Barbara Nichol

Small Garden In The City:

One Small Garden Barbara Nichol, 2001 Barbara Nichol creates a garden a place made out of botany and memories and simple tales of gardens and gardeners Garden City Movement United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Agriculture and Forestry, 1917 Garden City Movement United States. Congress. Senate. Agriculture and Forestry Committee, 1917 Historic Preservation and the Livable City Eric W. Allison, Lauren Peters, 2010-12-20 For both the preservation professional and urban planner this book shows how preservation is a key to the creation of livable cities The author Eric Allison the founder and coordinated of the graduate historic preservation program at Pratt Institute in New York City offers tools and case studies that preservationists and planners can learn from in implementing preservation projects or plans in cities large and small This book is a must read for anyone working in or interested in these fields and the creation and maintenance of livable cities Utopian England Dennis Hardy, 2012-12-06 England in the early part of the twentieth century was rich in utopian ventures diverse and intriguing in their scope and aims Two world wars an economic depression and the emergence of fascist states in Europe were all a spur to idealists to seek new limits to escape from the here and now and to create sanctuaries for new and better lives Dennis Hardy explores this fascinating history of utopian ideals the lives of those who pursued them and the utopian communities they created Some communities were fired by a long tradition of land movements others by thoughts of more humane ways of building towns In turn there were experiments devoted to the arts to the promotion of religious doctrine and to a variety of political causes And some were just places of the imagination Utopian England is about just one episode in the perennial search for perfection but what is revealed has lessons that extend well beyond a particular time and place So long as there are failings in society so long as rationality is not enough there will continue to be a place for thinking the impossible for going in search of utopia The Garden City Movement Up-To-Date Ewart Gladstone Culpin, 2015-03-05 This work was written and compiled by the then Secretary of the Garden Cities and Town Planning Association in 1913 It shows just how much the conception of the garden city had been broadened from Howard's original texts Indeed the Association's own name had been broadened to add the newly emergent practice and theory of town planning to the original focus Alongside the garden city recognition is now given to the burgeoning numbers of garden suburbs and garden villages Many examples of these are identified and briefly described including many which are small and now little known greatly adding to the interest of the publication Even the underlying arguments for such developments differ Alongside the more altruistic arguments in favour of reform there are now those which explicitly emphasise the need to ensure a healthy race to maintain the Empire Urban heritage in times of uncertainty Dimitra Babalis, 2019-12-30 How should designers respond to urban uncertainty How can we ensure our urban heritage is protected against urban risks and climate change How can we create places that increase urban quality socialisation equity and opportunities for change minimising environmental damages This volume addresses current trends and challenges that explore on how we transform our urban heritage in ways which increase urban resilience embracing innovation and technology Part one provides a critical view in driving forward a new conception of urban transformation that should respond to current concerns around economic social and urban change Part two underscores the importance of the current perception of urban and architectural design that can take into consideration climate change

Housing and the City Katharina Borsi, Didem Ekici, Jonathan Hale, Nick Haynes, 2022-06-28 Housing and the City explores housing histories theories and projects in diverse geographies It presents a geographically dispersed history of the twentieth century modern housing project and its social diagram juxtaposed with case studies from the past and the present that suggest that we can live and work differently While the contributions are diverse in their theoretical approach and geographical situation their juxtaposition yields transversal connections in the conception of the home and the city and highlights the diversity of architectural solutions in the formation of housing and its communities The collection also reveals architecture's contribution to the construction of the self and communities the individual and the collective as both urban spatial entities and socio political concepts Housing and the City provides essential reading for students academics and practitioners interested in the history theory or current design of housing At a time when cities are witnessing new ways of working changing social demographics increased geographical mobility and mass migrations as well as the pervasive threat of the climate crisis all trends exacerbated by the Covid 19 pandemic Housing and the City presents a historical and theoretical reflection on the question what does it mean to be at home in the city in the twenty first century

Ecology and the Literature of the British Left H. Gustav Klaus, Valentine Cunningham, 2016-04-29 Premised on the belief that a social and an ecological agenda are compatible this collection offers readings in the ecology of left and radical writing from the Romantic period to the present While early ecocriticism tended to elide the bitter divisions within and between societies recent practitioners of ecofeminism environmental justice and social ecology have argued that the social the economic and the environmental have to be seen as part of the same process Taking up this challenge the contributors trace the origins of an environmental sensibility and of the modern left to their roots in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries charting the ways in which the literary imagination responds to the political industrial and agrarian revolutions Topics include Samuel Taylor Coleridge's credentials as a green writer the interaction between John Ruskin's religious and political ideas and his changing view of nature William Morris and the Garden City movement H G Wells and the Fabians the devastated landscapes in the poetry and fiction of the First World War and the leftist pastoral poetry of the 1930s In historicizing and connecting environmentally sensitive literature with socialist thought these essays explore the interactive vision of nature and society in the work of writers ranging from William Wordsworth and John Clare to John Berger and John Burnside

The Making of Place and People in the Danish Metropolis Christian Sandbjerg Hansen, 2021-04-06 This book investigates the sociohistorical making of place and people in Copenhagen from around 1900 to the present day Drawing inspiration from Pierre Bourdieu's sociology of social space and symbolic power and from Loïc Wacquant's hypothesis of advanced marginality and territorial stigmatisation the book explores the genesis and development of the notorious neighbourhood of Copenhagen North West As an extraordinary place the North West provides an illustrative case of Danish welfare and urban history that questions the epitome of inclusive Copenhagen Through detailed empirical analysis the book spotlights three angles and entanglements of the social history of this area of Copenhagen the production of socio-spatial constructions and authoritative categorisations of the neighbourhood especially by the state and the media the local social pedagogical interventions and symbolic boundary drawings by welfare agencies in the neighbourhood and the residents' subjective experiences of place social divisions and dishonour In this way The Making of Place and People in the Danish Metropolis analyses how social, symbolical and spatial structures dynamically intertwine and contribute to the fashioning of divisions of inequality and marginality in the city over the course of some 125 years It will appeal to scholars of sociology, urban studies and urban history with interests in social welfare
