The Song of Songs in the Early Middle Ages Hannah W. Matis, 2019-01-28 In The Song of Songs in the Early Middle Ages Hannah W. Matis examines how the Song of Songs the collection of Hebrew love poetry was understood in the Latin West as an allegory of Christ and the church This reading of the biblical text was passed down via the patristic tradition established by the Venerable Bede and promoted by the chief architects of the Carolingian reform Throughout the ninth century the Song of Songs became a text that Carolingian churchmen used to think about the nature of Christ and to conceptualize their own roles and duties within the church This study examines the many different

Borror, 1984-06-01 Songs of 60 species of birds common to Eastern United States and parts of Canada All recordings made in the field The Song of Songs Dianne Bergant, 2001 This commentary views the Song of Songs as a collection of love poems that pays tribute to mutual love and it carefully examines features of Hebrew poetry in order to uncover the delicacy of their expression It is unique in the attention that it gives to the obvious feminine perspective of the poems and to their ecosensitive character Whether it is the woman in awe of the strength and splendor of her lover or the man praising her physical charms the descriptions all call on elements from the natural world to characterize the feature being described
