Sundry Sorts Of Musics:

Write All These Down Joseph Kerman, 1994-05-23 If one name stands out among musicologists writing today that name is Joseph Kerman. Eminent, wide-ranging and wonderfully readable, Kerman's writing on musicology, opera, Beethoven and Elizabethan music has informed and inspired an extensive audience both in America and abroad. There is much to interest both the general reader and the musicologist in this collection of twenty essays. Included are several notable pleas addressed by Kerman to his professional colleagues in an effort to get them to adopt a more critical orientation for their work. Other essays range from a moving account of William Byrd as a spokesman for the beleaguered Elizabethan Catholic minority to a discerning analysis of Beethoven's well-known obsession with the key of C minor. The controversial tenets of Kerman's classic Opera as Drama (1956) are reaffirmed in essays on Don Giovanni, The Magic Flute, Tristan und Isolde, Ernani and I Lombardi. Kerman's legacy to a younger generation is here too in an exemplary writing style; he offers challenging models for a humane and historically informed music criticism. An added gem is the Preface which provides an intellectual and anecdotal road map of the place of the essays in Kerman's academic and public expeditions. Joseph Kerman has been at the very center of musicology for almost four decades. This overview of his work will be warmly received and greatly valued. Thomas East and Music Publishing in Renaissance England Jeremy L. Smith, 2003-02-20 In the London of Shakespeare and William Byrd, Thomas East was the premier, often exclusive printer of music. As he tells the story of this influential figure in early English music publishing, Jeremy Smith also offers a vivid overall portrait of a bustling and competitive industry in which composers, patrons, publishers and tradesmen sparred for creative control and financial success. It provides a truly comprehensive study of music publishing and a new way of understanding the place of musical culture in Elizabethan times. In addition, Smith has compiled the first complete chronology of East's music prints based on both bibliographical and paper-based evidence.

Masques, Mayings and Music-dramas Roger Savage, 2014 Masques, Mayings and Music Dramas comprises a sequence of in-depth case studies of significant aspects of early twentieth-century English music theatre. Vaughan Williams forms a central thread in this discussion and Stratford-upon-Avon serves as a geographical focus point for mediating conflicting visions of an English musical tradition. But the reach of the book is much wider, shedding new light on English Wagnerism at Glastonbury, especially, and on the reception of Wagner's ideas as a point of emulation and resistance. No less significant is the discussion of Purcell and the seventeenth-century masque, one of the primary sources for re-imagining an English dramatic tradition and the more familiar images of the May festival, the Mummers play and the pageant play, which are tellingly re-contextualised. The book also looks at the associations between Vaughan Williams, the theatre artist Edward Gordon Craig and the impresario Serge Diaghilev. The sequence is framed by the image of the pilgrim-vagabond, Vaughan Williams's setting of the poetry of Matthew Arnold and Robert Louis Stevenson as a metaphor and paradigm for his creative career and personal progress. The book not only sheds light on the activities and ambitions of principal agents but also illuminates a particularly dynamic moment in the re emergence of a distinctively English music theatrical practice one especially concerned with calling on aspects of the past to help to secure a worthwhile future Notions of Englishness turn out to be less insular than sometimes thought and the idea of a musical renaissance more complex when the case studies are understood in their proper historical context Scholars and students of twentieth century English music theatre and opera will find this volume indispensable Roger Savage is Honorary Fellow in English Literature at the University of Edinburgh He has published widely on theatre and its interface with music from the baroque to the twentieth century in leading journals and books

Networks of Music and Culture in the Late Sixteenth and Early Seventeenth Centuries David J.

Smith,Rachelle Taylor,2016-04-29 Peter Philips c 1560 1628 was an English organist composer priest and spy He was embroiled in multifarious intersecting musical social religious and political networks linking him with some of the key international players in these spheres Despite the undeniable quality of his music Philips does not fit easily into an overarching progressive view of music history in which developments taking place in centres judged by historians to be of importance are given precedence over developments elsewhere which are dismissed as peripheral These principal loci of musical development are given prominence over secondary ones because of their perceived significance in terms of later music However a consideration of the networks in which Philips was involved suggests that he was anything but at the periphery of the musical cultural religious and political life of his day In this book Philips s life and music serve as a touchstone for a discussion of various kinds of network in the late sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries The study of networks enriches our appreciation and understanding of musicians and the context in which they worked The wider implication of this approach is a constructive challenge to orthodox historiographies of Western art music in the Early Modern Period

