William Alwyn Ian Johnson, 2005 Ian Johnson s evaluation of Alwyn s film music places his achievement in the context of wider movements within the film industry William Alwyn was a leading composer of British film music in the 1940s and 50s a time when the British film industry was at its peak His scores ranged from documentaries to almost 80 full length feature films including classics such as Fires were Started Desert Victory

Odd Man Out The Fallen Idol and The History of Mr Polly he was adept at any musical genre from classical to cartoon slapstick and in the process worked with legendary directors including Carol Reed David Lean Humphrey Jennings and Anthony Asquith Alone with Vaughan Williams he was granted the distinction of a separate title credit columnists mentioned him alongside Bliss Bax and Walton However as the reputation of the British film industry declined in the 1950s so musical snobbery against those who were its leading lights became unpleasantly raw In recent years however with sensitive performances of his film and concert music available on CD this most appealing of composers has enjoyed something of a renaissance In this long overdue reassessment Alwyn's films are analysed and put into the context of his biography the film industry and of society at large the author shows in particular this remarkably versatile composer developed a hitherto unrecognised grammar of film music which enhanced every film on which he worked He also examines his work for war propaganda radio and the concert hall The volume is enhanced by the most complete filmography discography and bibliography of the composer's works yet published as well as listings of his concert and radio music

Gaslight Melodrama Guy Barefoot, 2016-10-06 In 1945 a year when American crime films were apparently moving out on to the streets of contemporary Los Angeles and New York one reviewer noted the emergence of a cycle of mystery and horror pictures placed in the gaslight era of the turn of the century For another critic it seemed that for Hollywood there was no world of today save the world of London by gaslight In Gaslight Melodrama Guy Barefoot examines the films that gave rise to such comments and the pattern of discourse that gave rise to such films The book's main focus is provided by 1940s Hollywood melodramas such as Gaslight Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde and Hangover Square It also discusses a related cycle of British films that located murder and melodrama in Victorian or Edwardian settings and then looks beyond cinema to the Gothic novels of the 18th century 19th century discussions of gas lighting in street home and theatre and ambivalent 20th century responses to the Victorian era Combining close analysis of particular film texts with attention to cinema's cultural context Gaslight Melodrama provides an exploration of the ways in which the past has been the site of contested meaning and an examination of the network of melodramatic narratives embedded within familiar and lesser known examples of classical Hollywood cinema
