Social And Psychological Distortion Of Information:

The Social and Psychological Distortion of Information Charles K. West,1981 The Social and Psychological Distortion of Information Charles K. West,1981 The Science of Good and Evil Michael Shermer,2025-09-23 From bestselling author Michael Shermer an investigation of the evolution of morality that is a paragon of popularized science and philosophy The Sun Baltimore A century and a half after Darwin first proposed an evolutionary ethics science has begun to tackle the roots of morality Just as evolutionary biologists study why we are hungry to motivate us to eat or why sex is enjoyable to motivate us to procreate they are now searching for the very nature of humanity In The Science of Good and Evil science historian Michael Shermer explores how humans evolved from social primates to moral primates how and why morality motivates the human animal and how the foundation of moral principles can be built upon empirical evidence Along the way he explains the implications of scientific findings for fate and free will the existence of pure good and pure evil and the development of early moral sentiments among the first humans As he closes the divide between science and morality Shermer draws on stories from the Yanomam infamously known as the fierce people of the tropical rain forest to the Stanford studies on jailers behavior in prisons The Science of Good and Evil is ultimately a profound look at the moral animal belief and the scientific pursuit of truth Framework for a Scientific Psychology Bernhard J. Schmidt,2020-11-11 If we want to keep reason then we have to overcome belief in it The Munchausen Syndrome by Proxy as a Group Phenomenon Bernhard J. Schmidt,2020-10-15 Only through the perspective of clinical social psychology is it possible to perceive and analyze pathological group processes With this new perspective the MSbP as a group phenomenon in the field of autism is examined and presented as an example By analyzing it becomes clear that MSbP occurs much more frequently than previously assumed Pathological behavior can be publicly carried out within group structures and still remain undetected for decades the distribution of individual motives and actions among different actors within different subgroups has a stabilizing and legitimizing effect The role of the perpetrator in the abuse is not limited to the primary caregivers It is possible that the child could be harmed against the parents actual will Crucial Decisions Irving Lester Janis,1989 Janis shows corporate executives organizational policymakers and general managers how to avoid critical errors and ensure high quality in decision making The Oxford Handbook of Criminology Mike Maguire,Rodney Morgan,Robert Reiner,2007 teachers and students of criminology and is a sourcebook for professionals The Roles of Psychology in International Arbitration Tony Cole,2017-03-15 The system of international arbitration is built on private contractual relations yet has been endorsed by governments around the world as a fair and reliable alternative to litigation in State courts As a private process however its authority and legitimacy derive entirely from the views and actions of those involved in the arbitral process whether arbitrators counsel or parties It is though increasingly clear that psychological factors complicate and in some cases radically change every arbitral proceeding In this context psychological insights are crucial for understanding how international arbitration genuinely operates and whether the legal framework currently applied to it is well suited to achieving the aims of ensuring a fair and reliable dispute resolution procedure This is the first book to focus on this important issue the insights into international arbitration that can be gained from contemporary psychology With contributions from nineteen internationally known figures in their fields arbitrators mediators lawyers law professors psychology professors psychologists and drawing from a longer term project on the role of psychology in arbitration this ground breaking volume addresses a range of topics including the following the decision making processes of arbitrators the ability of arbitration to serve as a genuine dispute resolution mechanism the impact of particular procedures on the arbitral process bias self deception and vested interests in judgment and decision making the role of arbitrators in managing the arbitral process cultural differences in the evaluation of arguments psychological influences on witness testimony the impact of tribunal composition on arbitral decision making the influence of arbitration s professional context on arbitrators and legal counsel and methods for arbitrators and legal counsel to more effectively manage the arbitral process Informed by the behavioural insights in these essays counsel and arbitrators will be enabled to think critically about the underlying assumptions and the potential behavioural effects of a prospective arbitration while individuals researching arbitration will gain a greater understanding of the psychological context in which every arbitration occurs This book meets the increasingly recognized need for understanding the role of psychology in arbitral proceedings and forms an indispensable foundation for subsequent work in this area Its innovative and forward thinking analysis will be of immeasurable value to the international arbitration community as well as to institutions supporting arbitration and to academics in the field

