Here is the Christian experience from Apostolic times through the witness of the early Church Fathers and then Christendom in the Middle Ages and the periods of absolutisms, imperialisms, and revolutions in the early modern and modern world down to the end of the nineteenth century. Empires at War Francis Pike, 2011-02-28. As the major geopolitical power bloc Asia, with 4 billion people, two thirds of the world's population, a huge land mass, and the fastest growing economies, has shifted the global political balance, Empires at War gives a dramatic narrative account of how Modern Asia came into being. Ranging over the whole of Asia from Japan to Pakistan, the modern history of this important region is placed in the context of the struggle between America and the Soviet Union. Francis Pike shows that America's domination of post-war Asia was a continuation of a 100-year competition for power in the region. He also argues cogently that, contrary to the largely Western-centric viewpoint, Asian nations were not simply the passive and biddable entities of the superpowers but had a political development which was both separate and unique, with a dynamic that was largely independent of the superpower conflict. And in conclusion, the book traces the unwinding of American influence and the end of its Empire, a crucial development in international history which is already having repercussions throughout the world.
