Summer Of Betrayal A Novel:

Summer of Betrayal Ying Hong, 1997 In the early hours of the morning following the massacre in Tiananmen Square a young poet Lin Ying flees the bullets tanks and soldiers When finally she arrives at the flat she shares with her lover Chen Yu she finds him in bed with his estranged wife

A Novel Summer Jamie Brenner, 2024-07-16 The perfect summer beach read Rival bookshops second chance romance friend drama it was the perfect book to curl up and escape to the Cape Pamela Kelley bestselling author of Bookshop by the Bay A bestselling author finds love and second chances in the stacks of a quaint beach town bookshop Author Shelby Archer found inspiration for her first novel while living on the picturesque shores of Provincetown on Cape Cod When she comes to the town to celebrate her new bestseller she is expecting a warm homecoming But instead she is confronted with the cold shoulders of friends and neighbors who feel exposed and betrayed Heartbroken Shelby tries to move on and focus on her next novel But then an unexpected call comes her dear friend who owns the beloved Land's End bookshop needs help for the summer Shelby reluctantly returns to the Cape to manage the store Back at the beach Shelby sets her focus on the tiny seaside shop getting lost in the shelves of steamy romance novels and dusty classics and trying to right the wrongs of her past With every page turned and every customer served Shelby comes closer to gaining back the trust of those she hurt But as her manuscript deadline nears she is again forced to choose between her own success and a second chance at love and belonging

A History of Pain Michael Berry, 2011 This work probes the restaging representation and reimagining of historical violence and atrocity in contemporary Chinese fiction film and popular culture It examines five historical moments including the Musha Incident 1930 and the February 28 Incident 1947

Women Writers in Postsocialist China Kay Schaffer, Xianlin Song, 2013-07-31 What does it mean to read from elsewhere Women Writers in Postsocialist China introduces readers to a range and variety of contemporary Chinese women's writing which has seen phenomenal growth in recent years The book addresses the different ways women's issues are understood in China and the West attending to the processes of translation adaptation and the grafting of new ideas with existing Chinese understandings of gender feminism subjectivity consumerism and post modernism By focusing on women's autobiographical biographical fictional and historical writing the book engages in a transcultural flow of ideas between western and indigenous Chinese feminisms Taking account of the accretions of social cultural geographic literary economic and political movements and trends cultural formations and ways of thinking it asks how the texts and the concepts they negotiate might be understood in the social and cultural spaces within China and how they might be interpreted differently elsewhere in the global locations in which they circulate The book argues that women centred writing in China has a direct bearing on global feminist theory and practice This critical study of selected genres and writers highlights the shifts in feminist perspectives within contemporary local and global cultural landscapes

Reading Chinese Transnationalisms Maria N. Ng, Philip Holden, 2006-07-01 Reading Chinese Transnationalisms responds to the growing interest in transnational cultural studies by examining Chinese transnationalism from a variety of perspectives In interrogating social practices and literary and filmic texts which frequently cross national borders in imagining Chineseness the contributors to this volume also challenge received notions of Chinese transnationalism opening up new perspectives on the topic The structure of the book is clearly subdivided into sections on society literature and films for quick reference and each essay is written in accessible language without sacrificing intellectual rigor and critical relevance The international list of contributors and the wide ranging subjects they address make Reading Chinese Transnationalisms a unique work in its field This volume will appeal to all with an interest in Chinese transnationalism and in particular those who come from a variety of disciplinary backgrounds in the humanities and social science

Visions of Dystopia in China's New Historical Novels Jeffrey C. Kinkley, 2014-11-18 The depiction of personal and collective suffering in modern Chinese novels differs significantly from standard Communist accounts and many Eastern and Western historical narratives Writers such as Yu Hua Su Tong Wang Anyi Mo Yan Han Shaogong Ge Fei Li Rui and Zhang Wei skew and scramble common conceptions of China's modern development deploying avant garde narrative techniques from Latin American and Euro American modernism to project a surprisingly un-Chinese dystopian vision and critical view of human culture and ethics The epic narratives of modern Chinese fiction make rich use of magical realism surrealism and unusual treatments of historical time Also featuring graphic depictions of sex and violence as well as dark raunchy comedy these novels reflect China's recent history re-presenting the overthrow of the monarchy in the early twentieth century and the resulting chaos of revolution and war the recurring miseries perpetrated by class warfare during the dictatorship of Mao Zedong and the social dislocations caused by China's industrialization and rise as a global power This book casts China's highbrow historical novels from the late 1980s to the first decade of the twenty first century as a distinctively Chinese contribution to the form of the global dystopian novel and consequently to global thinking about the interrelations of utopia and dystopia

