Slash and Burn William John Peters, Leon F. Neuenschwander, 1988 Sediment Records of Biomass Burning and Global Change James S. Clark, Helene Cachier, Johann G. Goldammer, Brian J. Stocks, 2013-06-29 Biomass burning profoundly affects atmospheric chemistry the carbon cycle and climate and may have done so for millions of years Bringing together renowned experts from paleoecology fire ecology atmospheric chemistry and organic chemistry the volume elucidates the role of fire during global changes of the past and future Topics covered include the characterization of combustion products that occur in sediments including char soot fly ash and polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons the calibration of these constituents against atmospheric measurements from wildland and prescribed fire emissions spatial and temporal patterns in combustion emissions at scales of individual burns to the globe

From Fires to Oceans: Dynamics of Fire-Derived Organic Matter in Terrestrial and Aquatic Ecosystems Samuel Abiven, Cristina Santín, 2019-05-09 Fire derived organic matter also known as pyrogenic carbon PyC is ubiquitous on Earth It can be found in soils sediments water and air In this wide range of environments fire derived organic matter represents a key component of the organic matter pool and in many cases the largest identifiable group of organic compounds PyC is also one of the most persistent organic matter fractions in the ecosystems and its study is therefore particularly relevant for the global carbon cycle From its production during vegetation fires to its transfer into soils sediments and waters PyC goes through different transformations both abiotic and biotic Contrary to early assumptions PyC is not inert and interacts strongly with the environment evidence of microbial decomposition oxidation patterns and interactions with minerals have been described in different matrices PyC travels across these different environments and it is modified chemically and physically but remains persistent This Research Topic explores important questions in our understanding of fire derived organic matter from the characterization and quantification of PyC components to the transformation and mobilization processes taking place on terrestrial and aquatic ecosystems The studies compiled here provide novel and often unexpected results They all answer some of the questions posed and more importantly provide scope for many more

Tropical Forests and Their Crops Nigel J. H. Smith, J. T. Williams, Donald L. Plucknett, Jennifer P. Talbot, 2018-05-31 The tropics are the source of many of our familiar fruits vegetables oils and spice as well as such commodities as rubber and wood Moreover other tropical fruits and vegetables are being introduced into our markets to offer variety to our diet Now as tropical forests are increasingly threatened we face a double fold crisis not only the loss of the plants but also rich pools of potentially useful genes Wild populations of crop plants harbor genes that can improve the productivity and disease resistance of cultivated crops many of which are vital to developing economies and to global commerce Eight chapters of this book are devoted to a variety of tropical crops beverages fruit starch oil resins fuelwood fodder spices timber and nuts the history of their domestication their uses today and the known extent of their gene pools both domesticated and wild Drawing on broad research the authors also consider conservation strategies such as parks and reserves corporate holdings gene banks and tissue culture collections and debt for nature swaps They stress the need for a sensitive balance between conservation and the economic well being of local populations If economic growth is part of the conservation effort local populations and governments will be more strongly motivated to save their natural resources Distinctly practical and soundly informative this book provides insight into the overwhelming abundance of tropical forests an unsettling sense of what we may lose if they are destroyed and a deep appreciation for the delicate relationships between tropical forest plants and people around the world Tropical Forest Biomes Barbara A. Holzman, 2008-09-30 This volume in the Greenwood Guides to Biomes of the World series covers the lush beautiful and rapidly shrinking tropical forest biomes The volume covers the two major tropic forest biomes tropical rainforests and tropical seasonal forests Proceedings of the Session on Tropical Forestry for People of the Pacific, XVII Pacific Science Congress, May 27-28, 1991, Honolulu, Hawaii, 1992 Tropical Fire Ecology Mark Cochrane, 2010-04-11 The tropics are home to most of the world's biodiversity and are currently the frontier for human settlement Tropical ecosystems are being converted to agricultural and other land uses at unprecedented rates Land conversion and maintenance almost always rely on fire and because of this fire is now more prevalent in the tropics than anywhere else on Earth Despite pervasive fire human settlement and threatened biodiversity there is little comprehensive information available on fire and its effects in tropical ecosystems Tropical deforestation especially in rainforests has been widely documented for many years Forests are cut down and allowed to dry before being burned to remove biomass and release nutrients to grow crops However fires do not always stop at the borders of cleared forests Tremendously damaging fires are increasingly spreading into forests that were never evolutionarily prepared for wild fires The largest fires on the planet in recent decades have occurred in tropical forests and burned millions of hectares in several countries The numerous ecosystems of the tropics have differing levels of fire resistance resilience or dependence At present there is little appreciation of the seriousness of the wild fire situation in tropical rainforests but there is even less understanding of the role that fire plays in the ecology of many fire adapted tropical ecosystems such as savannas grasslands and other forest types Dynamic and Stochastic Approaches to the Environment and Economic Development Amitrajeet A. Batabyal, 2008 This book is a collection of Amitrajeet A Batabyal's most important papers on the environment and economic development This book's uniqueness stems from the fact that it uses novel modeling tools that are largely unfamiliar to economists to shed valuable light on contemporary problems at the interface of the environment and economic development The Causes of Tropical Deforestation Katrina Brown, David W. Pearce, 2023-05-26 The Causes of Tropical Deforestation 1994 is an analysis of the problem of deforestation using statistical technique a form of econometrics to discover the true causes of an issue whose basis is hotly debated and attributed to causes as varied as poverty external debt multinational logging companies government corruption the IMF population growth and non sustainable agriculture Surveying

