The John Steinbeck Map of America, 1986      Steinbeck's Imaginarium Robert DeMott, 2022-11-15 In Steinbeck's Imaginarium Robert DeMott delves into the imaginative creative and sometimes neglected aspects of John Steinbeck's writing. DeMott positions Steinbeck as a prophetic voice for today as much as he was for the Depression era 1930s as the essays explore the often unknown or unacknowledged elements of Steinbeck's artistic career that deserve closer attention. He writes about the determining scientific influences such as quantum physics and ecology in Cannery Row and considers Steinbeck's addiction to writing through the lens of the extensive obsessive full-length journals that he kept while writing three of his best-known novels: The Grapes of Wrath, The Wayward Bus, and East of Eden. DeMott insists that these monumental works of fiction all comprise important statements on his creative process and his theory of fiction writing. DeMott further blends his personal experience as a lifelong angler with a reading of several neglected fishing episodes in Steinbeck's work. Collectively the chapters illuminate John Steinbeck as a fully conscious self-aware literate experimental novelist whose talents will continue to warrant study and admiration for years to come.      California: Mapping the Golden State through History Ray Jones, Vincent Virga, 2009-10-14 Combining 50 rare beautiful and diverse maps of California from the collections of the Library of Congress, informative captions about the origins and contents of those maps, and essays on Golden State history, this book is a collectible for cartography buffs and a celebration of state history for residents, former residents, and visitors.      An American Map Anne-Marie Oomen, 2010 Meditative travel essays by Michigan author Anne Marie Oomen that explore new landscapes across America. In An American Map, Anne Marie Oomen, award-winning writer and self-confessed northern Michigan homebody, chronicles her recent travels across America in essays that span rediscovered landscapes, wild back roads, vital cities, and everything in between. Oomen takes both a wide and narrow lens to her destinations, giving readers a vivid sense of each locale while finding resonances between each place and her own experiences. With each new adventure, Oomen finds her sense of self deepening and becoming more clearly rooted in the larger adventure of America. The evocative essays of An American Map consider locations across the United States, from the poetry of Alpine meadows to the terror of desert border crossings, the irony of ocean floors littered with live ordnance, and the excitement of a rural film premiering in New York City. Oomen's warm personal voice takes readers into the heart of each experience as she imagines that a place like the Smoky Mountains could offer insight into the Iraq War or that a decaying war tank could help save rare turtles. Oomen proves that the value of travel is not merely in the physical place but the spiritual or meditative place it allows us to visit at the same time. Fans of Oomen's writing as well as all readers interested in travel writing will appreciate the unique insights and diverse landscapes of An American Map.      Ecospatality Lowell Wyse, 2021-07-01 Ecospatality explores modern and contemporary American prose literature through the lens of place, showing how authors like William Least Heat Moon, Willa Cather, Richard Wright, and Leslie Marmon Silko represent and reimagine real places in the world and the human environment relationships therein Building on the work of scholars in geography sociology ecocriticism and geocriticism this book articulates the theory of ecospatiality an understanding of place as simultaneously spatial ecological and historical In our current historical moment which is characterized by ongoing ecological collapse and a not unrelated increase in social disorder few issues are more urgent than the human relationship with our environments Whether we characterize this new epoch as the climate change era or the Anthropocene we can no longer ignore the fact that the places we live are rapidly changing in response to economic and environmental pressures Rather than thinking of place as a neutral site for social interaction we should recognize how it underpins and intertwines with human experience Fortunately literature can help us think through how place operates Lowell Wyse shows that texts can be understood as works of literary cartography Focusing on works of nonfiction and fiction whose primary settings are on the North American continent Ecospatiality demonstrates how these narratives rely on realistic literary geography to invoke and sometimes retell important aspects of environmental history within particular communities and bioregions

Expanding Adaptation Networks Kate Newell, 2017-05-22 This book addresses print based modes of adaptation that have not conventionally been theorized as adaptations such as novelization illustration literary maps pop up books and ekphrasis It discusses a broad range of image and word based adaptations of popular literary works among them The Wizard of Oz Alice in Wonderland Daisy Miller The Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde Moby Dick and Adventures of Huckleberry Finn The study reveals that commercial and franchise works and ephemera play a key role in establishing a work s iconography Newell argues that the cultural knowledge and memory of a work is constructed through reiterative processes and proposes a network based model of adaptation to explain this Whereas most adaptation studies prioritize film and television this book s focus on print invites new entry points for the study of adaptation

