The Ivory Swing Janette Turner Hospital, 2003 No Marketing Blurb The Postcolonial Exotic Graham Huggan, 2002-09-26 Graham Huggan examines some of the processes by which value is given to postcolonial works within their cultural field using both literary critical and sociological methods of analysis Discussion Notes on Janette Turner Hospital's The Ivory Swing Laurie Clancy, 1996 Profiles in Canadian Literature Jeffrey M. Heath, 1980 A series of essays on Canadian authors profiling the writers work providing insight into themes and giving a chronology of the authors life Private and Fictional Words (Routledge Revivals) Coral Ann Howells, 2014-08-07 First published in 1987 this is an introductory study of the most widely read Canadian women novelists of the 1970s and 1980s At its centre lies the question of how the search for a distinctive cultural identity relates to the need for a national cultural identity in the post colonial era Coral Ann Howells argues that Canadian women s fiction throughout the period of study represents how the Canadian cultural identity exceeds its geographical limits and those traditional structures of patriarchal authority need revision if women s alternative views are to be taken into account Including short biographical sketches and a complete list of the books published by the authors under discussion writers examined include Margaret Atwood Alice Munro and Margaret Laurence biographical facts and critical assessments to place the featured writers in the larger context of South Carolina's literary tradition. The guide comprises 128 entries written by more than sixty-nine literary scholars and it also highlights the sixty-nine writers inducted thus far into the South Carolina Academy of Authors which serves as the state's literary hall of fame. Rich in natural beauty and historic complexity, South Carolina has long been a source of inspiration for writers. The talented novelists, essayists, poets, playwrights, journalists, historians, and other writers featured here represent the countless individuals who have shared tales and lore of South Carolina. The guide includes a foreword by George Singleton, author of two novels, four short story collections, and one nonfiction book, and a 2010 inductee of the South Carolina Academy of Authors.

Water from the Moon Jean-Francois Vernay, 2007. Author of six novels. Christopher John Koch, born in 1932, is one of Australia's leading novelists who enjoys worldwide recognition. Koch's writing has its finger on the pulse of today's changing society. Not only does his work fall within a universal stream, but it also stands out as a production of its own, built like a puzzle with distinct pieces. Through fiction, Koch explores other genres: the fairy tale, drama, poetry, to the point of producing multi-faceted works which challenge classification. In spite of the constant renewal of his settings for action, one notices the presence of a main thread which runs through Koch's fiction: the antipodean and ambiguous relationship between illusion and reality. This theoretically informed monograph provides a book-by-book analysis of the novelist's oeuvre and gives a full picture of his Weltanschauung. It is a valuable reference for scholars in Australian Studies as well as those researching postcolonial, psychoanalytic, and literary theories.

New-Found-Lands Alwin Fill, 1993. The Oxford Companion to English Literature Dinah Birch, 2009-09-24. The Oxford Companion to English Literature has long been established as the leading reference resource for students, teachers, scholars, and general readers of English literature. It provides unrivalled coverage of all aspects of English literature: from writers, their works, and the historical and cultural context in which they wrote, to critics, literary theory, and allusions. For the seventh edition, the Companion has been thoroughly revised and updated to meet the needs and concerns of today's students and general readers. Over 1,000 new entries have been added, ranging from new writers (Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie, Patrick Marber, David Mitchell, Arundhati Roy) to increased coverage of writers and literary movements from around the world. Coverage of American literature has been substantially increased with new entries on writers such as Cormac McCarthy and Amy Tan, and on movements and publications. Contextual and historical coverage has also been expanded with new entries on European history and culture, postcolonial literature, as well as writers and literary movements from around the world that have influenced English literature. The Companion has always been a quick and dependable source of reference for students, and the new edition confirms its pre-eminent role as the go-to resource of first choice. All entries have been reviewed, and details of new works, biographies, and criticism have been brought right up to date. So also has coverage of the themes, approaches, and concepts encountered by students today, from terms to articles on literary theory and theorists. There is increased coverage of writers from around the world, as well as from Ireland, Scotland, and Wales and of contextual topics including film and television music and art Cross referencing has been thoroughly updated with stronger linking from writers to thematic and conceptual entries Meanwhile coverage of popular genres such as children s literature science fiction biography reportage crime fiction fantasy or travel literature has been increased substantially with new entries on writers from Philip Pullman to Anne Frank and from Anais Nin to Douglas Adams The seventh edition of this classic Companion now under the editorship of Dinah Birch assisted by a team of 28 distinguished associate editors and over 150 contributors ensures that it retains its status as the most authoritative informative and accessible guide to literature available The Tiger in the Tiger Pit Janette Turner Hospital, 2003 No Marketing Blurb
