Social and Political Change in Literature and Film Richard Chapple, 1994      African Pasts, Presents, and Futures Touria Khannous, 2013-10-17 African Pasts Presents and Futures Generational Shifts in African Women's Literature Film and Internet Discourse by Touria Khannous provides a history of African women's cultural production as well as an alternative approach to the arguments that have traditionally dominated post colonial studies in general and African and gender studies in particular It examines some of the more overarching questions that are prevalent in the works of African women authors who position themselves within the contexts of Islam feminism nationalism modernity and global and postcolonial politics thus engaging in the construction of socio political platforms for reform in their home countries The book explores different aspects of women's agency at the political cultural social religious and aesthetic level and highlights their civil society activism and push for legal reform It also traces their opinions on a range of social and political questions and underscores fundamental shifts in their positions and concerns through the different generations      Political Change and Public Culture in Post-1990 Nepal Michael J. Hutt, Pratyoush Onta, 2017 This book explores various domains of the Nepali public sphere in which ideas about democracy and citizenship have been debated and contested since 1990 It investigates the ways in which the public meaning of the major political and sociocultural changes that occurred in Nepal between 1990 and 2013 was constructed conveyed and consumed These changes took place against the backdrop of an enormous growth in literacy the proliferation of print and broadcast media the emergence of a public discourse on human rights and the vigorous reassertion of linguistic ethnic and regional identities Scholars from a range of different disciplinary locations delve into debates on rumours ethnicity and identity activism and gender to provide empirically grounded histories of the nation during one of its most important political transitions      Film in Contemporary Southeast Asia David C. L. Lim, Hiroyuki Yamamoto, 2012-03-12 This book discusses contemporary film in all the main countries of Southeast Asia and the social practices and ideologies which films either represent or oppose It shows how film acquires signification through cultural interpretation and how film also serves as a site of contestations between social and political agents seeking to promote challenge or erase certain meanings messages or ideas from public circulation A unique feature of the book is that it focuses as much on films as it does on the societies from which these films emerge it considers the reasons for film makers taking the positions they take the positions and counter positions taken the response of different communities and the extent to which these interventions are connected to global flows of culture and capital The wide range of subjects covered include documentaries as political interventions in Singapore political film makers collectives in the Philippines and films about prostitution in Cambodia and patriotism in Malaysia and the Chinese in Indonesia The book analyses films from Burma Laos Cambodia Vietnam Thailand Malaysia Singapore Indonesia and the Philippines across a broad range of productions such as mainstream and independent features across genres for example comedy patriotic political historical genres alongside documentary classic and diasporic films Chapter 7 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Women's Narrative and Film in 20th Century Spain Kathleen Glenn, 2017-09-25 Women s Narrative and Film in 20th Century Spain examines the development of the feminine cultural tradition in Spain and how this tradition reshaped and defined a Spanish national identity Each chapter focuses on representation of autobiography alienation and exile marginality race eroticism political activism and feminism within the ever changing nationalisms in different regions of Spain The book describes how concepts of gender and difference shaped the individual collective and national identities of Spanish women and significantly modified the meaning and representation of female sexuality

Subterranean Imaginaries and Groundwater Narratives Deborah Wardle, 2023-10-04 This book interrogates the problems of how and why largely unseen matter in this case groundwater has found limited expression in climate fiction It explores key considerations for writing groundwater narratives in the Anthropocene The book investigates a unique selection of climate fiction alongside an exploration of hydrosocial environmental humanities through a focus on groundwater and groundwater narratives Providing eco critical analysis with creative fiction and non fiction excerpts interwoven throughout and drawing on Indigenous Australian and Australian settler novels and poems alongside European American and Japanese texts the book illuminates the processes of storying with subterranean waters their facts uncertainties potencies and vulnerabilities In a time when the water crisis in an Australian and worldwide context is escalating in response to global warming giving voice to the complexities of groundwater extraction and pollution is vital Drawing from non representational posthumanist and feminist perspectives the book provides an important contribution to transnational comparative climate fiction analysis enabling an interdisciplinary exchange between hydrogeological science and the eco humanities This book is an engaging read for scholars and students in creative writing environmental humanities cultural and post colonial studies Australian studies and eco critical literary studies Writers and thinkers addressing the problems of the Anthropocene are called to pay attention to the importance of subterranean imaginaries and groundwater narratives

The Gun and Irish Politics Raita Merivirta,2009 In the 1990s Irish society was changing and becoming increasingly international due to the rise of the Celtic Tiger At the same time the ongoing peace process in Northern Ireland also fuelled debates on the definition of Irishness which in turn seemed to call for a critical examination of the birth of the Irish State as well as a rethinking and re assessment of the nationalist past Neil Jordan s Michael Collins 1996 the most commercially successful and talked about Irish film of the 1990s was a timely contributor to this process In providing a large scale representation of the 1916 1922 period Michael Collins became the subject of critical and popular controversy demonstrating that cinema could play a part in this cultural reimagining of Ireland Locating the film in both its historical and its cinematic context this book explores the depiction of events in Michael Collins and the film s participation in the process of reimagining Irishness through its public reception The portrayal of the key figures of Michael Collins and Eamon de Valera comes under special scrutiny as the author assesses this pivotal piece of Irish history on screen

Sociology and Statistics in Britain, 1833-1979 Plamena Panayotova,2020-09-28 At the beginning of the twentieth century Britain stood at the forefront of science and statistics and had a long and respected tradition of social investigation and reform But it still did not yet have a science of society When in the early 1900s a small band of enthusiasts got together to address this situation the scene was set for a grand synthesis No such synthesis ever took place and instead British sociology has followed a resolutely non statistical path Sociology and Statistics in Britain 1833 1979 investigates how this curious situation came about and attempts to explain it from an historical perspective It uncovers the prevalence of a deep and instinctive distrust within British sociology of the statistical methodology and mindset resulting in a mix of quiet indifference and active hostility which has persisted from its beginnings right up to the present day While British sociology has thrived institutionally since the post war expansion of higher education this book asks whether or not it is poorer for having failed to recognise that statistics provides the foundations for the scientific study of society and for having missed opportunities to build upon those foundations Ultimately this important revealing and timely book is about British sociology s refusal to come to grips with a modern scientific way of thinking which no discipline that aspires to an effective study of society can afford to ignore
