and commercial centers The program thus underestimated the values enshrined in the materials and designs of Luanda s existing informally constructed neighborhoods or musseques The Aesthetics of Belonging explores the political significance of aesthetics in the remaking of the city Claudia Gastrow s archival and ethnographic work which includes interviews with city planners architects nonprofit leaders and urban dwellers shows how government infrastructure projects and foreign inspired designs came to embody displacement and exclusion for many This Gastrow argues catalyzed a countermovement an aesthetic dissent rooted in critically reframing informal urbanism as Indigenous a move that enabled the possibility of recognizing the political potential of informal settlements as spaces that produce belonging Kongo in the Age of Empire, 1860-1913 Jelmer Vos,2015 An insightful look at the onset of colonialism in Central Africa from economic religious and political perspectives examining the ultimately tragic participation of African elites in colonial rule Shaping the African Savannah Michael Bolig,2020-07-02 A history of 150 years of social ecological transformations in the arid savannah landscape of Namibia Historical Dictionary of Slavery and Abolition Martin A. Curto,2003-12-01 Long recognized as having played many important roles in the slave export trade of western Africa foreign alcohol and its various functions within this context have nevertheless escaped systematic analysis This volume focuses on the topic at Luanda and its Hinterland where the connections between foreign alcohol and the slave export trade reached their zenith Here following the mid 1500s an extremely close relationship developed between imported intoxicants and slaves exported by the thousands in any given year into the Atlantic World first fortified Portuguese wine and following 1650 Brazilian rum emerged as crucial trade goods for the acquisition of slaves But the significance of Luso Brazilian intoxicants goes far beyond this singular fact they also served a number of other functions some of which were directly tied to slave trading and others indirectly underpinned the business The volume addresses the problem of alcohol in African history historicizes indigenous alcoholic beverages in West Central Africa at the time of contact analyzes the introduction and increasing use of foreign intoxicants for the acquisition of exportable slaves ponders the profits that such transactions generated within the Atlantic world reconstructs the other uses of imported alcohol in directly and indirectly underpinning the export slave trade of Luanda and assesses the impact of foreign alcohol upon West Central African consumers

Transformations in Slavery Paul E. Lovejoy,2011-10-10 This history of African slavery from the fifteenth to the early twentieth centuries examines how indigenous African slavery developed within an international context Paul E Lovejoy discusses the medieval Islamic slave trade and the Atlantic trade as well as the enslavement process and the marketing of slaves He considers the impact of European abolition and assesses slavery's role in African history The book corrects the accepted interpretation that African slavery was mild and resulted in the slaves' assimilation Instead slaves were used extensively in production although the exploitation methods and the relationships to world markets differed from those in the Americas Nevertheless slavery in Africa like slavery in the Americas developed from its position on the periphery of capitalist Europe This new edition revises all statistical material on the slave trade demography and incorporates recent research and an updated bibliography Africa and the Africans in the Nineteenth Century: A Turbulent History Catherine Coquery-Vidrovitch, Mary Baker, 2015-02-12 Most histories seek to understand modern Africa as a troubled outcome of nineteenth century European colonialism but that is only a small part of the story In this celebrated book beautifully translated from the French edition the history of Africa in the nineteenth century unfolds from the perspective of Africans themselves rather than the European powers It was above all a time of tremendous internal change on the African continent Great jihads of Muslim conquest and conversion swept over West Africa In the interior warlords competed to control the internal slave trade In the east the sultanate of Zanzibar extended its reach via coastal and interior trade routes In the north Egypt began to modernize while Algeria was colonized In the south a series of forced migrations accelerated spurred by the progression of white settlement Through much of the century African societies assimilated and adapted to the changes generated by these diverse forces In the end the West's technological advantage prevailed and most of Africa fell under European control and lost its independence Yet only by taking into account the rich complexity of this tumultuous past can we fully understand modern Africa from the colonial period to independence and the difficulties of today An African Slaving Port and the Atlantic World Mariana Candido, 2013-03-29 This book traces the history and development of the port of Benguela on the coast of Africa from the early seventeenth to the mid nineteenth century UNESCO General History of Africa, Vol. VI, Abridged Edition J. F. Ade Ajayi, 1998-07 Volume VI of this acclaimed series is now available in an abridged paperback edition The result of years of work by scholars from all over the world The UNESCO General History of Africa reflects how the different peoples of Africa view their civilizations and shows the historical relationships between the various parts of the continent Historical connections with other continents demonstrate Africa's contribution to the development of human civilization Each volume is lavishly illustrated and contains a comprehensive bibliography Volume VI covers the period from the beginning of the nineteenth century to the onset of the European scramble for colonial territory in the 1880s In spite of a growing European commercial religious and political presence during the first three quarters of the century outside influences were felt indirectly by most African societies and they made a number of culturally distinctive attempts to modernize expand and develop These are detailed in four thematic chapters twenty three chapters detailing developments in specific areas and two concluding chapters tracing the African diaspora and assessing the state of the Continent's political economic and cultural development on the eve of the European conquest The Borders of Race in Colonial South Africa Robert Ross, 2014 This is the detailed narrative of the Kat River

Settlement which was located on the border between the Cape Colony and the amaXhosa in the Eastern Cape of South Africa during the nineteenth century The settlement created a fertile landscape in the valley and developed a political theology of great political and racial importance to the evolution of the Cape and of South Africa as a whole