Emotions, Decision-Making and Mass Atrocities Olaoluwa Olusanya, 2016-05-06 This book rehumanizes perpetrators of mass atrocities At present a victim perpetrator dichotomy appears to be the dominant paradigm perpetrators have either been mechanistically dehumanized that is perceived as unemotional hard hearted and conforming and thereby lacking the core features of human nature or alternatively they have been animalistically dehumanized In other words they are seen as immoral unintelligent lacking self control and likened to animals Within sociology and criminology the dominant view is that genocide and other mass atrocities are committed by technologically lobotomized perpetrators Somehow the process of rationalization is believed to have transformed these people from emotionally healthy people into hollow soulless shells of human beings or zombies devoid of a full range of normal emotions These people are considered bereft of any ability to reason think or feel yet ambulant and able to respond to surrounding stimuli However it is difficult to imagine crime especially those involving a group of people working together for the duration of a particular criminal activity without emotions For instance there is ample evidence suggesting that both crimes of passion and pre meditated crimes involve emotional arousal Furthermore research in fields such as evolutionary biology psychology and sociology of work and organizations suggest that emotions are essential for human progress and survival In addition emotions help us make the right call in risky and uncertain situations in other words the majority of real life situations There is therefore a need to revisit existing assumptions around the role of emotions in mass atrocities

Theorizing Mediated Information Distortion Brian H. Spitzberg, 2023-09-08 This book explores the phenomenon of distortion of information through media via the lens of the COVID 19 pandemic and the ways in which relevant information distortion and virality have occurred in regard to the disease and its risks Positing that the interrelated processes of misinformation disinformation fake news and conspiracy theories are related forms of distortion of information through media DIM and can only be understood through a multilevel theoretical model that incorporates message based individual difference social network based societal and geotechnical factors Brian H Spitzberg develops an integrative well argued and well evidenced framework within which these issues can and should be addressed This book offers a model for further research across such disciplines as communication journalism media studies political science sociology cognitive psychology social psychology evolutionary psychology public health big data analytics social network analytics computational linguistics and geographic information sciences and will interest researchers and students in those areas and Decision Making Evan A. Wilhelms, Valerie F. Reyna, 2014-07-11 This volume explores how and why people make judgments and decisions that have economic consequences and what the implications are for human well being It provides an integrated review of the latest research from many different disciplines including social cognitive and developmental psychology neuroscience and neurobiology and economics and business The book has six areas of focus historical foundations cognitive consistency and inconsistency heuristics and biases neuroeconomics and neurobiology developmental and individual differences and improving decisions Throughout the contributors draw out implications from traditional behavioral research as well as evidence from neuroscience In recent years neuroscientific methods have matured beyond being simply correlational and descriptive into theoretical prediction and explanation and this has opened up many new areas of discovery about economic behavior that are reviewed in the book In the final part there are applications of the research to cognitive development individual differences and the improving of decisions The book takes a broad perspective and is written in an accessible way so as to reach a wide audience of advanced students and researchers interested in behavioral economics and related areas This includes neuroscientists neuropsychologists clinicians psychologists developmental social and cognitive economists and other social scientists legal scholars and criminologists professionals in public health and medicine educators evidence based practitioners and policy makers Understanding the Influence of Others Rachel

Annette Smith, 2003 Persuasive Communication Richard O. Young, 2016-07-15 This updated and expanded edition of Persuasive Communication offers a comprehensive introduction to persuasion and real world decision making Drawing on empirical research from social psychology neuroscience business communication research cognitive science and behavioral economics Young reveals the thought processes of many different audiences from investors to CEOs to help students better understand why audiences make the decisions they make and how to influence them The book covers a broad range of communication techniques richly illustrated with compelling examples including resumes speeches and slide presentations to help students recognize persuasive methods that do and do not work A detailed analysis of the emotions and biases that go into decision making arms students with perceptive insights into human behavior and helps them apply this understanding with various decision making aids Students will learn how to impact potential employers clients and other audiences essential to their success This book will prove fascinating to many and especially useful for students of persuasion rhetoric and business communication False and Distorted Memories Robert A. Nash, James Ost, 2016-10-04 Our memories shape how we think about the past how we plan for the future and how we think about ourselves Yet our memories are also constantly being reinvented we often remember our experiences differently from how they truly happened and can even remember experiences that never happened at all False and Distorted Memories provides an overview of recent and ongoing developments in the science of false memory World leading researchers unpick questions about flawed recollections discussing issues as varied as the reliability of highly emotional memories why we sometimes begin to remember fictional experiences that we have deliberately fabricated and what happens when we stop believing our memories Each chapter demonstrates how memory science has furthered our understanding of these important questions by exploring theoretical ideas and psychological research methods that underpin their investigations Edited by Robert Nash and James Ost this volume offers an international and up to date perspective on false and distorted memories The volume also draws attention to the broad range of real life contexts in which such distortions might arise and their potential consequences False and Distorted Memories illustrates the ease with which memory can be contaminated and the power of the resulting memory errors providing an integral text for researchers and students interested in the psychology of memory