Marbled Murrelets at Inland Forested Sites ,1990 The Stork and the Plow Paul R. Ehrlich, Anne H. Ehrlich, Gretchen C. Daily, 1997-01-01 In this provocative book the authors look at the interaction between population and food supply and offer a powerful and radical strategy for balancing human numbers with nutritional needs Their proposals include improving the status of women reducing racism and religious prejudice reforming the agricultural system and shrinking the growing gap between rich and poor This ambitious enlightened handbook is a cornucopia of strategies and ideas for concerned citizens and policymakers Publishers Weekly Give equal education and power to women throughout the world argue the authors when that happens birth rates fall and food supplies go up San Francisco Chronicle Best Bets of 1995 The book can help us understand the past and possible future of the meals most Westerners take for granted Bill McKibben New York Review of Books A well reasoned account of how poverty forces unsustainable use of natural resources a careful and balanced treatment of developments in agriculture that may help food production to stay ahead of population growth Basia Zaba Nature This generation faces a set of challenges unprecedented in their scope and severity and in the shortness of time left to resolve them The Stork and the Plow sets these out thoughtfully and accurately We can all hope this urgent message is carefully heeded Henry W Kendall Nobel laureate and Julius A Stratton Professor of Physics MIT A wonderful piece of work Partha Dasgupta American Scientist Tropical Forests and Climate N. Myers, 2013-06-29 Tropical forests affect climate and the removal of the forests will change climate Or not This book discusses basic questions on how far if at all tropical deforestation leads to climatic change The question of this uncertainty is particularly addressed One important consequence of the uncertainties of whether deforestation affects climate is how scientific findings best illuminate the policy making process World Fire Stephen J. Pyne, 2014-07-01 Back in Print World Fire is the story of how fire and humans have coevolved The two are inseparable and together they have repeatedly remade the planet Pyne considers the evolution of fire in such diverse regions as Australia Africa Brazil Sweden Greece Iberia Russia and India and then ponders Antarctica the land without fire As he examines changing techniques for and attitudes toward fire control Pyne challenges our concepts of nature and wilderness and explains why the study and management of fire have tremendous environmental cultural and political implications Booklist A sweeping historical treatise that examines our world's love-hate relationship with conflagration His engrossing ideas leave bright embers in the memory Outside Methods For Social Analysis In Developing Countries Kurt Finsterbusch, 2019-04-05 This book fills the gap between social science methodology books and the realities of conducting social research under Third World conditions It focuses on social impact assessment methods and cost effective social analyses for development projects and programs in US and Third World countries Population Growth, Shifting Cultivation, and Unsustainable Agricultural Development Andrew Keck, Narendra P.
