Reverby, 2012-12-01 Between 1932 and 1972 approximately six hundred African American men in Alabama served as unwitting guinea pigs in what is now considered one of the worst examples of arrogance racism and duplicity in American medical research the Tuskegee syphilis study Told they were being treated for bad blood the nearly four hundred men with late stage syphilis and two hundred disease free men who served as controls were kept away from appropriate treatment and plied instead with placebos nursing visits and the promise of decent burials Despite the publication of more than a dozen reports in respected medical and public health journals the study continued for forty years until extensive media coverage finally brought the experiment to wider public knowledge and forced its end This edited volume gathers articles contemporary newspaper accounts selections from reports and letters reconsiderations of the study by many of its principal actors and works of fiction drama and poetry to tell the Tuskegee story as never before Together these pieces illuminate the ethical issues at play from a remarkable breadth of perspectives and offer an unparalleled look at how the study has been understood over time Ebony, 1991-03 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine Original unpublished papers illustrative of the life of Sir P. P. Rubens, as an artist and a diplomatist. Preserved in H.M. State Paper Office. With an appendix of documents respecting the Arundelian collection etc. Collected and edited by W. N. Sainsbury William Noel Sainsbury, 1859 Original Unpublished Papers Illustrative of the Life of Sir Peter Paul Rubens William Noel Sainsbury, 1859 Harlemworld John L. Jackson Jr., 2010-05-01 Harlem is one of the most famous neighborhoods in the world a historic symbol of both black cultural achievement and of the rigid boundaries separating the rich from the poor But as this book shows us Harlem is far more culturally and economically diverse than its caricature suggests through extensive fieldwork and interviews John L Jackson reveals a variety of social networks and class stratifications and explores how African Americans interpret and perform different class identities in their everyday behavior

Holding the Line George White, 2005 The Eisenhower administration's confrontation with Africa demonstrates the significance of race in the creation and execution of American foreign policy In this new work historian George White Jr explores the ways in which Eisenhower diplomacy influenced by America s racialized fantasies fears and desires turned the Cold War into a global sanctuary for the rehabilitation of Whiteness

The Shotover Papers, Or, Echoes from Oxford ,1874 Isis on the Nile. Egyptian Gods in Hellenistic and Roman Egypt ,2010-12-17 The diffusion of the cults of Isis is recently again intensively studied Research on this fascinating phenomenon has traditionally been characterised by its focus on L gypte hors d gypte while developments in Hellenistic and Roman Egypt itself were often seen as belonging to a different domain This volume tries to overcome that unhealthy dichotomy by studying the cults of Isis in Hellenistic and Roman Egypt itself in relation to developments in the Mediterranean at large The book not only presents an overview of the most important deities often based on new or unpublished material but also pays ample attention to the cultural processes behind Isis on Nile like relations between style and identity religious choice social and cultural memory and Egypt s view of its own past

House of Commons,1906 Media and Mass Atrocity Allan Thompson,2019-04-05 When human beings are at their worst as they most certainly were in Rwanda during the 1994 genocide the world needs the institutions of journalism and the media to be at their best Sadly in Rwanda the media fell short Media and Mass Atrocity revisits the case of Rwanda but also examines how the nexus between media and mass atrocity has been shaped by the dramatic rise of social media. It has been twenty five years since Rwanda slid into the abyss. The killings happened in broad daylight but many of us turned away. A quarter century later there is still much to learn about the relationship between the media and genocide, an issue laid bare by the Rwanda tragedy. Media and Mass Atrocity revisits the debate over the role of traditional news media in Rwanda where confronted by the horrors taking place, international news media for the most part turned away and at times muddled the story when they did pay attention. Hate media outlets in Rwanda played a role in laying the groundwork for genocide and then actively encouraged the extermination campaign. The news media not only failed to fully grasp and communicate the genocide but mostly overlooked the war crimes committed during the genocide and in its aftermath by the Rwandan Patriotic Front. The global media landscape has been transformed since Rwanda. We are now saturated with social media generated as often as not by non-journalists. Mobile phones are everywhere. And in many quarters the traditional news media business model continues to recede. Against that backdrop it is more important than ever to examine the nexus between media and mass atrocity. The book includes an extensive section on the echoes of Rwanda which looks at the cases of Darfur, the Central African Republic, Myanmar and South Sudan while the impact of social media as a new actor is examined through chapters on social media use by the Islamic State and in Syria and in other contexts across the developing world. It also looks at the aftermath of the genocide, the shifting narrative of the genocide itself, the evolving debate over the role and impact of hate media in Rwanda, the challenge of digitizing archival records of the genocide and the fostering of free and independent media in atrocity's wake. The volume also probes how journalists themselves confront mass atrocity and examines the preventive function of media through the use of advanced digital technology as well as radio programming in the Lake Chad Basin and the Democratic Republic of Congo. Media and Mass Atrocity questions what the lessons of Rwanda mean now in an age of communications so dramatically influenced by social media and the relative decline of traditional news media.
