countering the dichotomy between tradition and modernity that typically informs most scholarly studies on contemporary Islam Offering highly original insights into Islamic thought and engaging with critical notions of tradition this book is essential reading for students and scholars of Islamic Politics and History      Domestic Violence and the Islamic Tradition Ayesha S. Chaudhry, 2013-12-20 Modern scholars of most major religious traditions who seek gender egalitarian interpretations of their scriptural texts confront a common dilemma how can they produce interpretations that are at once egalitarian and authoritative within traditions that are deeply patriarchal This book examines the challenges and resources that the Islamic tradition offers to Muslim scholars who seek to address this dilemma This is achieved through extensive study of the intellectual history of a Qur'anic verse that has become especially contentious in the modern period Chapter 4 Verse 34 Q 4 34 which can be read to permit the physical disciplining of disobedient wives at the hands of their husbands Though this verse has been used by historical and contemporary Muslim scholars in multiple ways to justify the right of husbands to physically discipline their wives progressive and reformist Muslim scholars and activists offer alternative and non violent readings of the verse The diverse and divergent interpretations of Q 4 34 showcases the pivotal role of the reader in shaping the meaning and implications of scriptural texts This book investigates the sophisticated and creative interpretive approaches to Q 4 34 tracing the intellectual history of Muslim scholarship on this verse from the ninth century to the present day Ayesha S Chaudhry examines the spirited and diverse and at times contradictory readings of this verse to reveal how Muslims relate to their inherited tradition and the Qur'anic text      Art and Architecture in the Islamic Tradition Mohammed Hamdouni Alami, 2013-12-20 What is art in the sense of the Islamic tradition Mohammed Hamdouni Alami argues that Islamic art has historically been excluded from Western notions of art that the Western aesthetic tradition's preoccupation with the human body and the ban on the representation of the human body in Islam has meant that Islamic and Western art have been perceived as inherently at odds However the move away from this anthropomorphic aesthetic in Western art movements such as modern abstract and constructivist painting have presented the opportunity for new ways of viewing and evaluating Islamic art and architecture This book questions the very idea of art predicated on the anthropocentric bias of classical art and the corollary exclusion of Islamic art from the status of art It addresses a central question in post classical aesthetic theory in as much as the advent of modern abstract and constructivist painting have shown that art can be other than the representation of the human body that art is not neutral aesthetic contemplation but it is fraught with power and violence and that the presupposition of classical art was not a universal truth but the assumption of a specific cultural and historical set of practices and vocabularies Based on close readings of classical Islamic literature philosophy poetry medicine and theology along with contemporary Western art theory the author uncovers a specific Islamic theoretical vision of art and architecture based on poetic practice politics cosmology and desire In particular it traces the effects of decoration and architectural planning on the human soul as well as the centrality of the gaze in this poetic view in

Arabic nazar while examining its surprising similarity to modern theories of the gaze Through this double gesture moving critically between two traditions the author brings Islamic thought and aesthetics back into the realm of visibility addressing the lack of recognition in comparison with other historical periods and traditions This is an important step toward a critical analysis of the contemporary debate around the revival of Islamic architectural identity a debate intricately embedded within opposing Islamic political and social projects throughout the world Manuscript and Print in the Islamic Tradition Scott Reese,2022-09-06 This volume explores and calls into question certain commonly held assumptions about writing and technological advancement in the Islamic tradition In particular it challenges the idea that mechanical print naturally and inevitably displaces handwritten texts as well as the notion that the so called transition from manuscript to print is unidirectional Indeed rather than distinct technologies that emerge in a progressive series one naturally following the other they frequently co exist in complex and complementary relationships relationships we are only now starting to recognize and explore The book brings together essays by internationally recognized scholars from an array of disciplines including philology linguistics religious studies history anthropology and typography whose work focuses on the written word channeled through various media as a social and cultural phenomenon within the Islamic tradition These essays promote systematic approaches to the study of Islamic writing cultures writ large in an effort to further our understanding of the social cultural and intellectual relationships between manuscripts printed texts and the people who use and create them

Reconfiguring Islamic Tradition Samira Haj,2008-10-02 Samira Haj conceptualizes Islam through a close reading of two Muslim reformers Muhammad ibn Abdul Wahhab 1703 1787 and Muhammad Abduh 1849 1905 each representative of a distinct trend chronological as well as philosophical in modern Islam Their works are examined primarily through the prism of two conceptual questions the idea of the modern and the formation of a Muslim subject Approaching Islam through the works of these two Muslims she illuminates aspects of Islamic modernity that have been obscured and problematizes assumptions founded on the oppositional dichotomies of modern traditional secular sacred and liberal fundamentalist The book explores the notions of the community society and the subject's location within it to demonstrate how Muslims in different historical contexts responded differently to theological and practical questions This knowledge will help us better understand the conflicts currently unfolding in parts of the Arab world      Recovering Environmental and Economic Traditions in the Islamic World ,2024-10-21 Recovering Environmental and Economic Traditions in the Islamic World is an interdisciplinary volume that interrogates varied approaches to environmental and economic thought in classical Islam and in a few contemporary case studies The contributions in this volume critique the dominant economic system and its perspective on the environment as a commodity across the boundaries of multiple intellectual traditions and academic fields The book analyses both historical trajectories and modern schools of thought while simultaneously exploring ethical applications to environmental and economic discourses as a tool of critique In this context the authors conceptualize and treat these discourses as polyvalent and enmeshed with various political ethical and cosmological perspectives and vistas

Animals in Islamic Tradition and Muslim Cultures Richard Foltz,2014-10-01 From references to animals in the Qur'an to modern day websites on Islamic vegetarianism Richard C Foltz presents the first comprehensive study of the role of animals in the Islamic tradition Drawing on a wide range of sources including classic mysticism Foltz traces the development of Islamic attitudes towards animals over the centuries and confronts the key ethical questions facing Muslims today Modern advances in science and technology and the increasing prevalence of techniques such as bioengineering and factory farming have forced many religions to reassess their traditional notions of animal rights and as Foltz demonstrates Muslims are increasingly asking their tradition to respond to such issues Scholarly yet accessible this is an original and informative contribution to Islamic studies and will be essential reading for anyone Muslim or non Muslim with an interest in the significance of religion and culture for the contemporary animal rights debate      Ibn 'Arabi in the Later Islamic Tradition
