Hopper,2015-01-01 Matthew S Hopper s wide ranging history of the African diaspora and slavery in Arabia in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries examines the interconnected themes of enslavement globalization and empire and challenges previously held conventions regarding Middle Eastern slavery and British imperialism Linking the personal stories of enslaved Africans to the impersonal global commodity chains their labor enabled this provocative and deeply researched study contradicts the conventional historiography that regards the Indian Ocean slave trade as fundamentally different from its Atlantic counterpart and disputes the triumphalist antislavery narrative that attributes the end of the East African Persian Gulf slave trade to the efforts of the British Royal Navy

The Legacy of Arab-Islam in Africa John Allembillah Azumah,2014-10-01 Thoughtful and challenging this book argues for a reassessment of the role historically played by Islam in Africa and offers new hope for increased mutual understanding between African people of different faiths Drawing on a wealth of sources from the colonial period to the most up to date scholarship the author challenges the widely held perception that while Christianity oppressed and subjugated the African people Islam fitted comfortably into the indigenous landscape Instead this penetrating account reveals Muslim settlers to be as guilty of enforcing slavery and conversion as those of their more maligned sister tradition Only with an acknowledgement of the true roles of both faiths in African history suggests Azumah can the people of both traditions move themselves and their continent towards a new future of tolerance and self awareness
