The Border Martin A. Schain, 2019-08-15 In our globalized world borders are back with a vengeance New data shows a massive increase of walls and barriers between countries after 2001 However at the same time the flow of people and the growth of trade have continued at impressive rates and arguments for more open borders remain relevant In The Border Martin Schain compares how and why border policy has become increasingly important politicized and divisive in both Europe and the United States Drawing from an intensive analysis of documents and interviews he argues that border control is a growing international movement In Europe the European Union is under scrutiny and many countries seek to block the entry of asylum seekers from wars in the Near East In the US Donald Trump pledged to build a wall along the Mexico border restricted the entry of Syrian asylum seekers and more generally tried to ban Muslim immigration Moreover on both sides of the Atlantic trade barriers appear in the political agendas of major parties Schain delves into these interlinked phenomena showing that migration identity and trade have been packaged and transformed into hotly contested issues of border governance and control

My Neighbour over the Border Paul Doe, 2021-09-09 How do towns and cities divided by the harsh reality of an international border manage to get on with each other when their closest neighbour lives just next door but in another country Are they thriving or surviving Utterly dependent on each other or with backs turned socially and economically We visit towns and cities that you may not have heard of or know little about Places like distant Blagoveshchensk and Heihe Narva and Ivangorod and Gorlitz and Zgorzelec But also the better known Nicosia Europe's only divided capital Detroit with its Canadian neighbour Windsor Geneva and its French suburb Annemasse and the cities of Sarajevo and Mostar divided not by international borders but ethnic divisions baked into everyday life This is a fascinating and well researched study of thirty six towns and cities from across the world that are separated by borders Paul Doe delves into the way in which these divisions came about and how the separated towns and cities manage to get along or not buffeted as they are by geopolitics ethnic differences and historical animosities
