The Heather Blazing:

The Heather Blazing Colm Toibin, 2012-10-30 Colm T ib n s lovely understated novel that proceeds with stately grace The Washington Post Book World about an uncompromising judge whose principles when brought home to his own family are tragic Eamon Redmond is a judge in Ireland s high court a completely legal creature who is just beginning to discover how painfully unconnected he is from other human beings With effortless fluency Colm T ib n reconstructs the history of Eamon s relationships with his father his first girl his wife and the children who barely know him and he writes about Eamon s affection for the Irish coast with such painterly skill that the land itself becomes a character The result is a novel of stunning power seductive and absorbing USA Today The Heather Blazing Colm Tóibín, 2024-04-09 Colm T ib n s The Heather Blazing details the life of Eamon Redmond a judge in Ireland s high court a man remote from his wife his son and daughter and at least outwardly from his own childhood The life he has built for himself between his work in Dublin and his family s retreat by the sea at Cush is distinguished by order and by achievement When like his beloved coastline it begins to slip away he is pulled sharply into the present and finds himself revisiting his past The Heather Blazing Colm Tóibín, 1992 Eamon Redmond is a judge in Ireland s high court a completely legal creature who is just beginning to discover how painfully unconnected he is from other human beings With effortless fluency Colm Toibin reconstructs the history of Eamon s relationships with his father his first girl his wife and the children who barely know him and he writes about Eamon s affection for the Irish coast with such painterly skill that the land itself becomes a character The result is a novel of stunning power seductive and absorbing USA Today Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century David Pierce, 2000 With five Nobel Prize winners seven Pulitzer Prize winners and two Booker Prize winning novelists modern Irish writing has contributed something special and permanent to our understanding of the twentieth century Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century provides a useful comprehensive and pleasurable introduction to modern Irish literature in a single volume Organized chronologically by decade this anthology provides the reader with a unique sense of the development and richness of Irish writing and of the society it reflected It embraces all forms of writing not only the major forms of drama fiction and verse but such material as travel writing personal memoirs journalism interviews and radio plays to offer the reader a complete and wonderfully varied sense of Ireland s contribution our literary heritage David Pierce has selected major literary figures as well as neglected ones and includes many writers from the Irish diaspora The range of material is enormous and ensures that work that is inaccessible or out of print is now easily available The book is a delightful compilation including many well known pieces and captivating discoveries which anyone interested in literature will long enjoy browsing and dipping into Reading the Contemporary Irish Novel 1987 - 2007 Liam Harte, 2014-01-28 Reading the Contemporary Irish Novel 1987 2007 is the authoritative guide to some of the most inventive and challenging fiction to emerge from Ireland in the last 25 years Meticulously researched it presents detailed interpretations of novels by some of Ireland s most eminent writers This is the first text focused critical survey of the Irish novel from 1987 to 2007 providing detailed readings of 11 seminal Irish novels A timely and much needed text in a largely uncharted critical field Provides detailed interpretations of individual novels by some of the country s most critically celebrated writers including Sebastian Barry Roddy Doyle Anne Enright Patrick McCabe John McGahern Edna O'Brien and Colm Tóibín Investigates the ways in which Irish novels have sought to deal with and reflect a changing Ireland The fruit of many years reading teaching and research on the subject by a leading and highly respected academic in the field

Why Does Literature Matter? Frank B. Farrell, 2018-07-05 Literature matters because it allows for experiences important to the living out of a sophisticated and satisfying human life because other arenas of culture cannot provide them to the same degree and because a relatively small number of texts carry out these functions in so exceptional a manner that we owe it to past and future members of the species to keep such texts alive in our cultural traditions from Chapter One Frank B Farrell defends a rich conception of the space of literature that retains its links to issues of self formation and metaphysics and does not let that space collapse into just another reflection of social space He maintains that recent literary theory has badly misread findings in the philosophy of language and the theory of subjectivity That misreading Farrell says has tended to endorse ways of understanding literature that make one question why it matters at all Farrell here opposes some recent theoretical trends and through a mix of philosophical and literary studies tells us why in his view literature does truly matter Among the writers Farrell discusses are John Ashbery Samuel Beckett Amit Chaudhuri Cormac McCarthy James Merrill Marcel Proust Thomas Pynchon Salman Rushdie W G Sebald and John Updike The philosophers important to his arguments include Donald Davidson Daniel Dennett and Bernard Williams G W F Hegel Martin Heidegger Friedrich Nietzsche and Ludwig Wittgenstein play roles as well Among the literary theorists addressed are Stephen Greenblatt Paul de Man and Marjorie Perloff In addition to his close readings of literary philosophical and critical texts Farrell considers cultural studies and postcolonial studies more generally and speculates on the possible contributions of object relations theory in psychology to the study of literature

