how translingualism is theorized and practiced and moves the field forward through its direct consideration of the links between language race and racism Contributors Lindsey Albracht Steven Alvarez Bethany Davila Tom Do Jaclyn Hilberg Bruce Horner Aja Martinez Esther Milu Stephanie Mosher Yasmine Romero Karen Rowan Rachael Shapiro Shawanda Stewart Brian Stone Victor Villanueva Missy Watson

Cross-Language Information Retrieval Jian-Yun Nie, 2022-05-31 Search for information is no longer exclusively limited within the native language of the user but is more and more extended to other languages This gives rise to the problem of cross language information retrieval CLIR whose goal is to find relevant information written in a different language to a query In addition to the problems of monolingual information retrieval IR translation is the key problem in CLIR one should translate either the query or the documents from a language to another However this translation problem is not identical to full text machine translation MT the goal is not to produce a human readable translation but a translation suitable for finding relevant documents Specific translation methods are thus required The goal of this book is to provide a comprehensive description of the specific problems arising in CLIR the solutions proposed in this area as well as the remaining problems The book starts with a general description of the monolingual IR and CLIR problems Different classes of approaches to translation are then presented approaches using an MT system dictionary based translation and approaches based on parallel and comparable corpora In addition the typical retrieval effectiveness using different approaches is compared It will be shown that translation approaches specifically designed for CLIR can rival and outperform high quality MT systems Finally the book offers a look into the future that draws a strong parallel between query expansion in monolingual IR and query translation in CLIR suggesting that many approaches developed in monolingual IR can be adapted to CLIR The book can be used as an introduction to CLIR Advanced readers can also find more technical details and discussions about the remaining research challenges in the future It is suitable to new researchers who intend to carry out research on CLIR Table of Contents Preface Introduction Using Manually Constructed Translation Systems and Resources for CLIR Translation Based on Parallel and Comparable Corpora Other Methods to Improve CLIR A Look into the Future Toward a Unified View of Monolingual IR and CLIR References Author Biography Littell's Living Age , 1882
