Surveying The North A Photojournal Of Frank Swannell:

Surveying Northern British Columbia Jay Sherwood, Frank Cyril Swannell, 2004 Surveying Northern British Columbia sets out to recognize and celebrate Frank Swannell as British Columbia's most famous pioneer surveyor and his important place within the history of British Columbia Northern British Columbia Canoe Trips Laurel Archer, 2011-06-01 This first volume of the guidebook series Northern British Columbia Canoe Trips describes in detail eight northern BC paddling routes over eleven rivers and is designed to provide canoeists with all the information they require to plan a river trip appropriate to their skill level and special interests Each route includes a summary of the main attractions of the trip where to start and where to finish along the river trip length in days and kilometres required maps suggestions about when to go star ratings for difficulty and for historical and recreational value Northern British Columbia Canoe Trips Volume One covers numerous routes never documented in any publication before including the Taku Jennings Omineca and Gataga rivers among others as well as more well known favourites such as Fort Nelson and the Dease The book provides paddlers of all types with a variety of river trips to choose from based on comprehensive and comparative information as well as detailed and specific navigational notes to aid them along their chosen route Home to the Nechako June Wood, 2013 The people of the Nechako region are not unfamiliar with hardship environmental devastation and protecting what they hold dear June Wood chronicles the history of the Nechako River and its region covering the construction of the Kenney Dam which changed forever the flow of the river and its tributaries the controversial Kemano Completion Project which threatened to doom the river further still and the subsequent battles to protect the river and the communities affected by its altered flow She also delves into the aftermath of the devastating mountain pine beetle epidemic that severely harmed the economy of the region An active participant in many of the fights to protect the Nechako River Wood is one of the most qualified people to speak on behalf of the land she calls home She passionately introduces a river whose once forceful flow has been weakened to a mere trickle and sympathetically relays the harsh realities of environmental ruin both to the river and the forest through unnatural and natural causes while weaving in her personal narrative of the land that holds her heart History Matters Michael Riis-Christianson, 2022-08-19 Located in the geographic centre of British Columbia the Lakes District is a unique region with a fascinating backstory History Matters the first book published by the Lakes District Museum Society in a half century gives readers a glimpse into the lives of some of the heroes villains misfits and everyday people who have in the past called this region home In 2018 the Lakes District Museum Society began posting short stories and photographs about Burns Lake and surrounding communities on its social media page This book is a compilation those posts along with new material and never before seen photographs gleaned from the society's archives Want to know how an employee of the Yukon Telegraph spent his time What was a tie hacker's life like How did an unknown skier from Burns Lake make it to the 1932 Olympic Winter Games and a man many feel was the real life James Bond come to live in Colleymount History Matters answers these and other important questions In addition to touching and sometimes humorous tales of life in the Lakes District readers of this book will encounter thrilling stories of murder adventure international intrigue and even the supernatural This collection is a valuable contribution to the community s history and one that will fascinate anyone interested in the area its past or the European colonization of Western Canada Surveying Southern British Columbia Jay Sherwood,2014 Includes 150 photographs and Frank Swannell s courtship letters to Ada Driver Surveying Central British Columbia Jay Sherwood,2007 Frank Swannell contributed greatly to the shape of British Columbia by surveying and mapping large portions of the province over three decades He also took thousands of photographs and kept detailed journals of his travels In his second book on Swannell s adventures Jay Sherwood presents central BC through the eyes and words of one of BC s most famous surveyors Swannell photographed First Peoples settlers various methods of transportation and the daily life of a surveying crew Of about 1500 photographs he took between 1920 and 1928 Jay Sherwood has selected the best for this book Many have historical significance showing the changes beginning to occur in this largely wilderness region of central BC Surveying Central British Columbia is based primarily on Swannell s diaries and photographs It is supplemented by interviews with descendants of some members of Swannell s surveying crew research and the author s personal visits to several places where Swannell surveyed It includes database of Swannell s photographs online at the BC Archives

Images from the Likeness House Dan Savard,2010 On a winter s day in 1889 Tsimshian Chief Arthur Wellington Clah went to Hannah and Richard Maynard s photography studio in Victoria to give myself likeness In Images from the Likeness House Dan Savard explores the relationship between First Peoples in British Columbia Alaska and Washington and the photographers who made images of them from the late 1850s to the 1920s He gives examples of the great technological advancements that took place from wet glass plate to nitrate film negatives showing the images in their original state not cropped corrected or retouched This is not only an important book about photography but also a visual statement about perception and misperception cultural change and survival Images from the Likeness House will appeal to ethnographers photographers art lovers and anyone interested in the history of BC Alaska and Washington Return to Northern British Columbia Jay Sherwood,2010 In his third book on the adventures of Frank Swannell historian Jay Sherwood continues his account of one of BC s most famous surveyors The 1930s was the era of bush planes packers and riverboats in northern BC Swannell photographed them and recorded his experiences with some of BC s colourful characters including Skook Davidson who worked with Swannell for four seasons Swannell provides much valuable information about the life of Davidson before he started his famous Diamond J Ranch Return to Northern British Columbia includes a photo gallery of unpublished Skook Davidson photographs found in Swannell s photo albums Geomata ,2008 The Peace in Peril Christopher Pollon,2016-11-26 In the next decade a 60 metre high wall of compacted earth will stretch more than a kilometre across the main stem of the Peace River causing the waters behind it to swell into a 93 square kilometre artificial lake drowning the best topsoil left in the BC north The waters will swallow fifty islands and a valley that is home to farmers ranchers trappers and habitat to innumerable creatures big and small Over four days in late September 2015 Christopher Pollon paddled the 83 kilometre section of the river that will be destroyed by the Site C dam reservoir accompanied by photojournalist Ben Nelms Their goal was to witness the very first steps of construction for the almost 8.8 billion project the most expensive infrastructure project in BC history They concluded their trip by touring the same stretch by land interviewing and photographing the locals who stand to lose everything Equal parts travel adventure history and journalistic exploration The Peace in Peril is a story about the dubious trade off of hydro power for resources like timber and farmland but also far more the Peace valley has been a prosperous home to people for eleven thousand years How will lives human and otherwise be erased or irrevocably altered when the next great flood rises up to engulf the Peace River valley
