

Who is More Persuasive in the Letter Correspondence between Seaver and Herbert Essay Sample

In 1970, Grove Press used the slogan "It's the existent thing" in an advertizement for Diary of a Harlem Schoolteacher by Jim Haskins. The Coca-Cola Company had already been utilizing this motto and similar mottos for about 28 old ages, and as a consequence a Coca-Cola Company executive, Mr.

Ira C. Herbert and Mr. Richard Seaver, who was a representative of Grove Press, have a two missive correspondence in which the usage of this motto is discussed. Although both letters contain similarities in respects to word pick and the usage of inside informations and illustrations, the overall tone and strength of each missive varies greatly. In the missive from Ira C. Herbert to Richard Seaver, Herbert uses specific words and illustrations to convey his statement of why Grove Press should stop their usage of the slogan "It's the Real Thing" .

The first thing Herbert does is utilize certain words to sabotage the thought of both companies utilizing the same motto. Herbert speaks of how if both companies were to utilize the same stating for their advertisement, it would do "confusion" for the populace, it would "dilute the distinctiveness" of the motto, and "diminish its effectiveness" .

Herbert uses the words "confusion" , "dilute" and "diminish" in effort to convert Mr. Seaver that it would be debatable for both companies to utilize the same motto. Mr. Herbert so continues to utilize some illustrations of why Coca-Cola deserves to be the exclusive user of this peculiar motto.

He explains how the motto was used in advertizements "for Coca-Cola over 27 old ages ago" and how they have used the motto throughout the old ages. Basically he is stating that Coca-Cola had the motto foremost so Grove Press needs to make as they ask. His usage of illustrations and the fact that he evidently expects Grove Press to follow to his petition gives his missive a disdainful and chesty tone. In response to Ira Herbert's missive, Mr.

Seaver writes a missive in which he parodies Mr. Herbert's composing manner. First he mimics Herbert's word pick, Seaver uses many of the same words as Herbert but uses them as he explains a wholly sarcastic and opposing position. He says that he does non believe that usage of the motto to publicize Diary of a Harlem Schoolteacher will "dilute the distinctiveness" of the motto but will alternatively do people who read the ad may "go out and purchase a Coke."

Peacemaking and Religious Violence Roger A

Johnson, 2011-05-26 From its very beginning Christian faith has been engaged with religious violence The first Christians were persecuted by their co religionists and then by imperial Rome Jesus taught them in such circumstances not to retaliate but to be peacemakers to love their enemies and to pray for their persecutors Jesus s response to religious violence of the first century was often ignored but it was never forgotten Even during those centuries when the church herself persecuted Christian heretics Jews and Muslims some Christians still struggled to bear witness to the peace mandate of their Lord In the thirteenth century Thomas Aquinas wrote a theology to help his Dominican brothers persuade Cathar Christians to return to their Catholic faith peacefully Ramon Lull a Christian student of Arabic and the Qur an sought to help his fellow Christians recognize the elements of belief they shared in common with the Muslims in their midst In the fifteenth century Nicholas of Cusa a Church Cardinal and theologian expanded Lull s project to include the newly discovered religions of Asia In the seventeenth century Lord Herbert an English diplomat and lay Christian began to identify the political union of church and government as a causal factor in the religious warfare of post Reformation Christendom One and a half centuries later Thomas Jefferson a lay theologian of considerable political stature won a political struggle in the American colonies to disestablish religion first in his home colony of Virginia and then in the new nation he helped to found All five of these theologians reclaimed the peace mandate of Jesus in their response to the religious violence of their own eras All of which points us to some intriguing Christian responses to religious violence in our own century as recounted in the epilogue A

Prologue, 1969 Rhetoric As Currency Davis W. Houck, 2001 Hoover the president of economic depression Roosevelt the president of recovery the public images of these two men are so firmly fixed that they offer shorthand ways to talk about the era we know as the Great Depression Yet their views on economic policy for taking the country out of its greatest economic calamity were not so different as is often supposed Indeed the famed journalist Walter Lippmann once claimed that Roosevelt s legislative measures represented a continuous evolution of the Hoover measures Moreover both Hoover and Roosevelt shared a Keynesian conviction that public confidence was vital to recovery They differed markedly of course in their ability to restore that confidence Roosevelt s advantage lay not just in his position in the changing of the guard He employed a skilled staff of speech writers and he had the negative example of Hoover before him from which to plot rhetorical strategies that would be more effective In Rhetoric as Currency Houck uses the historical context of the Great Depression to explore the relationship of rhetoric to the economy and specifically economic recovery He closely analyzes Hoover s rhetorical corpus from March 4 1929 through March 3 1933 and Roosevelt s from January 3 1930 through June 16 1933 This longitudinal study allows him to understand rhetoric as a process rather than a series of isolated discrete products Houck first examines Hoover s presidential rhetoric tracing its paradoxes and the radical shift that occurred in the final year of his administration The Depression in his rhetoric was a foe to be vanquished by an optimistic Christian and civic faith not federal legislation Once he determined that federal intervention was indeed required he could not return to the dais rather he relied on an antagonistic press to carry his message of confidence Abdicating the rhetorical pulpit he left it in the hands of those opposed to him Houck then studies the economic rhetoric of Franklin Roosevelt as governor candidate president elect and finally president He traces the key similarities and differences in Roosevelt s economic rhetoric with particular attention to an embodied economics wherein recovery was premised less on mental optimism than a physical active confidence