Morningstar Ann Hood, 2017-08-01 An enchanting journey through Ann Hood's early fascination with reading Book lovers will find Morningstar irresistible Lynn Sharon Schwartz author of Ruined by Reading Growing up in a mill town in Rhode Island in a household that didn't foster a love of reading novelist Ann Hood discovered nonetheless the transformative power of literature She learned to channel her imagination ambitions and curiosity by devouring ever growing stacks of books In Morningstar Hood recollects with warmth and honesty how The Bell Jar Marjorie Morningstar The Hairy Ape and The Outsiders influenced her teen psyche and introduced her to topics that could not be discussed at home desire fear sexuality and madness Later Johnny Got His Gun and Grapes of Wrath dramatically influenced her political thinking while the Vietnam War and Kent State shootings became headline news and classics such as Dr Zhivago and Les Misérables stoked her ambitions to travel the world With characteristic insight and charm Hood showcases the ways in which books gave her life and can transform even save our own lives and Connections to Others Teaching Universal Themes through Young Adult Novels offers readers opportunities to explore the most common universal themes taught in secondary English Language Arts classrooms using contemporary young adult literature. Authors discuss adolescence and adolescent readers young adult literature and its possibilities in the classroom and ways to teach thematic analysis. The book provides context traditional approaches to teaching and examples of thematic explorations of each of the chosen themes. Chapters include developed teaching instructional units to study four universal themes: love and loss, friendship and betrayal, hate and its destructive consequences and healing, and dreams and hope for tomorrow. Each instructional unit includes rationale, essential questions and objectives, calendar plans for up to five weeks, examples of introductory reading and discussing, and enrichment activities and assessments. The activities target academic skills for ELA curricula and create safe spaces for exploring topics of relationships and connections to others, both of which are vital to adolescent growth and development. Each instructional chapter suggests a wide range of additional texts and resources for theme explorations.

The Dark of Summer Eric Linklater, 2010-07-01 Introduced by Eric Linklater In the early years of the Second World War, an army officer is sent to the Faroe Islands to investigate rumours of a collaboration with the Nazi regime in Norway. What he finds changes lives, not least his own. No one who reads this book will forget the frozen corpse tied to a chair in an icehouse, guarded by two drunken seamen, or the raging storm which batters their ship as they carry the body to Shetland. That's just the beginning. As the tale takes hold, the reader becomes haunted, just as the characters are haunted by a sense of guilt and betrayal. One of the finest of Linklater's later, deeper, darker novels. The Dark of Summer combines national and family histories as it sets out to understand the past, redeem the corrosion of memory, and find meaning in a world of divided loyalties. He writes not only of an angel, but like one. Observer. One of the finest craftsmen of the century, shamefully undervalued.

Anthony Burgess His masterpiece and one of the finest novels of the century, in the same class as Waugh's Sword of Honour. Allan Massie Human Rights and Narrated Lives K. Schaffer, S. Smith, 2004-08-20

Personal narratives have become one of the most potent vehicles for advancing human rights claims across the world. These two contemporary domains, personal narrative and human rights literature, and international politics are commonly understood to operate on separate planes. This study, however, examines the ways these intersecting realms unfold and are enfolded in one another in ways both productive of and problematic for the achievement of social justice. Human Rights and Narrated Lives explores what happens when autobiographical narratives are produced, received, and circulated in the field of human rights. It asks how personal narratives emerge in local settings, how international rights discourse enables and constrains individual and collective subjectivities in narration, how personal narratives circulate and take on new meanings in new contexts, and how and under what conditions they feed into affect and are affected by the reorganizations of politics in the post-cold war, postcolonial, globalizing human rights contexts. To explore these intersections, the authors attend the production, circulation, reception, and affective currents of stories in action across local, national, transnational, and global.

arenas They do so by looking at five case studies in the context of the Truth and Reconciliation processes in South Africa the National Inquiry into the Forced Removal of Indigenous Children from their Families in Australia activism on behalf of former comfort women from South East Asia U S prison activism and democratic reforms in the aftermath of the Tiananmen Square Massacre in China
