U.S. Army ,1940 Selling the Great War Alan Axelrod,2009-03-03 The riveting story of George Creel and the Committee on Public Information the first and only propaganda initiative sanctioned by the U S government When the people of the United States were reluctant to enter World War I maverick journalist George Creel created a committee at President Woodrow Wilson s request to sway the tide of public opinion The Committee on Public Information monopolized every medium and avenue of communication with the goal of creating a nation of enthusiastic warriors for democracy Forging a path that would later be studied and retread by such characters as Adolf Hitler the Committee revolutionized the techniques of governmental persuasion changing the course of history Selling the War is the story of George Creel and the epoch making agency he built and led It will tell how he came to build it and how he ran it using the emerging industries of mass advertising and public relations to convince isolationist Americans to go to war It was a force whose effects were felt throughout the twentieth century and continue to be felt perhaps even more strongly today In this compelling and original account Alan Axelrod offers a fascinating portrait of America on the cusp of becoming a world power and how its first and most extensive propaganda machine attained unprecedented results As Axelrod demonstrates in fascinating detail the remarkable George Creel was responsible for this turnabout through his Committee on Public Information which eschewed censorship but so thoroughly controlled war information that its work was to be admired by the likes of Hitler and Goebbels Walton Rawls author of Wake Up America World War I and the American Poster Election Posters Around the Globe Christina Holtz-Bacha,Bengt Johansson,2017-04-03 This book examines the history and role of election posters as one of the most crucial forms of political communication especially in electoral campaigns in a number of countries around the globe The contributing authors present comparative research on electoral posters from countries from all five continents summarizing international similarities and national differences The book also discusses theoretical aspects and different methodological approaches that are used for studying the design content and reception of election posters as a means of political communication
