Soul Train:

A Critical History of Soul Train on Television Christopher P. Lehman, 2008-04-30 As a wildly popular local dance show Soul Train provided a venue for Chicago's soul singers and political activists and gave African American teenagers their first significant chance to see and identify with their peers on television The subsequent national series garnered even more popularity establishing producer and host Don Cornelius as one of the most successful pioneers of African American television production This work discusses Cornelius's role in the evolution of his groundbreaking series from a small all black 1970s television show to a lucrative brand name applying not only to the program but also to awards and various merchandise in the present day The first two chapters focus on Cornelius's years in Chicago and the initial launching of Soul Train in 1970 The next two chapters explore how the nationally televised California based version of the show rose steadily in both popularity and cultural influence among primarily African American viewers and how Cornelius himself became a rising celebrity during that time The final chapters illustrate Cornelius's efforts in branching out beyond the dance show through various music related business ventures including the Soul Train Music Awards The work includes interviews with several former cast members and guests along with a complete chronology of the series and Cornelius's other professional ventures

Soul Train T. C. Husvar,2021-09-23 Take a seat for a ride of a lifetime Joshua is a seventeen year old boy from the inner city who wakes up on the ground of a train station With little knowledge of where he is and a ticket in his pocket he ventures onto a train ride Perspective will shift as he gambles not only at his life but also at the substations that he stops at And once he realizes where he really is is he going to be able to hold on to his ticket and get off the right stop

TV-A-Go-Go Jake Austen,2005-07 From Elvis and a hound dog wearing matching tuxedos and the comic adventures of artificially produced bands to elaborate music videos and contrived reality show contests television as this critical look brilliantly shows has done a superb job of presenting the energy of rock in a fabulously entertaining but patently fake manner The dichotomy of fake and real music as it is portrayed on television is presented in detail through many generations of rock music the Monkees shared the charts with the Beatles Tupac and Slayer fans voted for corny American Idols and shows like Shindig and Soul Train somehow captured the unhinged energy of rock far more effectively than most long haired guitar smashing acts Also shown is how TV has often delighted in breaking the rules while still mostly playing by them Bo Diddley defied Ed Sullivan and sang rock and roll after he had been told not to the Chipmunks subversive antics prepared kids for punk rock and things got out of hand when Saturday Night Live invited punk kids to attend a taping of the band Fear Every aspect of the idiosyncratic history of rock and TV and their peculiar relationship is covered including cartoon rock music programming for African American audiences punk on television Michael Jackson s life on TV and the tortured history of MTV and its progeny
