Usage-Based Approaches to Language Acquisition and Language Teaching

Jacqueline Evers-Vermeul, Elena Tribushinina, 2017-03-06 Although usage based approaches have been successfully applied to the study of both first and second language acquisition to monolingual and bilingual development and to naturalistic and instructed settings it is not common to consider these different kinds of acquisition in tandem The present volume takes an integrative approach and shows that usage based theories provide a much needed unified framework for the study of first second and foreign language acquisition in monolingual and bilingual contexts The contributions target the acquisition of a wide range of linguistic phenomena and critically assess the applicability and explanatory power of the usage based paradigm The book also systematically examines a range of cognitive and linguistic factors involved in the process of language development and relates relevant findings to language teaching

Finally this volume contributes to the assessment and refinement of empirical methods currently employed in usage based acquisition research This book is of interest to scholars of language acquisition language pedagogy developmental psychology as well as Cognitive Linguistics and Construction Grammar Advances in Information Systems Tatyana Yakhno,2003-06-30 This volume contains the proceedings of the Second International Conference on Advances in Information Systems ADVIS held in Izmir Turkey 23 25 October 2002 This conference was dedicated to the memory of Prof Esen Ozkarahan He was a great researcher who made an essential contribution to the development of information systems Prof Ozkarahan was one of the pioneers of database machine research and database systems in Turkey This conference was organized by the Computer Engineering department of Dokuz Eylul University in Izmir This department was established in 1994 by Prof Ozkarahan and he worked there for the last ve years of his life The main goal of the conference was to bring together researchers from all around the world working in di erent areas of information systems to share new ideas and present their latest results This time we received 94 submissions from 27 countries The program committee selected 40 papers for presentation at the conference During the conference a workshop was organized on the topic New Information Technologies in Education The invited and accepted cont butions cover a large variety of topics general aspects of information systems databases and data warehouses information retrieval multiagent systems and technologies distributed and parallel computing evolutionary algorithms and system programming and new information technologies in education The success of the conference was dependent upon the hard work of a large number of people We gratefully acknowledge the members of the Program C mittee who helped to coordinate the process of refereeing all submitted papers

Resources in Education,1997 Emergentist Approaches to Language Brian MacWhinney,Vera Kempe,Ping Li,Patricia J. Brooks,2022-02-16

The Grammar of Space Soteria Svorou,1994-04-06 A cross linguistic study of grammatical morphemes expressing spatial relationships that discusses the relationship between the way human beings experience space and the way it is encoded grammatically in language The discussion of the similarities and differences among languages in the encoding and expression of spatial relations centers around the emergence and evolution of spatial grams and the semantic and morphosyntactic characteristics of two types of spatial grams The author bases her observations on the study of data from 26 genetically unrelated and randomly selected languages It is shown that languages are similar in the way spatial grams emerge and evolve and also in the way specific types of spatial grams are used to express not only spatial but also temporal and other non spatial relations Motivation for these similarities may lie in the way we as human beings experience the world which is constrained by our physical configuration and neurophysiological apparatus as well as our individual cultures
