programs like VONA the Loft and the Stonecoast MFA with A Stranger's Journey David Mura has written a book on creative writing that addresses our increasingly diverse American literature Mura argues for a more inclusive and expansive definition of craft particularly in relationship to race even as he elucidates timeless rules of narrative construction in fiction and memoir His essays offer technique focused readings of writers such as James Baldwin ZZ Packer Maxine Hong Kingston Mary Karr and Garrett Hongo while making compelling connections to Mura's own life and work as a Japanese American writer In A Stranger's Journey Mura poses two central questions The first involves identity How is writing an exploration of who one is and one's place in the world Mura examines how the myriad identities in our changing contemporary canon have led to new challenges regarding both craft and pedagogy Here like Toni Morrison's Playing in the Dark or Jeff Chang's Who We Be A Stranger's Journey breaks new ground in our understanding of the relationship between the issues of race literature and culture The book's second central question involves structure How does one tell a story Mura provides clear insightful narrative tools that any writer may use taking in techniques from fiction screenplays playwriting and myth Through this process Mura candidly explores the newly evolved aesthetic principles of memoir and how questions of identity occupy a central place in contemporary memoir

The Leucothea Dialogues Cesare Pavese, 2025-10-14 A shifting primordial work by Cesare Pavese plumbing the netherworlds of philosophy myth human feeling and mortality Above all Pavese's novels are works of an extraordinary depth where one never stops finding new levels new meanings Each one of Pavese's novels revolves around a hidden theme something unsaid which is the real thing he wants to say Italo Calvino Cesare Pavese's The Leucothea Dialogues is peopled with gods centaurs clouds poets hunters snakes and nymphs These are the beings who spoke to him through the ancient plays and poems he read in primary school Here they speak again in the twenty seven dialogues that form the novel Pavese calls mythology a hothouse of symbols His hothouse is liveliest at night in the peculiar clarity of darkness Pavese's characters are more than characters they play like the dreams of earliest childhood they pose questions that seem to travel through the minds of the dead to the minds of the living and back again Through reeds shadows glens fields of blazing straw homes and villages on the edges of valleys and over cliffs we follow their harried stories In Minna Zallman Proctor's radiant translation The Leucothea Dialogues is an expression of an exhilarating intelligence Sleeping with a Stranger Shantel Christie, 2022 This book is dedicated to all the people who fell in love with someone but at the end it wasn't what you thought it will be *The Stranger's Guide and Reference Book to the City of Saint Paul ...
