

Sonnet, Give Me A Hope Of Love (From, The Lost Sonnets)

Give me a hope of love if my heart breaks
Whatever is here waiting I wonder,
In all my thoughts drift away and ponder
As the mind again to reality awakes;
From the alone fantasy the heart takes
What is rejoined and what is asunder,
When there is flame in what is there under
Returning to soft from feelings of rakes.

Is the end now coming to times right here
When there is burning desire to play with,
Has there been lost words from across caring?
What can we say if all goes to nowhere
And love in my heart is all like a myth,
That got me going crazy with awing.

The Sonnet Charles Tomlinson, 1874 The Sonnet; Its Origin, Structure, and Place in Poetry Charles Tomlinson, 1874

Dante Gabriel Rossetti and the Late Victorian Sonnet Sequence John Holmes, 2017-03-02 In 1870 Dante Gabriel

Rossetti published the first version of his sonnet sequence The House of Life. The next thirty years saw the greatest flourishing of the sonnet sequence since the 1590s. John Holmes's carefully researched and eloquent study illuminates how leading sonneteers including the Rossettis, John Addington Symonds, Wilfrid Blunt and Augusta Webster and their early twentieth century successors Rosa Newmarch and Rupert Brooke addressed the urgent questions of selfhood, religious belief and doubt and sexual and national identity which troubled late Victorian England. Drawing on the heritage of the sonnet sequence, the poetic self-portraits they created are unsurpassed in their subtlety, complexity, courage and honesty. The Broadview Anthology of British Literature Volume 4: The Age of Romanticism - Second Edition Joseph Black, Leonard Conolly, Kate Flint, Isobel Grundy, Don LePan, Roy Liuzza, Jerome J. McGann, Anne Lake Prescott, Barry V. Qualls, Claire Waters, 2010-07-23. In all six of its volumes, The Broadview Anthology of British Literature presents British literature in a truly distinctive light. Fully grounded in sound literary and historical scholarship, the anthology takes a fresh approach to many canonical authors and includes a wide selection of work by lesser known writers. The anthology also provides wide-ranging coverage of the worldwide connections of British literature and it pays attention throughout to issues of race, gender, class and sexual orientation. It includes comprehensive introductions to each period, providing in each case an overview of the historical and cultural as well as the literary background. It features accessible and engaging headnotes for all authors, extensive explanatory annotations and an unparalleled number of illustrations and contextual materials. Innovative, authoritative and comprehensive, The Broadview Anthology of British Literature has established itself as a leader in the field. The full anthology comprises six bound volumes together with an extensive website component; the latter has been edited, annotated and designed according to the same high standards as the bound book component of the anthology and is accessible by using the passcode obtained with the purchase of one or more of the bound volumes. The second edition of volume 4, The Age of Romanticism, includes James Hogg, Matthew Gregory Lewis and John Polidori as well as new selections by Mary Shelley, Sir Walter Scott, Maria Edgeworth, Anna Laetitia Barbauld and Percy Shelley. The new edition also includes two new sections of contextual materials. New to the bound book is The Natural, The Human, The Supernatural and The Sublime, a section that includes not only a good selection of material from writers such as Edmund Burke and artists such as J. M. W. Turner but also material that may be less well known on topics such as changing human attitudes towards non-animals. New to the website is a wide-ranging selection of contextual materials on the Industrial Revolution, entitled Steam Power and The Machine Age. Additional highlights of this volume include Jane Austen's Lady Susan, a lesser known but wonderfully readable epistolary short novel; A Hymn to Nature by Sir William Jones; and, in an exception to the anthology's general policy of including works in their entirety, Mary Shelley is represented by the last two chapters of The Last Man and by a selection of letters. Kaleidoscope, Or, Literary and Scientific Mirror, 1821
