Skin Immune System Sis:

Skin Immune System (SIS) Jan D. Bos, 1997-04-10 Immunodermatology is a field covering the majority of skin diseases including the most prevalent ones in the general population. The Second Edition of Skin Immune System SIS discusses immune mediated skin diseases and disease groups in which the SIS plays a role. It covers major findings in immunophysiology and immunopathology that have occurred since the introduction of the First Edition in 1990. As the subtitle indicates, the Second Edition adds a new emphasis on cutaneous immunology and also includes new information on immune based therapeutic interventions and methods such as phototherapy and the immunological therapy of skin cancer. The book contains Part I with introductory chapters, Part II with descriptions of the cellular elements, and Part III which describes the humoral and molecular components of SIS. Part IV follows to integrate the facts described in Parts II and III into concepts of pathophysiology. It contains a number of concepts entitled response patterns that describe how the constitutional elements of SIS work together. New in this edition are the descriptions of immunodermatological diseases individually described in Part V. Part VI is also all new and summarizes principles of immunotherapy.

The Skin in Systemic Autoimmune Diseases Piercarlo Sarzi-Puttini, 2006-01-26 This book represents the state of the art in the field of skin and autoimmune rheumatic diseases. It covers systematically a growing and multifaceted topic which is of great importance in the clinical practice. It also serves as a sharp educational tool as each chapter provides summaries and specific highlights to key references cited in the text. The pathophysiological link between skin involvement and autoimmunity has been explained in detail as well as diagnostic and therapeutic aspects. This book yields an impressive body of well ordered information which summarizes the experience of a selected panel of distinguished physicians and scientists actively involved in the field of skin immunology and systemic autoimmunity. Written by a respected panel of distinguished physician scientists actively involved in the field of skin immunology and systemic autoimmunity Box summaries at the end of each chapter highlight important topics Up to date basic knowledge as well as modern approach to diagnosis and therapy Skin Immune System (SIS), 2005 Top scientific authors contribute their expertise and put a wealth of complex information into perspective in Skin Immune System Cutaneous Immunology Clinical Immunodermatology Third Edition This edition provides an overview of the skin immune system SIS a totally updated section on immunodermatological diseases and six new chapters Part I presents historical and comparative information on immunodermatology and includes a new chapter on the immunogenetics of inflammatory skin disease while Part II covers the cellular elements of SIS and highlights newly defined functional subclasse Clinical and Basic Immunodermatology Anthony Gaspari, Stephen K. Tyring, 2008-11-05 Dermatologists are being asked to understand the pathophysiology of a number of immune mediated skin diseases In addition a number of new products have appeared on the market during the past decade which requires an understanding of the mechanisms of action of these drugs Dermatologists however have no easily understood book to which they can refer to regarding the disease or the drug Neuroimmunology of the Skin Richard D. Granstein, Thomas A. Luger, 2009-02-08 Much anecdotal information has suggested an influence of psychology and the nervous system on immunity within the skin and the expression of inflammatory skin disorders Recent years have seen an explosion of knowledge providing a scientific basis for important regulatory interactions between the nervous system the endocrine system and the immune system within the skin The results of recent investigations have important implications not only for an understanding of cutaneous immunity but also for the development of novel treatments for diseases involving abnormal inflammation or immune reactivity within the skin This book provides a comprehensive and interdisciplinary review of the molecular biology cell biology biochemistry and clinical aspects of nervous system immune system interactions within the skin It includes contributions from leading world experts in these areas The contents are relevant to both investigators and clinicians interested in the skin its functions and its disorders Skin Cancer after Organ Transplantation Eggert Stockfleth, Claas Ulrich, 2009-05-05 Organ transplantation has been performed for almost 40 years with steadily increasing success regarding long time survival of the graft as well as quality of life for the patient However graft tolerance only can be achieved via induction and maintenance of an impaired immunological surveillance An increase of skin cancers as a consequence of the lowered cellular immunoresponse seems to parallel the overall increased long time survival rate of organ transplant recipients Against the background of chronic immunosuppression known risk factors like the amount of sun exposure prior and post transplantation oncogenic viruses as well as the genetic background and place of residence latitude are strongly related with the increased skin cancer incidence The increasing incidence of non melanoma skin cancer paralleling a prolonged survival of patients after organ transplantation represents a significant reason for morbidity and long term morbidity in organ transplant recipients worldwide The incidence of non melanoma skin cancer in liver kidney and heart transplant recipients varies from 1.5 to 22 % 2 to 24 % and 6 to 34 % after 5 years post transplant

Ultraviolet radiation as well as immunosuppressive therapy are crucial risk factors regarding the induction and progression of skin cancer. Ultraviolet radiation is related to the induction of DNA damage as well as interference with Langerhans cell antigen presentation and a Th1/Th2 shift induced via a release of IL-10. Whereas the overall duration of immunosuppression and the cumulative dosage applied are relevant parameters in the evaluation of an increased tumor risk, individual differences between specific immunosuppressive agents remain unclear. The workup of genetic as well as other unclear phenomenon like the reverse BCC/SCC ratio might shed some further light into the genesis and immunology of the non-melanoma skin cancer in general. Immunology and Drug Therapy of Allergic Skin Diseases Carla A.F.M.

Clark Lambert, Benvenuto Giannotti, Willem A. van Vloten, 2012-12-06 This book is based upon a series of papers originally presented at a NATO Advanced Studies Workshop of the same title held at the study Center HI Cappuccini a converted monastery in San Miniato a small village located between Pisa and Florence Italy in October 1991 Authors were asked to submit their completed chapters by the following February these were then scanned onto computer disks edited and returned to the authors for final revision and updating with a final deadline of February 1993 The authors were encouraged to make whatever modifications they wanted especially regarding updating their chapters with an eye to making the final product both comprehensive and current In this we succeeded beyond our expectations with most chapters extensively altered and many completely re written and significantly expanded Thus although the original meeting was held in 1991 the chapters in this volume may be regarded as current from at least February 1993 with some of the final updated revisions received as late as July 1993 This book as agreed in our original contract has been delivered to the publisher camera ready This means that all of the scanning editing proofing and typesetting were done here by the office of the Department of Dermatology at the New Jersey Medical School We essentially produced the book which the publisher for the most part then photocopied This has been an enormous burden borne mainly by my colleague in this division Robert A Dermatology in Clinical Practice Zohra Zaidi, S.W Lanigan, 2010-03-10 Books on dermatology are either focused for medical students or for students of dermatology A general practitioner sees a lot of skin patients about 17% of their patients are related to skin disease We therefore decided to write a book that should meet the needs of a general practitioner To make the book helpful for the primary care physician we have focused more on common skin problems and have discussed the diagnosis and treatment of these disorders in depth to help the general practitioner in diagnosing and treating them The chapter on the management of skin diseases also gives the details of topical systemic and the physical modalities used in treating skin disease. Uncommon skin diseases are only mentioned where required. The chapter on cutaneous manifestations of systemic diseases will help the general practitioner to correlate the cutaneous signs of the common medical problems seen by them. Emphasis is laid on the bacterial, fungal and parasitic disorders that are prevalent in tropical countries. We have included the common diseases of other continents as the general practitioner especially of developed countries has patients from all over the world. Congenital and hereditary disorders are discussed with the corresponding chapters which makes it easier for the reader to remember. A number of practical points are included with each subject and history of dermatology is included where appropriate to make the subject interesting to read.
