Decolonization in the Indian Ocean World Pamila Gupta, 2018-10-18 Pamila Gupta takes a unique approach to examining decolonization processes across Lusophone India and Southern Africa focusing on Goa Mozambique Angola and South Africa weaving together case studies using five interconnected themes Gupta considers decolonization through the twined lenses of history and ethnography accessed through written oral visual and eyewitness accounts of how people experienced the transfer of state power She looks at the materiality of decolonization as a movement of peoples across vast oceanic spaces demonstrating how it was a process of dispossession for both the Portuguese formerly in power and ordinary colonial citizens and subjects She then discusses the production of race and class anxieties during decolonization which took on a variety of forms but were often articulated through material objects The book aims to move beyond linear histories of colonial independence by connecting its various regions using the theme of decolonization offering a productive and new approach to writing post national histories and ethnographies Finally Gupta demonstrates the value of using different source materials to access narratives of decolonization analyzing the work of Mozambican photographer Ricardo Rangel and including lyrical prose and ethnographical observations Portuguese Decolonization in the Indian Ocean World provides a nuanced understanding of Lusophone decolonization revealing the perspectives of people who experienced it This book will be highly valuable for historians of the Indian Ocean world and decolonization but also those interested in ethnography diaspora studies and material culture Indigenous Creatures, Native Knowledges, and the Arts Wendy Woodward, Susan

McHugh, 2017-10-17 This volume illuminates how creative representations remain sites of ongoing struggles to engage with animals in indigenous epistemologies Traditionally imagined in relation to spiritual realms and the occult animals have always been more than primitive symbols of human relations Whether as animist gods familiars conduits to ancestors totems talismans or co creators of multispecies cosmologies animals act as vital players in the lives of cultures From early days in colonial contact zones through contemporary expressions in art film and literature the volume's unique emphasis on Southern Africa and North America historical loci of the greatest ranges of species and linguistic diversity help to situate how indigenous knowledges of human animal relations are being adapted to modern conditions of life shared across species lines

The Novel and Europe Andrew Hammond, 2016-10-05 This book examines the ways in which fiction has addressed the continent since the Second World War. Drawing on novelists from Europe and elsewhere the volume analyzes the literary response to seven dominant concerns: ideas of Europe, conflict, borders, empire, unification, migration and marginalization, offering a ground breaking study of how modern and contemporary writers have participated in the European debate. The sixteen essays view the chosen writers not as representatives of national literatures but as participants in transcontinental discussion that has occurred across borders, cultures and languages. In doing so the contributors raise questions about the forms of power operating across and radiating from Europe, challenging both the institutionalized divisions of the Cold War and the triumphalist narrative of continental unity currently being written in Brussels.

Postcolonial Literature and Challenges for the New Millennium Lucienne Loh, Malcolm Sen, 2017-10-02 This volume brings together an international range of postcolonial scholars to explore four distinct themes which are inherently interconnected within the globalised landscape of the early 21st century: China, Islamic fundamentalism, civil war and environmentalism. Through close reading a range of literary texts by writers drawn from across the globe these essays seek to emphasise the importance of literary aesthetics in situating the theoretical underpinnings and political motivations of postcolonial studies in the new millennium. Colonial legacies, especially in terms of structuring exploitative capitalist relations between countries and regions, are shown to persist in postcolonial nations in the form of global civil wars and systemic environmental waste. Chinese authoritarianism and the Indian picturesque represent less familiar forms of neo colonialism. These essays not only engage with established writers such as Salman Rushdie and Anita Desai, they also critically reflect on work by Nadeem Aslam, Mia Couto, Romesh Gunsekara, Bei Dao and Ma Jian. This book was originally published as a special issue of Textual Practice.