Early English Viols: Instruments, Makers and Music Michael Fleming,John Bryan,2016-11-18 Winner of the Nicholas Bessaraboff Prize Musical repertory of great importance and quality was performed on viols in sixteenth and early seventeenth century England This is reported by Thomas Mace 1676 who says that Your Best Provision for playing such music is a chest of old English viols and he names five early English viol makers than which there are no Better in the World Enlightened scholars and performers both professional and amateur who aim to understand and play this music require reliable historical information and need suitable viols but so little is known about the instruments and their makers that we cannot specify appropriate instruments with much precision Our ignorance cannot be remedied exclusively by the scrutiny or use of surviving antique viols because they are extremely rare they are not accessible to performers and the information they embody is crucially compromised by degradation and alteration Drawing on a wide variety of evidence including the surviving instruments music composed for those instruments and the documentary evidence surrounding the trade of instrument making Fleming and Bryan draw significant conclusions about the changing nature and varieties of viol in early modern England

offers a wide ranging perspective on the stories that art music has told since the start of the 20th century Contributors challenge the broadly held opinion that the loss of tonality in some music after 1900 also meant the loss of narrative in that music To the contrary the editors and essayists in this book demonstrate how experiments in approaching narrative in other media such as fiction and cinema suggested fresh possibilities for musical narrative which composers were quick to exploit The new conceptions of time narrative voice plot and character that accompanied these experiments also had a significant impact on contemporary music The repertoire explored in the collection ranges across a wide variety of genres and includes composers from Charles Ives and the Pet Shop Boys to Thomas Ad s and Dmitri Shostakovich

Nineteenth-Century Chamber Music Stephen Hefling, 2004-03-01 Nineteenth Century Chamber Music proceeds chronologically by composer beginning with the majestic works of Beethoven and continuing through Schubert Spohr and Weber Mendelssohn Schumann Brahms the French composers Smetana and Dvor k and the end of the century pre modernists Each chapter is written by a noted authority in the field The book serves as a general introduction to Romantic chamber music and would be ideal for a seminar course on the subject or as an adjunct text for Introduction to Romantic Music courses Plus musicologists and students of 19th century music will find this to be an invaluable resource

Alan Bush, Modern Music, and the Cold War Joanna Bullivant, 2022-12-15 The first major study of Alan Bush this book provides new perspectives on twentieth century music and communism British communist composer of politicised works and friend of Soviet musicians Bush proved to be a lightning rod in the national musical culture His radical vision for British music prompted serious reflections on aesthetics and the rights of artists to private political opinions as well as influencing the development of state sponsored music making in East Germany Rejecting previous characterisations of Bush as political and musical Other Joanna Bullivant traces his aesthetic project from its origins in the 1920s to its collapse in the 1970s incorporating discussion of modernism political song music theory opera and Bush s response to the Soviet music crisis of 1948 Drawing on a wealth of archival sources including recently released documents from MI5 this book constructs new perspectives on the cultural Cold War through the lens of the individual artist

Music, Dance, and Drama in Early Modern English Schools Amanda Eubanks Winkler, 2020-06-04 Music Dance and Drama in Early Modern English Schools is the first book to systematically analyze the role that the performing arts played in English schools after the Reformation Although the material record is riddled with gaps Amanda Eubanks Winkler sheds light on the subject through an innovative methodology that combines rigorous archival research with phenomenological and performance studies approaches She organizes her study around a series of performance based questions that demonstrate how the schoolroom intersected with the church the court the domicile the concert room and the professional theater which allows her to provide fresh perspectives on well known canonical operas performed by children as well as lesser known works Eubanks Winkler also interrogates the notion that performance is ephemeral as she considers how scores and playtexts serve as a conduit between past and present and demonstrates the ways in which pedagogical performance is passed down through embodied praxis Music in Print and Beyond Craig A. Monson, Roberta Montemorra Marvin, 2013 Fresh and innovative takes on the dissemination of music in manuscript print and now electronic formats revealing how the world has experienced music from the sixteenth century to the present This collection of essays examines the diverse ways in which music and ideas about music have been disseminated in print and other media from the sixteenth century onward Contributors look afresh at unfamiliar facets of the sixteenth century book trade and the circulation of manuscript and printed music in the seventeenth to nineteenth centuries They also analyze and critique new media forms showing how a dizzying array of changing technologies has influenced what we hear whom we hear and how we hear The repertoires considered include Western art music from medieval to contemporary as well as popular music and jazz Assembling contributions from experts in a wide range of fields such as musicology music theory music history and jazz and popular music studies Music in Print and Beyond Hildegard von Bingen to The Beatles sets new standards for the discussion of music s place in Western cultural life Contributors Joseph Auner Bonnie J Blackburn Gabriela Cruz Bonnie Gordon Ellen T Harris Lewis Lockwood Paul S Machlin Roberta Montemorra Marvin Honey Meconi Craig A Monson Kate van Orden Sousan L Youens Roberta Montemorra Marvin teaches at the University of Iowa and is the author of Verdi the Student Verdi the Teacher Istituto Nazionale di Studi Verdiani 2010 and editor of The Cambridge Verdi Encyclopedia Cambridge University Press 2013 Craig A Monson is Professor of Musicology at Washington University St Louis Missouri and is the author of Divas in the Convent Nuns Music and Defiance in Seventeenth Century Italy University of Chicago Press 2012
