Hiding Places Diane Wyshogrod, 2012-02-23 Finalist for the 2013 Montaigne Medal presented by Hopewell Publications What s it like to spend sixteen months in hiding crouching in a tiny cellar during the dark years of World War II To know that many of your friends and relatives have either been shot or sent to concentration camps To have your life depend on the humanity of an elderly Christian couple who lets you hide under their floor What if you knew it had been your mother crouching under that floor Wouldn t you wonder how she stood it How it felt What it did to her And how it all affected you In Hiding Places Diane Wyshogrod traces the process of discovery and self discovery as she researched the experiences of her mother Helen Rosenberg who as a teenager hid in just such a cellar in Z kiew Poland The narrative which moves between New York pre war and wartime Poland and Jerusalem is based on many hours of recorded interviews and covers Helen's life before, during and after World War II. Although Wyshogrod's original intention was simply to record her mother's experiences, piecing the narrative together proved difficult; there were numerous gaps, things her mother could or would no longer remember, and other things her daughter just couldn't comprehend. To fill in these gaps, Wyshogrod draws from all the facets of her identity: writer, clinical psychologist, daughter, mother. In an attempt not only to understand her mother's experiences but to find out why it is so important for her and for us to make that attempt in the first place. Voting United States Commission on Civil Rights, 1965 Hearings Held in Jackson, Miss., February 16-20, 1965 United States Commission on Civil Rights, 1965

Larry writes about his account of dealing with the man often referred to as a psychopath, the CIA, a palace full of guards with machine guns, and visiting Babylon. The conversations about American culture and Uday Hussein's very surprising views to getting behind the scenes account at the palace as a World War begins.