Hidden Mutualities Michael Mitchell, 2006 Hidden mutualities link the work of major postcolonial writers with Christopher Marlowe's drama of the Faustian pact the manipulation of the material world in exchange for the soul written as the scientific world view was emerging which accompanied the imperial expansion of Europe and has determined the economic and social structures of the colonial and postcolonial world This fascinating study brings together researches in widely different fields to show how Doctor Faustus reflects a Gnostic Hermetic tradition marginalized within the dominant European power structures Rediscovered in the Renaissance and combined with occult arts such as alchemy and magic this living tradition informs the work of Magus figures such as Pico della Mirandola Marcilio Ficino Trithemius Johannes Reuchlin Agrippa of Nettesheim Paracelsus and John Dee who are reflected in the Faust tradition and in Prospero in Shakespeare's The Tempest The second part investigates the dual legacy of the Magus A counterpoint between a law governed objective material world and an occult visionary pursuit of the divine potential of the human imagination is traced through the examples of Johan Kepler Robert Fludd Isaac Newton William Blake Rudyard Kipling Aleister Crowley W B Yeats Wolfgang Pauli and C G Jung In the third part textual analysis reveals how attention to these Faustian themes opens new and exciting critical perspectives in appreciating the works of postcolonial writers in particular Dimetos by Athol Fugard Disappearance by David Dabydeen Omeros by Derek Walcott and the novels of Wilson Harris

Confessions of a Guilty Freelancer William O'Rourke, 2012-06-19 William O'Rourke's singular view of American life over the past 40 years shines forth in these short essays on subjects personal political and literary which reveal a man of keen intellect and wide ranging interests They embrace everything from the state of the nation after 9/11 to the author's encounter with rap from the masterminds of political makeovers to the rich variety of contemporary American writing His reviews illuminate both the books themselves and the times in which we live and his personal reflections engage even the most fearful events with a special humor and gentle pathos Readers will find this richly rewarding volume difficult to put down Far from the Land Thomas J. Rice, 2009-12-22 The setting of Far From the Land is rural Ireland in the 1950s Thomas Rice has written a memoir about a way of life that no longer exists no running water no toilets no electricity and little access to education jobs or basic health care Early on the story plunges into a culture haunted by recent memories of famines and still showing some of the scars from The Great Hunger of the 1840s Writing about father son relationships the author recalls the night his absentee IRA father returns from England for the first time in ten years Known as The Voice because of his tenors talent the impact of his first song Thomas Moores haunting tribute to the sweetheart of his martyred friend Robert Emmet was beautiful The poem was titled She is Far From the Land No one in the kitchen that night ever forgot it It was the perfect song sung by the perfect voice at the perfect time Far From the Land has the benefit of five decades of retrospection as the author brings each of his characters to life with startling honesty without nostalgia or cliché Readers will come away with a renewed respect for rural Irish culture and her people Weaving New Perspectives Together María Alonso

Alonso, Jeannette Bello Mota, Alba de Béjar Muños, 2012-04-25 The present volume seeks to offer a novel and interdisciplinary overview of the question of literary interpretation and the numerous perspectives current in the field today Written by early career researchers and enriched with the important contributions of three senior lecturers the articles contained in this compilation are devised to work as a multi faceted whole that may at the same time give inspiration to students and constitute a guide to more experienced scholars Acting as an integrating entity that agglutinates works from scholars across Europe the editors consider this book to be a clear example of the dynamism of present day literary studies and of the numerous ways in which literature can speak to people Following Margaret Atwood s statement The answers you get from literature depend on the questions you pose this volume may be said to possess the potential to provide as many answers as it poses new questions which will stimulate future research in the field Twentieth-Century Irish Literature Aaron Kelly, 2008-06-02 This Guide surveys existing criticism and theory making clear the key critical debates themes and issues surrounding a wide variety of Irish poets playwrights and novelists It relates Irish literature to debates surrounding issues such as national identity modernity and the Revival period armed struggle gender sexuality and post colonialism

