what was their racial type and what element in the present day population represented the descendants of the earliest inhabitants of the island Though the Harvard Mission was hugely influential there were theories of eugenics involved that would shock the modern reader The main adviser for the archaeology was Adolf Mahr Nazi and Director of the National Museum 1934 39 The overall project was managed by Earnest A Hooton famed Harvard anthropologist whose theories regarding biological heritage would now be readily condemned for their racism Mair ad Carew explores this extraordinary archaeological mission examining its historic importance for Ireland and Irish America its landmark findings and the unseemly activities that lay just beneath the surface Ulster Journal of Archaeology ,1954 Beziehungen und Identitäten Gisela Holfter, Marieke Krajenbrink, Edward Moxon-Browne, 2004 Die Hauptthemen dieses Bandes sind Fragen der Identität in Österreich und der Schweiz sowie die Beziehungen zwischen diesen beiden Ländern und Irland Dieser Sammelband der ausgewählten Beiträge der 3 Limericker Konferenz für deutsch-irische Studien 4-6 April 2002 enthält versteht sich als Beitrag zur kontinuierlichen Erkundung und Hinterfragung europäischer Befindlichkeiten und Verbindungen im Wandel der Zeit Gemeinsam ist den genannten Ländern und die Auseinandersetzung mit größeren bisweilen bemerkenswerten Nachbarn welche historisch linguistisch und politisch ihre Spuren hinterlassen Thematisiert werden außerdem literarische Verbindungen Fragen der Mehrsprachigkeit der jeweilige Umgang mit der Neutralität und die facettenreichen Beziehungen die weit in die Vergangenheit zurückreichen The principal themes of the volume are questions of identity in Austria and Switzerland as well as relationships between both these countries and Ireland This volume contains selected contributions to the 3rd Limerick conference in Irish German Studies 4-6 April 2002 The contributors collectively and individually explore and analyse distinctive European mentalities as well as their connections and evolution over time The three countries share the experience of hugely influential and at times overpowering neighbours neutrality in foreign policy and links at many levels that reach far into the past Geographical Review ,1944 The Rise and Fall of Christian Ireland Crawford Gribben, 2021 The Irish experience of Christianity has never been simple or uncomplicated Here Crawford Gribben describes the ancient emergence long dominance sudden division and recent decline of Ireland's most important religion as a way of telling the history of the island and its peoples from earliest times to the present day Ireland's First Settlers Peter Woodman, 2015-12-31 Ireland's First Settlers tells the story of the archaeology and history of the first continuous phase of Ireland's human settlement It combines centuries of search and speculation about human antiquity in Ireland with a review of what is known today about the Irish Mesolithic This is in part provided in the context of the author's 50 years of personal experience searching to make sense of what initially appeared to be little more than a collection of beach-rolled and battered flint tools The story is embedded in how the island of Ireland its position distinct landscape and ecology impacted on when and how Ireland was colonized It also explores how these first settlers evolved their technologies and lifeways to suit the narrow range of abundant resources that were available The volume concludes with discussions on how the landscape should be searched for the often ephemeral traces of these early settlers and how sites should be excavated It asks what we really know about the thoughts and life of the people themselves and what happened to them as farming began to be introduced

Maritime Archaeology on Dry Land Richard Bradley, 2022-05-19 This book is about two islands off the coast of Continental Europe the seas that surrounded them and the ways in which they were used over a period of three thousand years Instead of the usual emphasis on finds in the intertidal zone it focuses on parts of Britain and Ireland where traces of the prehistoric shoreline survive above sea level It explores a series of Neolithic and Early Bronze Age sites which were investigated in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and have been largely forgotten These places were very different from the Iron Age ports and harbors studied in recent years How can we identify these special sites and what are the best ways of interpreting them The book considers the evidence for travel by sea between the settlement of the earliest farmers and the long distance movement of metalwork It emphasizes the distinctive archaeology of a series of coastal locations Little of the information is familiar and some of the most useful evidence was recorded many years ago It is supplemented by new studies of these places and the artifacts found there as well as reconstructions of the prehistoric coastline The book emphasizes the important role of enclosed estuaries which were both sheltered harbors and special places where artifacts were introduced by sea Other items were made there and exchanged with local communities It considers the role played by these places in the wider pattern of settlement and their relationship to major monuments The book describes how the character of coastal sites changed in parallel with developments in maritime technology and trade The main emphasis is on Neolithic and Early Bronze Ages uses of the seashore but the archaeology of the Middle and Later Bronze Age provides a source of comparison
