The Urban Caribbean Alejandro Portes,Carlos Dore y Cabral,Patricia Landolt,1997-06-03 A study of urbanization in five countries Costa Rica Haiti Guatemala the Dominican Republic and Jamaica during the 1980s and 1990s when the region s economy shifted from one heavily dependent on imports to one directed more to producing exports The Urban Caribbean studies urbanization in five countries Costa Rica Haiti Guatemala the Dominican Republic and Jamaica during the 1980s and 1990s when the region s economy shifted from one heavily dependent on imports to one directed more to producing exports This shift caused producers and entrepreneurs to rely more on microenterprises thus challenging the informal economy networks of the central cities Sociologist Alejandro Portes and the other contributors use rich in depth data to examine both qualitative and quantitative changes in these five countries Their research method allows them to make generalizations applicable to all five economies while retaining the concreteness of the similarities and differences that make each country unique This volume is an incentive to other collaborative efforts to chart the paths taken by the countries of Latin America and the Caribbean as they seek to accommodate to the new global political and economic context The message of the volume is a convincing one Because of similarities in the trends affecting countries of the region and policy debates each country can benefit from the experiences of the others However the differences in political structure and in the nature of citizenship mean that social and economic policy debates must take into account the national context from the Foreword by Bryan Roberts University of Texas Austin

Structural Adjustment and Living Conditions in Developing Countries Nanak Kakwani,Elene Makonnen,J. van der Gaag,1990 By and large social indicators in developing countries improved in the 1980s but progress was slowest in the countries that needed it the most The data show unacceptably high mortality rates low school enrollment levels and extensive undernutrition in many parts of the world Of particular concern are the declining primary enrollment ratios in intensely adjusting countries This erosion of human capital is inconsistent with the main objectives of adjustment sustainable long term growth

Poverty and Life Expectancy James C. Riley,2005-07-18 A multidisciplinary study that reconstructs Jamaica s rise from low to high life expectancy and explains how that was achieved Jamaica is one of the small number of countries that has attained a life expectancy nearly matching that in richer countries despite having a much lower level of per capita income

Ethnicity, Social Mobility, and Public Policy Glenn C. Loury,Tariq Modood,Steven M. Teles,2005-05-12 This major comparative study of the social mobility of ethnic minorities in the US and UK argues that social mobility must be understood as a complex and multi dimensional phenomenon incorporating the wealth and income of groups but also their political power and social recognition Written by leading sociologists economists political scientists geographers and philosophers in both countries the volume addresses issues as diverse as education work and employment residential concentration political mobilisation public policy and social networks while drawing larger lessons about the meaning of race and inequality in the two countries While finding that there are important similarities in the experience of ethnic and especially immigrant groups in the two countries the volume also concludes that the differences between the US and UK especially in the case of American blacks are equally important

Technology Adoption in the Caribbean Tourism Industry Andrew Spencer,2020-10-31 This book investigates the adoption of Information and Communication Technologies ICTs in Caribbean travel firms particularly for sales and marketing purposes By examining the decision making process in tourism companies deciding whether to become more dependent on digital capabilities and artificial intelligence this text seeks to understand the role of strategy and resources in technology adoption Further the author assesses the role of factors both external such as culture and internal such as leadership in this strategic process Economies in the Caribbean are reliant on tourism to bring prosperity to the region and with the onset of the COVID 19 pandemic the industry is being forced to transform the way it operates With implications for those studying organizational behavior as well as strategic and tourism management this study analyzes rapid change in this pivotal industry The Leadership Imperative Andrew Spencer,2014-08-11 This innovative work combines the fields of e tourism adoption and strategic management and identifies the combination of antecedents of technology adoption by distilling factors to identify the key determinant of the adoption of the internet for sales and marketing purposes in small owner managed travel firms While it focuses on travel firms in Jamaica it examines the general issue of firm characteristics which are associated with adoption behaviour such as strategy and resources as well as external factors such as culture and the digital divide In addition to external and firm factors personal factors such as ownership and leadership are explored at various stages of adoption The findings indicate that the role of leadership is much more significant than has been previously posited and this book therefore recommends a new theoretical model with practical implications for determining technology adoption

World Bank Policy-based Lending 1980-1985 Gail Stevenson,1988 The World Bank s structural and sectoral adjustment lending policy of the 1980s is a fundamental departure from earlier project based lending Policy based lending supports reforms designed to remove structural and institutional impediments to more efficient resource use and to facilitate adjustment to world markets Toward this end measures often focus on trade liberalization and export promotion This paper reviews the literature on policy based lending the relationship between domestic and external growth in recipient countries from 1980 85 and the effects of lending in four country case studies South Korea Turkey Malawi and Jamaica In a cross country context recipient countries have not exhibited better export performance than non recipient IMF high conditionality countries Common themes that emerge from the case studies are the inability of policy based lending to attract the level of private funding upon which continued adjustment of predicated and the difficulty of implementing and sustaining institutional reforms These and other lessons raise questions about the sustainability of policy based adjustment lending beyond its chosen medium term time frame 3 to 5 years Global Security Upheaval Robert Mandel,2013-04-03 This book calls into question the commonly held contentions that central governments are the most important or even the sole sources of a nation s stability and that subnational and transnational nonstate forces are a major source of global instability By assessing recent real world trends Mandel reveals that areas exist where it makes little sense to rely on state governments for stability and that attempts to bolster such governments to promote stability often prove futile He demonstrates how armed nonstate groups can sometimes provide local stability better than states and how power sharing arrangements between states and armed nonstate groups may sometimes be viable He concludes that these trends in the international setting call for major shifts in our understanding of what constitutes stable governance proposing that we adopt a fluid emergent actor approach And he calls for significant deviation from standard policy responses to the opportunities and dangers posed by nontraditional sources of national authority Agenda ,1982 Jamaica Kenneth E. Ingram,1997 Jamaica is one of a chain of islands the West Indian archipelago which encircles the Caribbean Sea Its earliest indigenous people the Tainos succumbed to the arrival of western Europeans inaugurated by the encounter with Columbus in 1494 Spanish rule gave way in 1655 to some 300 years of English colonial rule involving nearly two centuries of plantation slavery The country finally gained independence in 1962 Jamaica has made some notable contributions in the international arena Perhaps best known are its contributions in the world of sport popular music reggae and in its development of distinctive forms of dance theatre and folk music This wide ranging volume is a fully revised and updated edition of the work which was first published in 1984 Disability Alliances and Allies Allison C.
