The Snake Country expedition of 1830-1831 John Work, Francis D. Haines, 1971 The Snake Country Expedition of 1830-1831 John Work, Contested Empire John Phillip Reid, 2002 Do law and legal procedures exist only so long as there is an official authority to enforce them Or do we have an unspoken sense of law and ethics To answer these questions John Phillip Reid's Contested Empire explores the implicit notions of law shared by American and British fur traders in the Snake River country of Idaho and surrounding areas in the early nineteenth century Both the United States and Great Britain had claimed this region and passions were intense Focusing mainly on Canadian explorer and trader Peter Skene Ogden Reid finds that both side largely avoided violence and other difficulties because they held the same definitions of property contract conversion and possession In 1824 the Hudson's Bay Company directed Ogden to decimate the furbearing animal population of the Snake River country thus marking the region a fur desert With this mandate Great Britain hoped to neutralize any interest American furtrappers could have in the area Such a mandate set British and American fur men on a collision course but Ogden and his American counterparts implicitly followed a kind of law and procedure and observed a mutual sense of property and rights even as the two sides vied for control of the fur trade Failing to take legal culture into consideration some previous accounts have depicted these conflicts as mere episodes of lawless frontier violence Reid expands our understanding of the West by considering the unspoken sense of law that existed despite the lack of any formalized authorities in what had otherwise been considered a lawless time Southwestern Idaho, Class I Cultural Resources Overview, 1982 Southwestern Idaho, class I cultural resources overview, for the Bureau of Land Management, Boise and Shoshone District, Idaho ; submitted by Professional Analysts, 1982 Southeastern Idaho, Cultural Resources Overview, Burley and Idaho Falls Districts John G. The Old Oregon Country Oscar Osburn Winther, 1950-01-01 The Pacific Northwest the old Oregon country was one of the most remote and inaccessible frontier areas but it was also known to be rich in natural resources The opening up of this region is a story of courage endurance and pioneer enterprise Transportation in this rugged country was a problem to the settlers who would promote commerce and travel just as it was a problem to the earlier fur traders The construction of roads and development of water routes progressed through the years until the railroad finally came to the Northwest but at no time did the scarcity of roads prevent settlers from pushing back the frontier Here the whole story of travel and travelers in this region is told for the first time The book is based largely on primary sources and as such is a contribution to history As an account of courage and ingenuity transportation monopoly against transportation monopoly and man versus nature it is fascinating reading University Professor of History at Indiana University O O Winther is the author of Express and Stagecoach Days in California and Via Western Express and Stagecoach
