The Last Museum:

The Last Museum Brion Gysin, 1986-01 Beyond the Glass Case Nick Merriman, 2016-09-16 The book is the result of a nationwide survey in the UK that measured public use of and attitudes to the past archaeology and collecting The author reviews this research in the light of contemporary theory on ideology and representation and goes on to develop a convincing explanation for the failure of museums and similar institutions to connect with the majority of the public Merriman marshals the empirical and theoretical work to make a powerful case for a new approach to attract the under served populations one which encourages a view of the museum as a service helping its public to see understand and engage with its own personal local and multi faceted past The Museum, 1925 Museum publications Jan 1929 v 2 p 28 32 The British Museum's Excavations at Nineveh, 1846-1855 Geoffrey Turner, 2020-10-12 Geoffrey Turner has written the definitive study of the mid 19th century excavations sponsored by the British Museum at the ancient Assyrian site of Nineveh in Iraq Based on exhaustive analysis of unpublished archives combined with his own extensive knowledge of Assyrian architecture Turner's work documents the complete history of these excavations Turner also draws on the archives and numerous additional sources to provide a detailed reconstruction of the architecture and relief sculpture in the building that was the primary focus of these excavations the Southwest Palace of Sennacherib ruled 705 681 BC The result constitutes the final report both on the results of these excavations and on the original appearance of one of the ancient world's most famous buildings

The Contemporary Museum Simon Knell,2018-10-11 The Contemporary Museum issues a challenge to those who view the museum as an artefact of history constrained in its outlook as much by professional institutional and disciplinary creed as by the collections it accumulated in the distant past Denying that the museum can locate its purpose in the pursuit of tradition or in idealistic speculation about the future the book asserts that this can only be found through an ongoing and proactive negotiation with the present the contemporary This volume is not concerned with any present but with the peculiar circumstances of what it refers to as the global contemporary the sense of living in a globally connected world that is preoccupied with the contemporary To situate the museum in this world of real and immediate need and action beyond the reach of history the book argues is to empower it to challenge existing dogmas and inequalities and sweep aside old hierarchies As a result fundamental questions need to be asked about such things as the museum s relationship to global time and space to systems and technologies of knowing to the life well lived to the movement and rights of people and to the psychology permanence and organisation of culture Incorporating diverse viewpoints from around the world The Contemporary Museum is a follow up volume to Museum Revolutions and as such should be essential reading for students in the fields of museum and heritage studies cultural studies communication and media studies art history and social policy Academics and museum professionals will also find this book a source of inspiration
