Adam Johnstone's Son Francis Marion Crawford, 1896      Connecting with Reluctant Teen Readers Patrick Jones, Maureen L. Hartman, Patricia Taylor, 2006 A practical guide to defining and attracting reluctant readers is divided into three parts Tips That Work Titles That Work and Tools That Work      Letters from a Self-made Merchant to His Son George Horace Lorimer, 1903      The Human Satan in Seventeenth-Century English Literature Dr Nancy Rosenfeld, 2013-04-28

Framed by an understanding that the very concept of what defines the human is often influenced by Renaissance and early modern texts this book establishes the beginning of the literary development of the satanic form into a humanized form in the seventeenth century This development is centered on characters and poetry of four seventeenth century writers the Satan character in John Milton's Paradise Lost and Paradise Regained the Tempter in John Bunyan's Grace Abounding to the Chief of Sinners and Diabolus in Bunyan's The Holy War the poetry of John Wilmot earl of Rochester and Dorimant in George Etherege's Man of Mode The initial understanding of this development is through a sequential reading of Milton and Bunyan which examines the Satan character as an archetype in the making building upon each to work so that the character metamorphoses from a groveling serpent and fallen archangel to a humanized form embodying the human impulses necessary to commit evil Rosenfeld then argues that this development continues in Restoration literature showing that both Rochester and Etherege build upon their literary predecessors to develop the satanic figure towards greater humanity Ultimately she demonstrates that these writers taken collectively have imbued Satan with the characteristics that define the human This book includes as an epilogue a discussion of Samson in Milton's Samson Agonistes as a later seventeenth century avatar of the humanized satanic form providing an example for understanding a stock literary character in the light of early modern texts

Interrupted Narratives and Intersectional Representations in Italian Postcolonial Literature

Caterina Romeo,2023-01-17 This book argues for the importance of adopting a postcolonial perspective in analysing contemporary Italian culture and literature Originally published in Italian in 2018 as Riscrivere la nazione La letteratura italiana postcoloniale this new English translation brings to light the connections between the present the colonial past and the great historical waves of international and intranational migration By doing so the book shows how a sense of Italian national identity emerged at least in part as the result of different migrations and why there is such a strong resistance in Italy to extending the privilege of Italianity or Italianness to those who have arrived on Italian soil in recent years Exploring over 100 texts written by migrant and second generation writers the book takes an intersectional approach to understanding gender and race in Italian identity It connects these literary and cultural contexts to the Italian colonial past while also looking outwards to a more diffuse postcolonial condition in Europe Letters to His Son Philip Dormer Stanhope of Chesterfield,1918 A Dictionary of Urdū, Classical Hindī, and English John Thompson Platts,1911 The Publisher
