

A person is fishing in a lake at sunset. The sky is filled with soft, pinkish clouds, and the sun is low on the horizon, casting a warm glow. The mountains in the background are silhouetted against the sky. The water in the lake is calm, reflecting the sky and the mountains. A large, semi-transparent text box is overlaid on the center of the image, containing a quote. The text is white and reads: "The page is slowly turned, falls over to join the others, the ones already finished. It is still only a thin layer. Those still to be read are inexhaustible in comparison. But it is always another page finished, a portion of your life." The name "Dino Buzzati" is written in a small, pink box below the quote. At the bottom center, there is a small logo for "austriac" with a globe icon.

The page is slowly turned, falls over to join the others, the ones already finished. It is still only a thin layer. Those still to be read are inexhaustible in comparison. But it is always another page finished, a portion of your life.
