 Britain Stefan Manz, Panikos Panayi, 2013-10-18 This book is the first to focus specifically upon the relationship between refugees and intercultural transfer over an extensive period of time Since circa 1830 a series of groups have made their way to Britain beginning with exiles from the failed European revolutions of the mid nineteenth century and ending with refugees who have increasingly come from beyond Europe The book addresses four specific questions First what roles have individuals or groups of refugees played in cultural and political transfers to Britain since 1830 Second can we identify a novel form of cultural production which differs from that in the homeland Third to what extent has dissemination within and transformation of the receiving culture occurred Fourth to what extent do refugee groups themselves undergo a process of cultural restructuring The coverage of the individual essays ranges from high culture through politics and everyday practices The volume moves away from general perceptions of refugees as problem groups and rather focuses on the way they have shaped and indeed enriched British cultural and political life This book was previously published as a special issue of
