The Johns Hopkins White Papers Memory 2004:

Can't Remember What I Forgot Sue Halpern, 2009-05-26 Behind the Scenes of Cutting Edge Memory Research When Sue Halpern decided to emulate the first modern scientist of memory Hermann Ebbinghaus who experimented on himself she had no idea that after a day of radioactive testing her brain would become so hot that leaving through the front door of the lab would trigger the alarm This was not the first time while researching Can't Remember What I Forgot that Halpern had her head examined nor would it be the last Like many of us who have had a relative or friend succumb to memory loss who are getting older and who are hearing statistics about our own chances of falling victim to dementia Halpern wanted to find out what the experts really knew how close science is to a cure to treatment to accurate early diagnosis and of course whether the crossword puzzles sudokus and ballroom dancing we've been told to take up can really keep us lucid or if they're just something to do before the inevitable overtakes us Sharply observed and deeply informed Can't Remember What I Forgot is a book full of vital information and a solid dose of hope

Memory and Movies John Seamon, 2024-10-29 How popular films from Memento to Slumdog Millionaire can help us understand how memory works In the movie Slumdog Millionaire the childhood memories of a young game show contestant trigger his correct answers In Memento the amnesiac hero uses tattoos as memory aids In Away from Her an older woman suffering from dementia no longer remembers who her husband is These are compelling films that tell affecting stories about the human condition But what can these movies teach us about memory In this book John Seamon shows how examining the treatment of memory in popular movies can shed new light on how human memory works After explaining that memory is actually a diverse collection of independent systems Seamon uses examples from movies to offer an accessible nontechnical description of what science knows about memory function and dysfunction In a series of lively encounters with numerous popular films he draws on Life of Pi and Avatar for example to explain working memory used for short term retention He describes the process of long term memory with examples from such films as Cast Away and Groundhog Day The Return of Martin Guerre among other movies informs his account of how we recognize people the effect of emotion on autobiographical memory is illustrated by The Kite Runner Titanic and other films movies including Born on the Fourth of July and Rachel Getting Married illustrate the complex pain of traumatic memories Seamon shows us that movies rarely get amnesia right often using strategically timed blows to the protagonist's head as a way to turn memory off and then on again as in Desperately Seeking Susan Finally he uses movies including On Golden Pond and Amour to describe the memory loss that often accompanies aging while highlighting effective ways to maintain memory function

Against Immediate Evil Andrew E. Johnstone, 2015-08-18 In Against Immediate Evil Andrew Johnstone tells the story of how internationalist Americans worked between 1938 and 1941 to convince the U S government and the American public of the need to stem the rising global tide of fascist aggression As war approached the internationalist movement attempted to arouse the nation in order to defeat noninterventionism at home and fascism overseas Johnstone s examination of this movement undermines the common belief that the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor wrenched an isolationist United States into global armed conflict and the struggle for international power Johnstone focuses on three organizations the American Committee for Non Participation in Japanese Aggression the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies and Fight For Freedom that actively promoted a more global role for the United States based on a conception of the four freedoms later made famous by FDR The desire to be free from fear was seen in concerns regarding America s immediate national security The desire to be free from want was expressed in anxieties over the nation s future economic prosperity The need for freedom of speech was represented in concerns over the potential loss of political freedoms Finally the need for freedom of worship was seen in the emphasis on religious freedoms and broader fears about the future of Western civilization These groups and their supporters among the public and within the government characterized the growing global conflict as one between two distinct worlds and in doing so set the tone of American foreign policy for decades to come Presidential Temples Benjamin Hufbauer, 2005 This book explores the visual and material cultures of presidential commemoration memorials and monuments libraries and archives and the problematic ways in which presidents themselves have largely taken over their own commemoration The author sees these various commemorative sites as playing a key role in the construction of our collective political and cultural self images and as another sign of our preoccupation with celebrity culture Ultimately he contends these presidential temples reflect not only our civil religion but also the extraordinary expansion of executive authority and presidential self commemoration since FDR World War II in Contemporary

German and Dutch Fiction Jan Lensen, 2021-03-04 World War II in Contemporary German and Dutch Fiction The Generation of Meta Memory offers a comparative study of the construction of World War II memory in contemporary German Flemish and Dutch literature More specifically it investigates in what ways the large temporal distance to the historical events has impacted how literary writers from these three literatures have negotiated its meaning and form during the last decades To that end this book offers analyses of nine novels that demonstrate a pronounced reflexivity on the conditions of contemporary remembering Rather than a dig for historical truth or a struggle with historical trauma these novels reflect on the transmission the narrative shapes the formation processes and the functions of World War II memory today while asserting a self conscious and often irreverent approach toward established mnemonic routines practices and rules As the analyses show this approach is equally articulated through the novels poetics which are marked by a large formal diversity and a playfulness that highlights mnemonic agency a posttraumatic positioning and the ascendancy of the literary over the historiographical Based on these findings this book proposes the emergence of a new paradigm within the postwar cultural assessment of World War II the generation of meta memory

Mixed Emotions Andrew A. G. Ross, 2022-12-22 In recent years it s become increasingly clear that emotion plays a central role in global politics For example people readily care about acts of terrorism and humanitarian crises because they appeal to our compassion for human suffering These struggles also command attention where social interactions have the power to produce or intensify the emotional responses of those who participate in them From passionate protests to poignant speeches Andrew A G Ross analyzes high emotion events with an eye to how they shape public sentiment and finds that there is no single answer The politically powerful play to the public s emotions to advance their political aims and such appeals to emotion also often serve to sustain existing values and institutions But the affective dimension can produce profound change particularly when a struggle in the present can be shown to line up with emotionally resonant events from the past Extending his findings to well studied conflicts including the War on Terror and the violence in Rwanda and the Balkans Ross identifies important sites of emotional impact missed by earlier research focused on identities and interests

Mary Turner and the Memory of Lynching Julie Buckner Armstrong, 2011 Mary Turner and the Memory of Lynching traces the reaction of activists artists writers and local residents to the brutal lynching of a pregnant woman near Valdosta Georgia In 1918 the murder of a white farmer led to a week of mob violence that claimed the lives of at least eleven African Americans including Hayes Turner When his wife Mary vowed to press charges against the killers she too fell victim to the mob Mary s lynching was particularly brutal and involved the grisly death of her eight month old fetus It led to both an entrenched local silence and a widespread national response in newspaper and magazine accounts visual art film literature and public memorials Turner s story became a centerpiece of the Anti Lynching Crusaders campaign for the 1922 Dyer Bill which sought to make lynching a federal crime Julie Buckner Armstrong explores the complex and contradictory ways this horrific event was remembered in works such as Walter White s report in the NAACP's newspaper the Crisis the Kabnis section of Jean Toomer's Cane Angelina Weld Grimké's short story Goldie and Meta Fuller's sculpture Mary Turner A Silent Protest against Mob Violence Like those of Emmett Till and Leo Frank Turner's story continues to resonate on multiple levels Armstrong's work provides insight into the different roles black women played in the history of lynching as victims as loved ones left behind and as those who fought back The crime continues to defy conventional forms of representation illustrating what can and cannot be said about lynching and revealing the difficulty and necessity of confronting this nation's legacy of racial violence
