The Joy of Living (Es Lebe Das Leben) Hermann Sudermann,1902 Fifteen years before the opening of the play the Countess Beata and Baron Richard were lovers Richard becomes her husband s intimate friend and though their love does not cease the liaison is broken off Beata s influence inspires Richard s ambition and as the play opens she has induced her husband a man of mediocre intelligence to resign his seat in the Reichstag in favor of the brilliant Count Richard During the political campaign Richard s opponent a former secretary brings to light the secret of their past Duty to their party forbids the public scandal of the divorce court or the duel for the outraged husband the men ask Richard's young son what should be done in such a case and he not knowing he is judging his father replies that a man of honor would be more eager to give his life than the husband could possibly be to take it It is understood by the two men and guessed by Beata that Richard will commit suicide The party leaders call on Richard to make a speech against divorce upon the sanctity of the marriage bond Beata makes him promise to attend a political luncheon she and her husband give the day following the speech for the sake of appearances At the luncheon Beata proposes a toast to the joy of living Taking an overdose of her heart medicine which she has dropped unobserved into her glass she asks which of us really dares to live and answers the only living soul among you I drink to the joy of living The guests believe that she has succumbed to heart disease but she has left a letter of explanation for her husband I see that someone must pay the penalty better I than he He has his world before him I have lived my life He cannot die without causing the scandal you have been so anxious to avert I have always loved happiness and I find happiness in doing this for his sake and the children's and yours
