 Member with the participation of a few German and French scientists, the first meeting of the Commission of the European Communities (CEC) was held in Brussels in 1957. The Commission was created by the Treaty of Rome, signed in 1957, which established the European Economic Community (EEC). The Commission was the executive body of the EEC, responsible for implementing the policies of the Council of Ministers. It was composed of representatives of the member states, who were appointed by the Council. The Commission's main task was to ensure the proper functioning of the EEC and to promote economic growth and stability in the community. It also played a key role in the development of the common market and the adoption of the single currency, the Euro. The Commission's work was supported by the European Parliament, which was created in 1958. The Parliament was responsible for overseeing the Commission and for adopting the laws of the EEC. The Commission's work was also supported by the Council of Ministers, which was the main decision-making body of the EEC. The Commission's work was also supported by the European Court of Justice, which was created in 1958. The Court was responsible for ensuring that the laws of the EEC were properly interpreted and applied. The Commission's work was also supported by the European Court of Auditors, which was created in 1975. The Court was responsible for auditing the Commission's accounts and for ensuring that the funds of the EEC were properly managed. The Commission's work was also supported by the European Court of Human Rights, which was created in 1958. The Court was responsible for ensuring that the rights of individuals were protected by the laws of the EEC. Next-Generation Memory and Ukrainian Canadian Children's Historical Fiction Mateusz Świetlicki,2023-03-24 This is the first book monograph devoted to Anglophone Ukrainian Canadian children s historical fiction published between 1991 and 2021 It consists of five chapters offering cross sectional and interdisciplinary readings of 41 books novels novellas picturebooks short stories and a graphic novel The first three chapters focus on texts about the complex process of becoming Ukrainian Canadian showcasing the experiences of the first two waves of Ukrainian immigration to Canada including encounters with Indigenous Peoples and the First World War Internment The last two chapters are devoted to the significance of the cultural memory of the Holodomor the Great Famine of 1932 1933 and the Second World War for Ukrainian Canadians All the chapters demonstrate the entanglements of Ukrainian and Canadian history and point to the role

Anglophone children's literature can play in preventing the symbolical seeds of memory from withering This volume argues that reading imagining and reimagining history can lead to the formation of beyond textual next generation memory Such memory created through reading is multidimensional as it involves the interpretation of both the present and the past by an individual whose reality has been directly or indirectly shaped by the past over which they have no influence Next generation memory is of anticipatory character which means that authors of historical fiction anticipate the readers both present day and future not to have direct links to any witnesses of the events they discuss and to have little knowledge of the transcultural character of the Ukrainian Canadian diaspora