Handbook of Marketing Barton A Weitz, Robin Wensley, 2006-08-11 NEW IN PAPERBACK The Handbook of Marketing is different that Barton Weitz and Robin Wensley are its editors should suggest something out of the ordinary A glance at the contributors e g Wilkie Webster Day Shocker Keller Hauser Winer Stewart Parasuraman Zeithaml puts the matter to rest The Handbook is an extraordinary effort The blurb on the dust jacket is an understatement the Handbook will be invaluable to advanced undergraduates graduate students academics and thoughtful practitioners in marketing the book is far more than that in short the Handbook is probably invaluable to all academic researchers Journal of Marketing Handbook of Marketing is a rich compilation of thorough reviews in the field of marketing management The editors have selected premier marketing scholars and have given them the opportunity to examine their area of expertise in a format much less confining than those provided by the major journals in the field The authors have taken this opportunity and have done an outstanding job not only of reviewing and structuring the extensive body of thought in many major areas of marketing management but also of providing valuable suggestions for further research They have brought together major contributions from the field of marketing and from other related disciplines I strongly encourage marketing scholars to consider Handbook of Marketing The text will certainly appeal to those with interests in marketing management it may also be useful to those who are more focused on methodological issues but interested in topics that need additional rigorous investigation In summary Weitz and Wensley should be congratulated for the excellent work in developing Handbook of Marketing The book fills a major void in the marketing literature on marketing management and will serve the discipline for many years to come Journal of Marketing Research This text achieves the rare goal of covering marketing clearly and deeply with no unnecessary examples or pretty pictures For the enquiring mind it is a wonderful link between a basic knowledge of marketing concepts and a grasp of where research in marketing is taking us Ken Simmonds Emeritus Professor of Marketing and International Business London Business School The Handbook of Marketing presents a major retrospective and prospective overview of the field of marketing and provides a landmark reference at a time when many of the traditional boundaries and domains within the marketing discipline have been subject to change A high calibre collection compiled by an international and extremely distinguished advisory board of marketing academics With contributions from leading scholars in the field each covering the latest research issues in particular areas of expertise Each chapter provides the necessary background for study and research of specific empirical and theoretical topics in marketing The Handbook of Marketing will be invaluable to advanced undergraduates graduate students and academics in marketing International Advisory Board Sonke Albers Christian Albrechts University of Kiel Germany Erin Anderson INSEAD France Rick Bagozzi Rice University USA Patrick Barwise London Business School Rod Brodie University of Auckland Anne T Coughlan Northwestern University George Day University of Pennsylvania Lars Gunnar Mattsson Stockholm School of Economics Hubert Gatignon INSEAD France H kan H kansson The Norwegian School of Management Stephen J Hoch University of Pennsylvania USA Kevin Keller Dartmouth College USA Donald Lehmann Columbia University USA Gilles Laurent HEC France Leonard Lodish University of Pennsylvania Richard Lutz University of Florida David Midgley INSEAD France David Montgomery Stanford University USA William Perreault University of North Carolina USA John Roberts Stanford University USA Allan Shocker University of Minnesota Piet Vanden Abeele Vlerick Leuven Gent Management School Belgium Russell Winer University of California Berkeley USA Dick Wittink Yale School of Management USA