Steinbeck's Uneasy America Barbara A. Heavilin, Susan Shillinglaw, 2024 The first scholarly assessment of Steinbeck s bestselling travelogue Travels with Charley published in 1962 a narrative that blurs the lines between nonfiction and fiction Steinbeck s Uneasy America is the first collection of critical scholarship devoted to Travels with Charley in Search of America John Steinbeck s best selling late career travel memoir In 1960 Steinbeck was a renowned man of American letters Many considered him America s troubadour of ordinary people the conscience of the country But weakened by two small strokes and anxious that he had lost touch with America he embarked on a cross country road trip accompanied by his wife s standard poodle Charley Two years later he published Travels with Charley to popular acclaim and robust sales Throughout this narrative Steinbeck insists that all of our perceptions are warped by personality history and society And while this hybrid and experimental book has long been accepted as an accurate account of his journey journalists and scholars agree that the narrative is part factual part fiction America as seen through Steinbeck s particular warp The work is long overdue for scholarly assessment Steinbeck s Uneasy America explores three main topics Part 1 explores genre and form to consider the degree to which the work is fiction or nonfiction Part 2 assesses Steinbeck s increasingly bleak assessment of America almost a jeremiad that warns citizens of ecological excess and political apathy Part 3 focuses on Travels with Charley as a road text travel adventure and literary influence This volume s authors offer rich scholarly insights and a wealth of stories facts and anecdotes about Steinbeck and the adventures and misadventures he and Charley met on the road Lively and groundbreaking the collection both enlightens and enlivens discussions of Steinbeck and of the twentieth century American book world

Refiguring the Map of Sorrow Mark Allister, 2001-10-29 Recent decades have witnessed an explosion of interest in both autobiography and environmental literature In Refiguring the Map of Sorrow Mark Allister brings these two genres together by examining a distinct form of grief narrative in which the writers deal with mourning by standing explicitly both outside and inside the text outside in writing about the natural world inside in making that exposition part of the grieving process Building on Peter Fritzell s thesis in Nature Writing and America that the best American nature writing blends Aristotelian natural history and Augustinian confession this work of literary interpretation draws on psychoanalytical narrative theory studies of grieving autobiography theory and ecocriticism for its insights into how nature writing can become an autobiographical healing act Allister examines works by Terry Tempest Williams Sue Hubbell Peter Matthiessen Bill Barich William Least Heat Moon and Gretel Ehrlich in order to demonstrate the difficulty of hearing nature speak and of translating terrain and self into language and form As he focuses on the many ways in which humans connect often deeply and urgently to animals or the land Allister vastly extends our understanding of relational autobiography

Literature and Cartography Anders Engberg-Pedersen, 2017-11-24 The relationship of texts and maps and the mappability of literature examined from Homer to Houellebecq Literary authors have frequently called on elements of cartography to ground fictional space to visualize sites and to help readers get their bearings in the imaginative world of the text Today the convergence of digital mapping and globalization has spurred a cartographic turn in literature This book gathers leading scholars to consider the relationship of literature and cartography Generously illustrated with full color maps and visualizations it offers the first systematic overview of an emerging approach to the study of literature The literary map is not merely an illustrative guide but represents a set of relations and tensions that raise questions about representation fiction and space Is literature even mappable In exploring the cartographic components of literature the contributors have not only brought literary theory to bear on the map but have also enriched the vocabulary and perspectives of literary studies with cartographic terms After establishing the theoretical and methodological terrain they trace important developments in the history of literary cartography considering topics that include Homer and Joyce Goethe and the representation of nature and African cartographies Finally they consider cartographic genres that reveal the broader connections between texts and maps discussing literary map genres in American literature and the coexistence of image and text in early maps When cartographic aspirations outstripped factual knowledge mapmakers turned to textual fictions Contributors Jean Marc Besse Bruno Bosteels Patrick M Bray Martin Br ckner Tom Conley J rg D nne Anders Engberg Pedersen John K Noyes Ricardo Padr n Barbara Piatti Simone Pinet Clara Rowland Oliver Simons Robert Stockhammer Dominic Thomas Burkhardt Wolf
