The Italian Reformers and the Zurich Church, c.1540-1620 Mark Taplin, 2017-05-15 Recently scholars have become increasingly aware of Zurich's role as an intellectual and cultural centre of the European Reformation. This study focuses on a little known aspect of the Zurich church's international activity: its relationship with Italian speaking evangelicals during the period 1540-1620. The work assesses the importance of Zwinglian influences within the early Italian evangelical movement and Zurich's contribution to the spread of the Reformation in Italian speaking territories such as Locarno and southern Graubünden. It shows how following the establishment of the Roman Inquisition in July 1542 senior Zurich churchmen emerged as important points of contact for Italian reformers in exile. A central concern of the study is the threat to the integrity of the Zwinglian settlement posed by religious radicals within the Italian exile community. Although the radicals were relatively few in number, their activities had a profound influence on the way in which the community as a whole came to be perceived by the Swiss and other Reformed churches. In Zurich, the turning point was a series of doctrinal disputes during the mid-sixteenth century which culminated in the dissolution of the city's Italian church in November 1563. The alliance forged in the course of those disputes between the leadership of the Zurich church and theologically conservative Italian exiles became the basis for close co-operation in subsequent decades. Drawing heavily on unpublished sources from Swiss archives, the volume sheds light on the processes by which the boundaries of Reformed orthodoxy came to be defined. In particular, it demonstrates the importance of theological controversy and polemic as catalysts for the systematisation of doctrine during this period.

Defending the Trinity in the Reformed Palatinate Benjamin R. Merkle, 2015-11-12 This study begins with an examination of Girolamo Zanchi's De Tribus Elohim 1572, setting this important defense of the doctrine of the Trinity in the immediate context of the recent rise of antitrinitarianism within the Reformed Palatinate. De Tribus Elohim focused on the grammatical peculiarity of the Hebrew word Elohim (God) in order to refute the biblicism of its contemporary antitrinitarians. In doing so, Zanchi's argument followed an exegetical thread common within the late medieval case for the doctrine of the Trinity but which ran contrary to the exegetical sensibilities of many of Zanchi's own Reformed colleagues. This disagreement over the correct interpretation of the word Elohim then became a touchstone for distinguishing between two different approaches to the Hebrew text with the Reformed Church of the late sixteenth century and becomes a significant piece in understanding the development of Reformed exegesis.

Architect of Reformation Bruce Gordon, Emilio Campi, 2019-03-22 Heinrich Bullinger, the friend and successor of Huldrych Zwingli, led the Zurich church for almost fifty years after Zwingli's death and was largely responsible for the construction of the Reformed church in the sixteenth century. Nevertheless, Bullinger has often been called the forgotten Reformer of the sixteenth century. Architect of Reformation is the first broad introduction to Bullinger's life and theology available in English. The book features an international collection of the world's leading Bullinger and Reformation scholars addressing such categories as theology, spirituality, ecclesiology.

Padua and Venice Brigit Blass-Simmen, Stefan Weppelmann, 2017-11-20 Venice and Padua are neighboring cities with a topographical and geopolitical distinction Venice is a port city in the Venetian Lagoon which opened up towards Byzantium and the East Padua on the mainland was founded in Roman times and is a university city a place of Humanism and research into antiquity The contributions analyze works of art as aesthetic formulations of their places of origin which however also have an effect on and expand their surroundings International experts investigate how these two different concepts stimulated each other in the Early Modern Age and how the exchange worked

Following Zwingli Luca Baschera, Bruce Gordon, 2016-04-15 Following Zwingli explores history scholarship and memory in Reformation Zurich The humanist culture of this city was shaped by a remarkable sodality of scholars many of whom had been associated with Erasmus In creating a new Christian order Zwingli and his colleagues sought biblical historical literary and political models to shape and defend their radical reforms After Zwingli's sudden death the next generation was committed to the institutional and intellectual establishment of the Reformation through ongoing dialogue with the past The essays of this volume examine the immediacy of antiquity early Christianity and the Middle Ages for the Zurich reformers Their reading and appropriation of history was no mere rhetorical exercise or polemical defence The Bible theology church institutions pedagogy and humanist scholarship were the lifeblood of the Reformation But their appropriation depended on the interplay of past ideals with the pressing demands of a sixteenth century reform movement troubled by internal dissention and constantly under attack This book focuses on Zwingli's successors and on their interpretations of the recent and distant past the choices they made and why How those pasts spoke to the present and how they were heard tell us a great deal not only about the distinctive nature of Zurich and Zwinglianism but also about locality history and religious change in the European Reformation

Landscape and Earth in Early Modernity Christine Göttler, Mia Mochizuki, 2025-10-01 Early modern views of nature and the earth upended the depiction of land Landscape emerged as a site of artistic exploration at a time when environments and ecologies were reshaped and transformed This volume historicizes the contingency of an ever changing elemental world reframing and reimagining landscape as a mediating space in the interplay between the natural and the artificial the real and the imaginary the internal and the external The lens of the unruly reveals the latent landscapes that undergirded their conception the elemental resources that resurfaced from the bowels of the earth the staged topographies that unsettled the boundaries between nature and technology and the fragile ecologies that undermined the status quo of human environs Landscape and Earth in Early