Northern / Irish Feminist Judgments Máiréad Enright, Julie McCandless, Aoife O'Donoghue, 2017-02-09 The Northern Irish Feminist Judgments Project inaugurates a fresh dialogue on gender legal judgment judicial power and national identity in Ireland and Northern Ireland Through a process of judicial re imagining the project takes account of the peculiarly Northern Irish concerns in shaping gender through judicial practice This collection following on from feminist judgments projects in Canada England and Australia takes the feminist judging methodology in challenging new directions This book collects 26 rewritten judgments covering a range of substantive areas As well as opinions from appellate courts the book includes first instance decisions and a fictional review of a Tribunal of Inquiry Each feminist judgment is accompanied by a commentary putting the case in its social context and explaining the original decision The book also includes introductory chapters examining the project methodology constructions of national identity theoretical and conceptual issues pertaining to feminist judging and the legal context of both jurisdictions The book shines a light on past and future possibilities and limitations for judgment on the island of Ireland This book provides a rich and expansive addition to the feminist judgments catalogue The judgments demonstrate powerfully how Northern Irish judges have contributed to the gendered politics of national identity and how the narrow subject positions they have created for women and others could have been so much wider and more open Professor Rosemary Hunter School of Law Queen Mary University London The Northern Irish Feminist Judgments Project is inspirational reading for anyone interested in feminism or Irish studies It is a model of how to conduct feminist enquiry Its most innovative contribution to scholarship and politics is how the rewriting of landmark legal judgments from a feminist perspective allows us to imagine and therefore begin to construct a more egalitarian a more just future Associate Professor Katherine O'Donnell School of Philosophy University College Dublin If you let it this book will make you think It made me think it reminded me I suppose that legal writing can be wonderful rigorous creative deeply observant provocative Read it and see what it makes you think Professor Theresa Murphy School of Law Queen's University Belfast

The High Road Edna O'Brien, 2022-03-08 Love and tragedy converge in a seaside town in The High Road a newly reissued novel from Edna O'Brien the author of Girl and one of the most celebrated writers in the English language NPR's Weekend Edition This richly peopled compellingly readable novel explores the many lives of women as mystic mother daughter and lover There is Iris with her winsome winsome ways no longer young there is Charlotte a troubled debutante who has fled from society and there is the narrator Anna who feels that her emotional life has folded until she meets a young Spanish girl named Catalina Set in a seaside enclave on the Mediterranean coast The High Road is a passionate account of lost love and the return to loving where currents of regret and loneliness clash with a fiery instinct for survival Conflict

Zone Literatures Debamitra Kar, 2024-07-12 This book examines the metanarratives promoted by the state that determine the ideological framework and how these respond under extraneous circumstances like conflicts The volume shows how individuals in such geo-politically aggrieved zones re-organise re-structure and re-interpret their memory and identity and negotiate with violence in the literary space Focusing on Kashmir and Northern Ireland in the decades of 1980s and 1990s and post 9/11 America the author maps the changing contours of the state and its powers in the late capitalist phase It investigates complex themes such as the changing nature of governance and warfare citizenship and resistance inclusivity and xenophobia and statecraft as a linguistic discourse in the post-global scenario Interdisciplinary in approach the volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of literature and aesthetics peace and conflict studies politics and international relations

Brooklyn Colm Toibin, 2010-04-06 Winner of the Costa Novel Award and longlisted for the Man Booker Prize Colm Toibin's internationally bestselling novel is a story of devastating emotional power At the centre of Colm T

ib n s internationally celebrated novel is Eilis Lacey one among many of her generation who has come of age in 1950s Ireland but cannot find work at home When she receives a job offer in America it is clear to everyone that she must go Leaving her family and country behind Eilis heads for unfamiliar Brooklyn and to a crowded boarding house where the landlady s intense scrutiny and the small jealousies of her fellow residents only deepen her isolation Slowly however the pain of parting and a longing for home are buried beneath the rhythms of her new life until she begins to realize that she has found a sort of happiness But just as Eilis begins to fall in love tragic news summons her back to Ireland where she unexpectedly finds herself facing an impossible decision

Recovering Memory Hedda Friberg,Irene Gilsenan Nordin,Lene Yding Pedersen,2009-03-26 Various ways of collecting storing and recovering memories have been the focus of the most recent joint research project carried out by a group of Irish Studies scholars all based in the Nordic countries and members of the Nordic Irish Studies Network NISN The result of the project Recovering Memory Irish Representations of Past and Present is a collection of essays which examines the theme of memory in Irish literature and culture against the theoretical background of the philosophical discourse of modernity Offering a wide range of perspectives this volume examines a plurality of representations past and present of memory both public and private and the intersection between collective memory and individual in modern Ireland Also explored is the relation between memory and identity national and private as well as questions of subjectivity and the construction of the self Given Ireland s tragic past and its long history of colonisation it is inevitable that various aspects of memory in terms of nationality post colonialism and politics also have bearing on this study The volume is divided into five sections each of which examines one broadly defined aspect of memory The introductory section focuses on memory and history and is followed by sections on memory and autobiography place identity and memory in the work of novelist John Banville Within each section the individual writers engage in a fruitful dialogue with each other and with the approaches of such theorists as Arendt Husserl Merleau Ponty Ricoeur and Baudrillard
