Surviving The Silence Black Womens Stories Of Rape:

Surviving the Silence Charlotte Pierce-Baker,2015-02-23 In this intelligent stunning and honest book Charlotte Pierce Baker weaves together the accounts of black women who have been raped and who have felt that they had to remain silent in order to protect themselves and their race It opens with the author s harrowing and courageous account of her rape and includes the stories of the author s own family s response plus the voices of black men who have supported rape survivors

Violence in the Lives of Black Women Carolyn West,2014-01-02 Break the silence surrounding Black women s experiences of violence Written from a Black feminist perspective by therapists researchers activists and survivors Violence in the Lives of Black Women Battered Black and Blue sheds new light on an understudied field For too long Black women have been suffering the effects of violence in painful silence This bookwinner of the Carolyn Payton Early Career Award for its contribution to the understanding of the role of gender in the lives of Black womenprovides a forum where personal testimony and academic research meet to show you how living at the intersection of many kinds of oppression shapes the lives of Black women With moving case studies in depth discussions of activism and resistance and helpful suggestions for treatment and intervention this book will help you understand the impact of violence on the lives of Black women Topics you ll find in Violence in the Lives of Black Women include using the arts to deal with sexual aggression in the Black community racial aspects of sexual harassment the consequences of head and brain injuries stemming from abuse domestic violence in African American lesbian relationships strategies Black women use to escape violent living situations lifelong effects of childhood sexual abuse on Black women s mental health references and resources to help you learn more Beyond

Slavery B. Brooten,2010-10-25 This book looks at a United States that continues to be driven by racial and cultural divisions from the disproportionately high number of incarcerated African Americans to heartfelt disagreements over the true nature of marriage and the proper role of faith in public policy Spiritual Healing from Sexual Violence Debra Meyers,Mary Sue Barnett,2023-05-18

Spiritual Healing from Sexual Violence An Intersectional Guide is a collection of essays from survivors scholars activists spiritual leaders and social justice practitioners that offers numerous intersectional and culturally competent options for women men and non binary conforming adults to create their own safe healing conditions and establish pathways for recovery These chapters provide a wide range of survival stories that raise awareness of the issues involved in healing after sexual assault and also provide inspiration for reforming negative societal issues and patterns In a classroom setting these chapters deliver both the culturally grounded knowledge and the skillsets necessary for recovery This is a vital guide for students and practitioners in counseling social work theology and gender studies Katie's Canon Katie Geneva Cannon,2021-11-23 Katie s Canon is a selection of essays written for a variety of occasions throughout Cannon s celebrated career This new edition contains three additional essays and a new foreword by Emilee Townes The volume weaves together the particularities of Cannon s own history and the oral tradition of African American women African

American women's literary traditions and sociocultural and ethical analysis The result is a classic Cannon addresses racism and economics analyses of Zora Neale Hurston as a resource for a constructive ethic the importance of race and gender in the development of a Black liberation ethic womanist preaching in the Black church and slave ideology and biblical interpretation

Knowing What We Know Gail Garfield, 2005-09-06 In recent years there has been an attempt by activists service providers and feminists to think about violence against women in more inclusive ways In Knowing What We Know activist and sociologist Gail Garfield argues that this effort has not gone far enough and that in order to understand violence we must take the lived experiences of African American women seriously Doing so she cautions goes far beyond simply adding voices of black women to existing academic and activist discourses but rather requires a radical shift in our knowledge of these women's lives and the rhetoric used to describe them Bringing together a series of life history interviews with nine women this unique study urges a departure from established approaches that position women as victims of exclusively male violence Instead Garfield explores what happens when women's ability to make decisions and act upon those choices comes into conflict with cultural and social constraints Chapters explore how women experience racialized or class based violence how these forms of violence are related to gendered violence and what these violations mean to a woman's sense of identity By showing how women maintain sustain and in some instances regain their sense of human worth as a result of their experiences of violation Garfield complicates the existing dialogue on violence against women in new and important ways

Burying Don Imus Michael Awkward, 2009 In Burying Don Imus Michael Awkward provides the first balanced critical analysis of Imus's comments on the Rutgers women's basketball team and the public outrage they provoked Written from the singular perspective of a black intellectual with both a long standing commitment to feminism and a deep familiarity with and appreciation of Imus in the Morning this book contends that the reaction to the insult ignored the nature of Imus's contributions to popular culture and political debate while eliding the real and complicated issues within contemporary racial politics

Thriving in the Wake of Trauma Thema Bryant-Davis, 2008-02-08 Thema Bryant Davis examines the cultural issues that health care professionals need to consider in caring for trauma survivors

Obscene Pedagogies Carissa M. Harris, 2018-12-15 In Obscene Pedagogies Carissa M Harris investigates the relationship between obscenity gender and pedagogy in Middle English and Middle Scots literary texts from 1300 to 1580 to show how sexually explicit and defiantly vulgar speech taught readers and listeners about sexual behavior and consent Through innovative close readings of literary texts including erotic lyrics single woman's songs debate poems between men and women Scottish insult poetry battles and The Canterbury Tales Harris demonstrates how through its transgressive charge and galvanizing shock value obscenity taught audiences about gender sex pleasure and power in ways both positive and harmful Harris's own voice proudly witty and sharply polemical inspires the reader to address these medieval texts with an eye on contemporary issues of gender violence and misogyny

Moving in the Shadows Liz Kelly, Yasmin Rehman, Hannana Siddiqui, 2016-04-15 In the UK the number of people who came from a minority ethnic group grew by 53 per cent between 1991 and 2001 from 3.0 million in 1991 to 4.6 million in 2001. Whilst much has been written about the impact of these demographic changes in relation to policy issues, black and minority women and children remain under researched. Recent publications have tended to focus on South Asian women, forced marriage and honour related violence. Moving in the Shadows brings together for the first time in a single volume an examination of violence against women and children within the diverse communities of the UK. Its strength lies in its gendered focus as well as its understanding of the need for an integrated approach to all forms of violence against women whilst foregrounding the experiences of minority women, the communities they are part of and the organizations which have advocated for their rights and given them voice. The chapters contained within this volume explore a set of core themes: the forms and contexts of violence; minority women experience the continuum of violence; the role of culture and faith in the control of women and girls; the types of intervention within multi cultural and social cohesion policies; the impacts of violence on British born and migrant women and girls; and the intersection of race, class, gender and sexuality highlighting issues of similarity and difference. Taken together they provide a valuable resource for scholars, students, activists, social workers and policy makers working in the field.
