Table for One Rachael Reed, Being single at any age can be challenging in a world that seems to place so much importance on finding the love of your life and becoming a couple The whole world seems to be geared up to support you in this quest But there is very little support given to those who are consciously choosing to be spend time alone learning to enjoy their own company and the creativity it sparks There is almost a sense of failure or that there is something wrong with unpartnered people which is really quite ridiculous especially since more and more people are realizing that the partnerships they formed early in life have failed to pass the tests of time and they themselves are now living the single life So you are single for whatever reason here is an awesome guide for making the most of being single
